Tribute Accorded Eskimo Girl

Ada Blackjack, City Reared, Braved Arctic Terrors When Friends Died

Alone on Wrangell Island, She Taught Self to Shoot and Trap

Following is the fourth installment of the exclusive personal story of Harold Noice, commander of the Wrangell Island relief expedition, who returned to Nome, Alaska, August 31, after his dash into the Arctic in the hope of relieving four white men and an Eskimo woman marooned there since the fall of 1921.

NOME (Alaska), Sept. 7.—The Arctic has added many illustrious names to the scrolls of the great. To most of these have been men. But that long list must now be added the splendid name of Ada Blackjack, an Eskimo girl, a slip of a lass of less than 100 pounds in weight, who although brought up in the city of Nome, familiar with electric lights and the comforts of a modern city, nevertheless managed to live by her own efforts on an uninhabited Arctic island and at the same time provide food for her husband a dying companion whom she nursed for six months. After they had fired there alone, in the midst of howling polar bears, but managed to fight for life to the end and endure another winter in the frozen isle if necessary.

She had never fired a shot in her life, nor had she ever set a trap, but she learned to do both and triumphed where many strong men in years before had failed. Her story, as told to me the morning in the cabin of the Donaldson, surpassing that I have ever heard in the North, her love of anything that quite

LEGION WINS AUTO-TRAIN RACE TO FREE COMRADE

Lieutenant-Governor Is Rushed to Sign Pardon in Absence of Chief Executive

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

JACKSON (Miss.) Sept. 17.—The American Legion today obtained a pardon for Sharp Welborn, former service man, and in accomplishing the feat afforded great excitement to that part of Mississippi between Pickens and Jackson and along the Illinois Central Railroad from McComb to the Louisiana State line. It was a race between two powerful automobiles, one from Jackson to Canton, twenty-four miles, the other from Pickens to Canton, twenty miles, and an Illinois Central flyer with Gov. Russell aboard bound north from New Orleans.

The legionnaires had set out to meet Lieut.-Gov. Homer Casteel, at Canton, before the train crossed the State line at Osyka, and they won the race with only eight minutes to spare.

Welborn served in the Navy during the World War and, according to the Veterans' Bureau, it later developed he had become mentally defective as a result of exposure at sea. In 1919 he committed manslaughter in Jasper county and he had hardly begun to serve a sentence of eight years before the Legion, the Veterans' Bureau and hundreds of Mississippians started a campaign for a pardon in order that the offer of the Veterans' Bureau to send him to a hospital

RECOGNITION CELEBRATED IN CALEXICO

Mexicans and Americans Along Border Join in Friendly Banquet

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CALEXICO, Sept. 7.—Recognition of Mexico by the United States was celebrated here last night by a banquet attended by 150 Americans and Mexicans, residents of Imperial county and Lower California. Gov. Lugo of the Northern District of Lower California was guest of honor and addressed the banquet. Assemblyman George H. Davis of Imperial county represented Gov. Richardson, who sent word that he would be unable to attend.

H. H. Clark, president of Calexico Chamber of Commerce, introduced Gov. Lugo to the banqueters and extended a cordial welcome to the visiting Mexicans. Gov. Lugo told of the cordial relations existing between Mexico and the United States, and asserted that American capital and Americans would always be welcomed in their efforts to develop Mexican resources. Toasts were drunk to President Coolidge, President Obregon, Gov. Richardson, Gov. Lugo, Mayor T. J. West of Calexico and others.

Mother and daughter and father and son were witnesses for each other in their applications for licenses.

Ambassadors' Council Sends Severe Note on Murders to Athens

Rumors of Mobilization in Balkans; Belgrade Turns Down Fiume Plan

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ROME, Sept. 7.—A dispatch from Santi Quaranta says that Greece is mobilizing troops on the Albanian frontier.

ROME, Sept. 7.—Trieste learns, according to a dispatch from there to Rome, that Jugo-Slavia is preparing to mobilize its army. It is said the Belgrade government claims mobilization is necessary to protect her frontiers in the event of a conflict with her ally, Greece, and also because of troubles brooding in Hungary and Bulgaria.

BELRADE, Sept. 7.—(1:30 a. m.)—The Cabinet met last night and definitely refused to accept Premier Mussolini's terms on Fiume and notified Rome to that effect. The Jugo-Slav Minister in Rome will be recalled to Belgrade immediately.

Premier Mussolini's ultimatum expires on September 15, when he will have to decide what he means by "resume full liberty of action with regard to Fiume."

NOTE IS SEVERE

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Sept. 7.—Italy, supported by France won again all along the line today when the Council of Ambassadors—the inter-allied body which is the successor to the old Supreme Council—sent a note to Greece hardly less severe than Premier Mussolini's ultimatum.

With the American and Japanese governments represented but not voting Italy and France had a carnival all of their own.

The council finished at 7 o'clock, with the text of the notes to Greece and the Council of the League of Nations completed in such a way as to give complete satisfaction to Mussolini. The documents were dispatched to Athens and Geneva.

The only voting members of the conference were Jules Cambon of France, president, Baron Romano Avezzano of Italy, and Lord Crewe of Great Britain.

HOLDS GREECE RESPONSIBLE

The Council decided:

(1.) Greece is morally and materially responsible for the murder of the Italian boundary mission at Janina and should deposit in any bank—not necessarily a Swiss bank as Lord Robert Cecil is supposed to have said—the sum of 50,000,000 lire (roughly $2,500,000) as a guarantee for the payment of indemnity.

(2.) A commission of inquiry should be appointed comprised of British, French and Italian members, with a Japanese as President.

(3.) "Honors" should be rendered Italy, including a salute to the Italian fleet, with British and French warships represented, and a religious service for the Italian victims in the Cathedral of Athens, all the Greek government members to be present.

(4.) The fixation of indemnity by the commission of inquiry.

FINDINGS DISPATCHED

The note drawn up comprising these points was dispatched to Greece by telegraph immediately after the meeting. A duplicate note was also sent to the Council of the League of Nations at Geneva.

At the beginning of the session this morning the Italian Ambassador announced that Italy would evacuate Corfu on the date of the final payment by Greece of the

KU KLUX DEFIES GOVERNOR

Oklahoma May Go Under Martial Law; "Shoot to Kill" Order Issued by Executive

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 7.—The State of Oklahoma was threatened with martial law today by Gov. J. C. Walton, coincident with a challenge thrown to him that he would never be able "to break the power of the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma."

Charging that the drive being conducted by the executive in Tulsa county against mob floggers was inspired by Walton's desire to make himself "a national figure," N. W. Jewett, grand dragon of the Oklahoma Realm of the Klan, declared that the Governor "would like to drop the iron that has grown too hot for him to hold if he could."

FIGHT IS ON KLAN

"Jack Walton cares nothing for the men that have been whipped; his fight is on the Klan," Jewett asserted.

Voicing his unshaken determination to "restore the supremacy of the law in this State," the Governor said:

"I realize that the conflict with the lawless element and lawless spirit of large groups of Oklahoma's citizens is a desperate one; that my enemies will use every weapon at their command, including the press where they can command it, grand juries and other agencies, to defeat the purpose of this administration."

"SHOOT TO KILL"

In line with Gov. Walton's advice to citizens to arm and "shoot to kill" when attacked by mobs, State police commissions were issued today to several Comanche farmers, according to Aldrich Blake, the Governor's counselor.

"Persons who have been threatened by mob violence will be given commissions to protect themselves," said Blake.

A full pardon of any person convicted for shooting members of mobs has been promised by Gov. Walton.

PACIFIC VESSEL IN QUAKE ZONE MISSING

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Fear was expressed by shipping men here today that the San Francisco motorship Kennecott, missing for seven days and last reported near Oshima Island, center of Japan's earthquake and tidal wave disaster, may have been sunk.

Twenty-five men, under command of Capt. John Johnson, were aboard the vessel, which was en route from Seattle to the Orient loaded with 4,000,000 feet of lumber consigned to Yokohama. The last report received of the vessel was sixteen hours before the disaster, when her position was given as 140 miles east of Yokohama.

FINAL DESPERATE EFFORT MADE TO SAVE GERMANY

Ruhr Agreement Imminent; Money Dictator Named; Ambassador Returned to Belgium

BY GEORGE SELDES
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
[Copyright, 1923, by the Chicago Tribune]

BERLIN, Sept. 7.—Important, history-making events crowded each other in Berlin today. While the downward rush on the road to ruin continued financially and while alarming reports of a Bavarian conspiracy to occupy the capital and of a Saxony conspiracy to declare a proletarian dictatorship continued to be heard, the government took dictatorial steps and made desperate, last-minute efforts to save the nation from falling over the precipice, where it now is hanging.

Five of the most important events were:

1—It is confirmed that negotiations between Germany and France have now reached a stage where German diplomats optimistically feel that a settlement of the entire Franco-German conflict can be reached within eight days.

2—A money dictator was named for Germany by Chancellor Stresemann.

3—The Cabinet announced that the government will begin the operation of a gold bang immediately for issuing new money based on rye and gold.

4—Diplomatic relations were restored with Belgium when Ambassador Landsberg, who was withdrawn at the time of the Ruhr occupation, was sent back.

5—Germany's new offer of peace with France, according to diplomatic sources, will be made through oral pourparlers with Franco-Belgian ministers here.

FIRST OFFICIAL STEP

The return of Ambassador Lansbergh to Brussels is regarded in official circles as the first official step to a solution of the great crisis. Coupled with this fact is the meeting between Chancellor Stresemann and the French Ambassador M. de Margerie. For the moment a new optimism has broken out in Wilhelmstrasse. Most significant is an official statement regarding the situation which Chancellor Stresemann made in consulting with representatives from the occupied zone.

"A solution of the Ruhr problem is imminent," said Chancellor Stresemann at this confidential meeting, according to a diplomat. "I expect with the imminent solution that the industry in the Ruhr will be re-established, at least 90 per cent, within a few weeks."

DICTATORIAL POWERS

The biggest local event was the naming of Herr Fellinger as money dictator. With the title of commissar for the seizure of foreign moneys, Fellinger as Chancellor Stresemann's appointees, will wield a dictatorial power including the right to search, arrest and eventually mete out prison sentences for those hoarding dollars. With Herr Fellinger in office, new measures, now being formulated, will be announced containing punishment clauses, aimed chiefly at Bavarian land owners, who have openly flouted Chancellor Stresemann's dictatorial program.

The announcement of the creation of a gold bank tonight somewhat allays the panic which the mark's crash to 65,000,000 to the dollar created. Hundreds of stores closed today. Hundreds of others refused to take German money despite a law making it illegal to deal in dollars. Many black bourses, similar to Moscow's, have sprung up overnight, where Germans frantically are out-bidding banks to save something from their mark fortunes by purchasing a couple of dollars.

EXCURSION WELCOMED IN EL PASO

Los Angeles Party Stops in Texas City En Route to Mexican Capital

BY TIMOTHY TURNER
Times Staff Correspondent

EL PASO, Sept. 7.—Hailed by Mayor Dudley of El Paso as "suburbanites of El Paso," the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce's excursion to Mexico was royally welcomed on their arrival here tonight.

Mayor Dudley and city officials met the Los Angeles special train at the station. The genial Mayor cried, "We are glad to greet El Paso's suburbanites." Director Weaver responded, "This is an important annexation. From now on we shall be glad to consider Los Angeles as the principal surburb of El Paso."

All the excursionists were then taken to Fort Bliss in automobiles, flanked by a police escort of honor. After a brief reception in the officers' quarters, with music by the post band, they were driven back to the station.

Here they found awaiting them the Chihuahua City band, sent up to welcome them before they crossed the border. With the band still playing, the special train then carried the Angelenos across the boundary line to Juarez and at midnight proceeded southward.

En route to El Paso, the train stopped for two hours at Tucson, Ariz., where members of the Tucson Chamber of Commerce met the party. The Deming Chamber of Commerce also had a delegation at the station and all along the line the special train found welcoming groups of citizens who demonstrated the kindly feeling of the great Southwest toward Los Angeles.

DEATH LIST DWINDLES

Foreign Temblor Toll Is 200

But One American Reported Dead in the Yokohama Unidentified

Imperial Edict Warns Looters and Profiteers; Relief Work Under Way

(Copyright, 1923, New York Times)

OSAKA, Sept. 7.—The latest report from Yokohama states that 200 foreign residents lost their lives. Charred corpses have been gathered temporarily on the site of the wrecked Grand Hotel and will be taken later for burial to the foreign cemetery in Tokio. Only one American is stated to have been killed. The name of the victim is not yet known.

The police of Tokio have reported that up to yesterday morning inquests had been held on 32,564 bodies in the yard of the Honjo military clothing warehouse alone. Three emergency Imperial ordinances were promulgated today. One provides that persons found profiteering in essential commodities shall be liable to three years' imprisonment or a fine of not more than 3000 yen.

Another establishes thirty days moratorium except for the payment of wages due, and the third provides that persons found guilty of publishing or communicating to others rumors or statements likely to cause breaches of public order shall be liable to imprisonment with penal servitude of not more than ten years and fines up to 3000 yen.

DISORDER EXISTS

The greatest disorder prevails at all exits from Tokio and in the frenzied rush from the city weaker refugees are trampled under foot. Every train carries about 4900 refugees.

According to the Central Meteorological Station 1039 shocks were recorded from the first big shock on Saturday until yesterday morning at 6 o'clock. Danger of further shocks is considered to be over.

The departure of foreigners continues. Enough food is being distributed to prevent starvation. Foreigners have sufficient for a few days. Thousands of dead bodies are still lying unburied. Intense heat hinders salvage work. The water supply is good. The electric lighting is restricted. No news has been received from the outside world for a week. The Japanese are facing their suffering stoically. A typhoon is feared.

RELIEF PROGRESSES

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

NAGASAKI, Sept. 7.—The work of relief in the earthquake zone is proceeding vigorously. The Tokio government is appropriating to extend funds from its reserves without restriction for the purpose of provisions. The entire stock of army and navy tents has been placed at the disposal of the homeless pending the completion of barracks which are under construction.

Banks have resumed business and are paying out sums not to exceed 100 yen to a person.

A British naval wireless dispatch gives the names of about thirty Englishmen, ten women and a number of children killed in Yokohama and vicinity.

Premier Yamamoto appeals to the people to exercise self-control in this time of crisis.

"We must show the world," he says, "that even in times of disturbance and distress the Japanese people are able to keep a balanced mind by doing what is right and obeying orders and showing their love of peace."

The Premier insists that all peaceable Koreans must be protected, even if it be true that certain elements in this section of the population have been responsible for rioting.

QUAKE RELIEF FUND SWELLS

Poorer Classes First to Respond in Drive for $300,000; More Workers Sought

With mail deliveries of contributions to The Times Japanese Fund showing no signs of decreasing—the total is now $19,980.70—plans to raise Los Angeles' quota of $300,000 were yesterday progressing steadily.

Leading in active work was the Salvation Army, that international organization of the Helping Hand which in crises has proved itself remarkably effective.

Salvationists throughout the world have announced their intention—and are proceeding in their usual energetic manner to fulfill their promises—of raising $10,000,000 for relief work. The quota for Southern California will be $50,000. And working hand-in-hand with the Chamber of Commerce Committee of 250 is Brig. C. R. Boyd, divisional commander for the district.

In furtherance of their program, collection boxes were yesterday installed in cafes, cafeterias and other gathering places. Hundreds of dollars were collected by nightfall.

HAVE AGENTS IN JAPAN

The Salvationists already have had much experience in relief work in Japan and China. They have 126 branches already in active operation in Japan alone, with more than 400 staff officers in charge, it is announced.

The work is under direction of a Japanese, Col. Yamamuro, who has many times received official recognition from the Japanese government for the work of his organization.

Harry Haldeman, director of the Chamber's activities, expressed himself highly satisfied with the progress of relief work to date.

"The response of old Red Cross workers and team captains has been more than gratifying," he asserted. "Those who are unavailable or unable to resume where they left off at the end of the last drive are too small a percentage to mention. By Tuesday noon, when we meet again at the Elite Cafe, there will undoubtedly be some substantial reports to make."

We had originally intended to hold the meeting Monday, but inasmuch as it is a holiday, we have postponed it twenty-four hours. I would ask that all the captain and officials of the old Red Cross drives be present at this meeting.

Meanwhile D. C. McWatters, chairman of the Los Angeles chapter of the American Red Cross, issued an appeal to citizens to send their checks immediately rather than wait until the naturally cumbersome machinery of the coming drive gets under way.

Coolidge Announces America Pledges Resources

Hoover Takes Hold to Direct $20,000,000 Program

Admiral Cables Necessities Immediately Wanted

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—America has placed its resources at the disposal of Japan, President Coolidge announced today, following a meeting of the Cabinet devoted exclusively to consideration of the most effective measures for expediting relief on a colossal scale to the million victims of the earthquake and conflagration.

At least $20,000,000 and possibly $30,000,000 will be required altogether from Japan and the rest of the world for the entire relief undertaking and America is expected to contribute a large proportion of this amount.

The information before the Cabinet indicated that the situation, so far as it has been surveyed, calls for the expenditure of $10,000,000 a month for the next two and possibly three months.

Whether the American people desire to contribute to the restoration of the devastated region was not considered at the Cabinet meeting, according to the White House, attention being concentrated upon the immediate problem of succoring the victims of the disaster.

HOOVER ON JOB

With the aid of large detailed maps of the Tokio-Yokohama region Secretary of Commerce Hoover, who is an expert in relief work, outlined the vast undertaking of feeding and sheltering 1,000,000 homeless people, caring for the injured, burying the dead and sanitating the zone. It was decide finally that all American relief activities should be co-ordinated under the supervision of the American Red Cross which possesses facilities for dealing with an emergency of an amplitude of the Japanese disaster.

All the relief proffered by America will be placed at the disposal of the Japanese Red Cross, a highly efficient organization, which, it is understood, the Japanese government has given control of all measures of aid. Provisions and medical supplies, carried to Yokohama by American navy destroyers have been delivered to the Japanese Red Cross and American doctors and nurses dispatched to the scene are reporting to that organization for service.

The first action of Admiral Anderson, of the Asiatic Fleet, on reaching Yokohama yesterday, was to requisition supplies from Shanghai in the following message to American naval authorities there:

SUPPLIES NEEDED

"The following supplies are urgently needed in the earthquake area:

"Nonperishible provisions—beans, flour, rice, tea, sugar, salt and water. Medical and surgical supplies, cotton, gauze, bandage, invalid foods, blankets, etc.

"Miscellaneous stores such as mosquito and fly bars, bedding, mats, tents, picks, shovels, tools, lumber, hardware, coffins. Limited amount of cold-storage meats, including chickens, butter, eggs, oranges, and other fruits.

"Make the purchase of these supplies under naval appropriation, and their distribution by the commander-in-chief has been authorized by the Secretary of the Navy. The utilization of the Shipping-board vessels for service of transports to the stricken areas is authorized under authority delegated by the chairman of the Shipping Board through the Secretary of the Navy.

"Obtain the above supplies and ship to Yokohama via first obtainable Shipping-board carriers destined to Japan, holding her if necessary to load. Report name of vessel, list of cargo and prospective time of departure from Shanghai for Yokohama. Expedite its departure by working day and night."

QUOTAS REPORTED

Subscriptions reported to the Red Cross fund follow:

	Quota.	Reported Subscribed
Washington Division	$3,500,000	$1,471,000
New England Division	250,000	1,000
Southern Division	250,000	1,500
Central Division	850,000	226,000
South-western Division	150,000	10,400
Pacific Division	400,000	144,000
Totals	$5,250,000	$1,910,000

At Red Cross headquarters Secretary Hoover, bringing his experience to bear from the vast purchasing problems of the United States Grain Corporation and the American Relief Administration, personally worked out the plans to secure and ship at once clothing, underwear, shoes, galvanized iron, lumber and tarpaulins for temporary shelter. Instructions were sent Pacific-port cities to provide shipments, especially of such commodities as rice, the necessary material with which to build warehouses for the supplies in stricken Yokohama.

Experts from the Department of Commerce and the American Relief Administration were in conference with Red Cross officials constantly today and tonight, seeing that the execution of Secretary Hoover's plan of buying and shipping is facilitated as much as possible.

Encouraged by the reports of financial support, the executive committee of the Red Cross found that the purchasing and shipping machinery had caught the momentum of the "aid without limit" slogan.

Acting Chairman James L. Fieser pointed out that cold weather will be close upon the million homeless Japanese, and announced the receipt of advices that relief should take the form of food, clothing and materials for temporary shelters.

The executive committee decided that materials for building be included in various shipments of supplies in the event that warehouse protection had to be provided. The executive committee was informed in a wire from Frank Waterhouse, president of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, and the Seattle Chapter of the Red Cross, that he has in hand 100,000 tons of cargo space on ships that will sail immediately for Japan and that this tonnage was donated.

QUAKE RELIEF FUND SWELLS

as five would a week hence," he avers. "I wish to appeal to all citizens to send checks to headquarters, Coulter Building, 213 South Broadway, even before the solicitors reach them. Advices from Japan indicate that speed, and more speed, is the need if our efforts are to be the most effective.

"The public attitude toward the relief effort is excellent and every mail contains assurances that we will reach the quota. But we must hurry."

Another thing that Mr. McWatters laid stress on was that contributions already received are mainly from poorer classes, and that the wealthier people have not as yet been heard from.

"Boston, according to reports, completed its quota in a few minutes, comparatively speaking," he said. "The New York list showed checks ranging from $25,000 to $100,000. San Francisco reported the first day that its quota was in sight and that the city expected easily to collect twice the amount asked. Los Angeles has fallen behind in this respect."

A telegram from Secretary of Commerce Hoover to William T. Bishop, president of the Chamber of Commerce, gave added definiteness to the plans of that body. The telegram said:

The executive committee of the National Red Cross requests that the Chamber of Commerce appoint a committee of important merchants and shipping men to act as an advisory committee on shipping and purchases for the Red Cross. Further, that this advisory committee at once select full-time, experienced men, who will take charge of representation of Red Cross on shipping and purchase matters at your port, acting under direction of and paid by this office, and that he should set up office and staff assistance at once in name of Red Cross. Can you advise during the day of arrangements made in this matter?

To this telegram Mr. Bishop replied:

CRANDALL HEADS BODY

Have your telegram and have appointed a strong committee as requested, Shannan Crandall, chairman. They will select a capable man to take charge of shipping and purchases. We are working in conjunction with Red Cross here and doing everything possible to assist them in raising of funds for their organization. Call on us for any help desired.

The committee selected follows: Shannon Crandall, chairman, California Hardware Company, 500 East First street.

S. L. Kreder, 375 Pacific Electric Building.

Marius de Brabant, 504 Pacific Electric Building.

Gerald Fitzgerald, 746 South Central avenue.

Fred L. Baker, Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation, Los Angeles Harbor.

E. B. Rivers, Rivers Brothers, Market Court.

Henry Louis, 751 South Figueroa street.

M. G. Cooper, 700 South Los Angeles street.

Victor Tuttle, R. L. Craig & Co.

Capt. S. S. Sandberg, First-street wharf, Los Angeles Harbor.

Clifford Hine, 4563 Rosewood.

F. P. Gregson, 604 Equitable Bank Building.

Frank Wiggins, Chamber of Commerce.

J. C. Owens, Owens-Park Lumber Company, 2160 East Thirty-eighth street.

Meanwhile, civic, social and religious organizations have joined with the Red Cross for a concerted effort to obtain the quota. A call has been issued for more volunteer workers, especially in the downtown section. Those who are able to devote even a half-day to the work are welcomed.

PLAN HOUSE CANVASS

The Parent-Teacher Association will make a house-to-house canvass during the coming week in the residential sections; churches will take special collections Sunday and many social organizations are arranging special affairs to help swell the fund. There will be a special performance of the Pilgrimage Play—"Life of the Christ"—at the Hollywood amphitheater Sunday night. Henry Herbert, English actor, who plays the part of Jesus of Nazareth, has delayed his departure, with the permission of David Belasco, in order to enact his role.

Many of the theaters in the city are expected to give special performances, as suggested by Will Hays, in order to make funds immediately available.

Next Tuesday following the holiday Monday—Admission Day—Red Cross booths will be placed in lobbies of all banks and the first heavy public contributions are expected to flow in at that time. This will be followed by the canvassing of the downtown section by fifty Japanese girls in Red Cross uniform under direction of Mrs. Erwin P. Werner.

Many organizations which are planning neighborhood efforts to increase the fund have made arrangements to turn the money they receive into Red Cross headquarters as quickly as it is raised. City officials have placed all resources of the city administration in the way of facilitating the money-raising effort.

Every church in the city has arranged for special services and collections tomorrow. Bishop Cantwell taking charge for the Catholics, Bishops Johnson and Stevens for the Episcopalians, and Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher for the Federation of Churches.

The City Council yesterday, upon motion of Councilman Wheeler, instructed all heads of departments to take charge of subscription lists to be circulated among employees in the city departments, the funds to be turned, over to City Auditor Myers who will transfer them to the Red Cross.

Prior to the Council's action, City Attorney Stephens called together the employees of the city's legal department and urged that subscriptions be made. In a few moments several hundreds dollars was raised.

Officials at the Federal Building are moving to join in the movement for the relief of Japan. At a meeting in the office of Internal Revenue Collector Goodcell, it was decided to raise a fund, to be known as the general Los Angeles fund.

The meeting was attended by Collector of Customs Schwaebe, Dist.-Atty. Burke, Marshal Sittel, and other Federal chiefs. Every Federal employee has expressed a willingness to contribute, and the Federal Building will return a 100 per cent report to the general committee.

Plans were made yesterday by Peters-Rhoades Company, Inc., to raise $1000 for the Japanese Relief Fund through subscriptions Sunday afternoon toward the purchase price of an attractive cabin site.

Announcement was made that after all subscriptions have been taken for the purchase of the site the entire fund will be forwarded to the Japanese Relief Committee for the Los Angeles district.

RELIGIOUS PARTY TO AID JAPAN

City of Los Angeles Will Carry Them on First Leg of Journey

Among the first persons to leave a Pacific Coast port for devastated Japan will be a group of Chicago evangelists, who will sail at noon today aboard the City of Los Angeles for Honolulu, where they will make connection with a Japanese liner bound for Nippon.

The group includes Rev. W. E. Biederwolf, international evangelist; Homer Rodeheaver, who for a number of years conducted the choral work for Billy Sunday; J. N. Rodeheaver, Miss Grace Saal and Miss Florence Hay, all of Chicago.

Although the religionists had made arrangements for their transportation to Japan prior to the earthquake, they are now, more than ever, determined to reach the stricken country as soon as possible; Mr. Rodeheaver declared, so that they may be of service in administering relief to the thousands of refugees in the ill-fated country.

The evangelistic group had originally included Japan as the first stop in the itinerary that would carry the members through the Orient and around the world on a missionary service, during which the introduction of phonograph records of hymns in native tongues would be made. Mr. Rodeheaver said that he could not tell what effect the Japanese disaster would have on their plans, but that they hoped to plunge into the relief work immediately upon reaching Japan and would govern their future movements according to conditions.

Others among the 175 passengers who will sail on the City of Los Angeles are Harry C. Westbrook, secretary to Max H. Whittier, Los Angeles capitalist, and Mrs. Westbrook; Richard Green, local oil operator, and David Bershon, booking manager for the West Coast Theaters, Inc., and family. The liner is carrying the customary large cargo of Southland citrus fruits, produce and general merchandise.

Southern Pacific Gives Large Sum to Aid Japanese

The Southern Pacific Company has subscribed the sum of $25,000 toward the relief of the sufferers by earthquake in Japan. This was announced yesterday by William Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific Company in the following statement:

Southern Pacific Company subscribes the sum of $25,000 toward the relief of the sufferers by earthquake in Japan, in the belief that it is better for the company to make a general subscription for our entire system, rather than undertake to respond to local calls, which in scattered amounts would be scarcely be worthy of the purpose, which is to relieve human suffering as promptly as possible.

We will also carry free of charge over our rails food and supplies consigned to American Red Cross, or regularly authorized representatives handling such relief for earthquake sufferers.

We join in the desire that funds be available without delay and that relief supplies be moved forward without delay or complications. We will co-operate with all chambers of commerce for the purpose of giving prompt service so desirable in such an emergency.

Long Beach to Do Bit Toward Aiding Japanese

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Sept. 7.—An active campaign for the raising of relief funds for Japanese earthquake sufferers will be launched here tomorrow morning by the Long Beach Chapter of the American Red Cross. Mrs. Margaret A. Ellison, executive secretary of the local branch, has been advised by national headquarters that the Red Cross quota in Long Beach will be $19,360.

Already several thousand dollars has come into the local offices of the Red Cross, the largest single donation being $1000 appropriated by the City Council Tuesday.

The quota allotted to Long Beach by the Red Cross will represent the amount of relief money to be raised here for Japanese sufferers.

However, it was said this morning, since several other organizations, including local newspapers, have started funds for Japanese relief, several hundred dollars has been raised through these funds to date.

FRESNO TO START DRIVE FOR RELIEF

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Sept. 7.—Notice that the official quota for Fresno city and county for Japanese relief is $24,960 was received here today from Pacific division headquarters by the Fresno chapter of the Red Cross. Collection of the money will be started immediately, it was announced following a meeting of the board of directors. C. F. Ainsworth and Walter M. McDaniels were appointed to secure a drive chairman. During the last two days, in expectation of the official notice, sums of money volunteered for the work have been received by the Red Cross here and food and clothing donations offered have been listed, so that they may be collected if gathering of such materials is later authorized. Directors of the Fresno Rotary Club today forwarded $500 to Paul Rieger, district president, to be added to $2000 raised by the San Francisco club for Japanese relief. The funds are to be sent to the Rotary clubs of Tokio and Osaka.

COAST VILLAS GONE

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

SHANGHAI, Sept. 7.—The Nihon-Dempo agency reports that not a single house remains in Kamakura and that all villas along the coast in that locality were destroyed by a tidal wave. The tidal wave came when hundreds of bathers were in swimming. All were reported swept out to sea and drowned. Among the notable structures burned were the Engakuji Temple and the Kenchoji Temple at Tsuruoka and the Hachiman Shrine at Tokio.

DESCRIBES HORROR

PEKING, Sept. 7. — A Japan Telegraph Agency dispatch from Osaka describes the experience of M. Edatani, steward in the household of Prince Kyni.

Edatani was in a motion-picture theater in Asakusa Park when the first earthquake undermined Tokio, just before noon last Saturday. He managed to gain the exit in time to see a twelve-story amusement tower fall, the top six stories going first and demolishing most of the surrounding buildings. He saw hundreds killed here, he said.

Fire broke out immediately and Edatani fought his way to the open space of the park, which was flooded by broken water mains as the fires spread. Firemen fled in panic. He tried to reach his home in the northwestern part of the city, but many times was turned back by fire. He finally was driven to Ueno Park, where thousands already had taken refuge.

At nightfall, in the wake of flames that cleared the blocked streets of debris, he made his way out of the danger zone. From a high point he saw Akasaka ward burning—a sight he described as one of awe and horror.

Night and day for a while Tokio was a city delivered to mad panic and wild report. Premier Yamamoto was said to have been assassinated and Korean revolutionists were reported to have begun a destructive campaign, both rumors since proved false, said Edatani.

Missionaries of Southland Now in Far East Safe

Southern California's Congregational missionaries in the stricken zone of Japan are all safe, a cable received yesterday at San Francisco and relayed here says.

The cable was received by Dr. H. H. Kelsey of San Francisco, district secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, and was immediately relayed to this city to allay the alarm felt for the safety of the missionaries in the destroyed areas. It reads:

"All well. Notify relatives."

One word of the cable is undecipherable, but this, it is believed, does not alter the meaning of the five-word message.

The message sets at rest definitely the fears entertained here for Rev. J. C. Holmes, stationed at Kamakura; Miss Gertrude Covad, who was to have been in Yokohama on the 1st and 2nd insts., and a number of others.

Dr. Holmes is the Japanese missionary representative of the Hollywood Congregational Church. His parents and family reside at Palms and have been informed of his safety in accordance with the request contained in the cable. He returned to Japan two weeks ago and is expected back in the city this fall.

Miss Covad is one of the most active feminine missionaries from Southern California. She has a sister, Miss Florence Covad, residing at Long Beach.

Other members of the Japanese mission from Southern California are Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Gillett of Claremont, Mrs. Hortense and Miss Louise Wrockoff of Claremont, Mrs. Frances Clapp, formerly an instructor at Pomona College, and Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Curtis, missionary representatives in Japan of the First Congregational Church of Los Angeles.

BRITISH VICE-CONSUL IS REPORTED KILLED

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

SHANGHAI, Sept. 7.—British Vice-Consul Haigh at Yokohama was killed in the earthquake, says a British naval wireless received here. The wife of Surgeon Commander William Hingston, who was in charge of the Yokohama naval hospital, also was killed but the remainder of his staff and their families escaped. The Swiss minister and the personnel of the legation are safe. The German consul-General Herr Thiel, and his family are reported to have escaped.

The dog, not yet named, is expected to arrive at the White House kennels soon.

FEAR EXPRESSED FOR DR. MOORE AND WIFE

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Sept. 7.—Grave fears are being expressed here by relatives and friends for the safety of Rev. and Mrs. B. S. Moore of Long Beach, heads of the Japanese Pentecostal Mission at Yokohama, neither of whom has been heard from since the news of the earthquake was flashed across the world last week. Dr. and Mrs. Moore have been in Japan eight years and were in Long Beach on a visit for two years, returning to their duties last March. Mrs. Moore has three sisters living in this vicinity. They are Mrs. A. J. Wark, 901 Raymond avenue; Mrs. A. C. Campbell, 899 Raymond avenue, and Mrs. T. R. Hotchkiss of Hollywood.

MISS LASKY IS DUG FROM HOTEL RUINS

Three Hours Feverish Work Finally Saves Daughter of Film Magnate

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

KOBE (Japan) Sept. 7.—Thomas D. Cochrane, American representative of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation in Tokio, his wife and her sister, Miss Lasky, are among the refugees who have arrived here from Miyanoshita, a fashionable mountain resort about forty-five miles from Tokio. Describing the disaster, Mr. Cochrane said he saw mountains sliding into valleys, roads obliterated and houses and buildings transformed into piles of debris in a few minutes.

The Cochrane party was staying at the Fujiya Hotel, which was destroyed. Miss Lasky was pinned beneath the fallen walls and was rescued only after three hours of feverish digging.

The steamship President Pierce, the first vessel leaving Yokohama for the United States, has several hundred refugees aboard. Martial law is being strictly enforced and numerous newspaper correspondents and photographers are having difficulty in entering the devastated districts. Junius Wood of Chicago has left for the Yokohama district, seeking his wife, who was staying at the Kaihin-in-in Hotel at Kamakura.

POSTOFFICE HERE LEADS ALL CITIES

Increase in Receipts Are Larger Than for Similar Places in Country

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. — Los Angeles led all the western cities in postal receipts increase for August. It led the whole country for cities of its size and in the amount of actual cash increase exceeded by only four cities—New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Detroit. The gain for the month in the Los Angeles postal receipts was $64,209.82. The total for the month in Los Angeles was $544,056.76. In August, 1922, the total receipts of Los Angeles for the same month were $479,844.79.

San Francisco for the month of August shows increased receipts over last August of but $5189.31. Portland, Or., gained in the same comparison, $18,346.79. Seattle showed an increase of $23,338.47.

The largest gain was reported by Detroit, Mich., where the August 1923, receipts exceeded the August, 1922, figures by 17.38 per cent. Pittsburg with 14.21 per cent reported the second largest gain, while Dallas, Tex., was third with 13.97, and Hartford, Ct., fourth, with 13.69, and Los Angeles was fifth with 13.38 per cent increase.

LEGION RACE FREES FELON

for treatment might be accomplished.

REFUSED CLEMENCY

Gov. Russell steadfastly refused clemency and the minutes of every local post of the Legion in the State, and those of the State organization, contain resolutions condemning him for his failure to act favorably.

Gov. Russell visited Memphis, Tenn., for a day last spring and during his absence the Lieutenant-Governor issued a pardon. As a result of the controversy that followed legal authorities said that the Lieutenant-Governor had power to grant clemency while acting as chief executive. The Governor countered with the declaration that not until his term expired would he again leave the State, but he did so—last night—and it was this the Legion took advantage of.

Curtis Green, State commander of the Legion, heard a rumor this forenoon that the Governor was in New Orleans. By the time he had confirmed the report he was advised Mr. Russell had boarded a train for Jackson and realising the Governor had to travel eighty-nine miles to enter the State, Green got busy.

SCANT MARGIN

Legionnaires at Illinois Central stations in South Mississippi were ordered to watch the train, report the Governor's presence on board and the time of its arrival at Osyka, on the State line. Green and his coworkers here telephoned the Lieutenant-Governor at Pickens to go to Canton as quickly as possible.

Green, Welborn's attorneys and Secretary of State Bower, armed with the legal pardon forms, started from Jackson in another car. The Lieutenant-Governor drove from Pickens to Canton. Meantime, the party from Jackson was rushing northward. Both cars drew up at the Madison county Courthouse simultaneously and the Lieutenant-Governor signed Welborn's pardon at 10:18 a. m. The train bearing the Governor crossed the State line at Osyka at 10:26, a fact which the legionnaire watchman at that point duly reported.

Welborn will be sent to a government hospital in Wyoming where, specialists declare, he can be cured of his mental trouble.

JAPANESE GIVE THANKS TO CITY

Meeting Expresses Gratitude at Relief Steps

Acting Mayor and Red Cross Officials Attend

Contributions for Sufferers in Quake Made

Japanese of Los Angeles assembled in mass meeting last night at the Japanese Union Church on San Pedro street to show appreciation and express thanks for the efforts being made in this city in behalf of their suffering countrymen in Japan.

On the platform as honored guests were Boyle Workman, president of the City Council and acting Mayor; William T. Bishop, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Dr. D. C. Watters, chairman Los Angeles chapter Red Cross; George Gleason of the Y.M.C.A., and Jesse Tester, general secretary of the Salvation Army for Southern California, all of whom spoke briefly. Other speakers were S. Fugii, chairman of the meeting and president of the Los Angeles Japanese Association; K. Tanigoshi, former president, and Consul K. Kishi.

A feature of the meeting was the graceful manner in which Miss Miye Inouye, 8 years of age, and gorgeously garbed in Japanese raiment, presented bouquets of flowers to each of the honored guests.

TO AID AMERICANS

Mr. Fugii handed a check for $1000 to Mr. McWatters with the explanation that it was to be used exclusively for the benefit of Americans resident in Japan at the time of the disaster and announced that it would be followed by another for $9000 to be added to the general Red Cross Relief Fund. Following the remarks of Secretary Tester of the Salvation Army he announced further that a check for $10,000 would soon be forthcoming to be added to the fund being raised by that organization.

Japanese of Southern California, numbering about 40,000, will raise at least half a million dollars among them, according to Mr. Tanigoshi.

All the Japanese speakers spoke in impressive terms of appreciation of the work that is being carried forward in behalf of their suffering countrymen and gave repeated assurances that it would never be forgotten.

WILL JOIN FORCES

The Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association have been directed by their national headquarters to join forces and co-operate with the present organization of the Red Cross and the Chamber of Commerce, said Mr. Gleason, and he gave assurance that this would be done to the utmost of their power and ability.

Messrs. McWatters and Tester told of how, immediately following the first news of the disaster, Red Cross and Salvation Army posts from the Philippines to Korea and including China, had been authorized to hasten supplies to the stricken area, the Red Cross authorizing the immediate expenditure of $110,000 and the Salvation Army $100,000, and of how by Wednesday the first relief ship had arrived in Yokohama Harbor. The voting of $10,000 by the City Council was related by Mr. Workman.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

At the close of the meeting, Mr. Tanigoshi presented the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved: That the Japanese residents of Los Angeles and its vicinity, in a mass meeting assembled in the Japanese Union Church of Los Angeles, this seventh day of September, 1923, do unanimously express their sincerest thanks to the government and the people of the United States of America, its press, political, civic, religious and other organizations and the people of Los Angeles and its vicinity, for the whole-hearted sympathy and the prompt response for the aid of stricken millions of our countrymen in the hour of great distress caused by the unprecedented catastrophe that has fallen upon them."

Following the adoption of the resolution Mr. Tanigoshi said:

"May this coming together of the American and Japanese peoples prove the foundation of an everlasting peace and unalterable friendship between the nations on both sides of the Pacific Ocean."

KU KLUX KLAN DENIES MUTILATION OF FLAGS

STATEMENT ASSERTS MEXICAN BANNERS REMOVED FOR CEREMONY

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

EL PASO, Tex.—Sept. 7.—Headquarters of the local Ku Klux Klan issued a statement today asserting that members of the Klan took down Mexican flags in Liberty hall, but denying that the flags were mutilated. Although the flag incident occurred last Saturday night, it was not reported until the council met yesterday.

The flags were hung in the hall for an American-Mexican celebration of the recognition of Mexico. The Klan gave up the hall that night and postponed a lecture to the following night. The night of the lecture an officer of the Klan assisted by two other men took down the Mexican flags the statement said.

The City Council passed resolutions yesterday condemning such action and Mayor Dudley and city and county officials asserted that the flags were "torn down."

"The Klan has no apology to make," read the Klan statement. "The flags were taken down, neatly folded and laid away. No disrespect to Mexico was intended. The Klan deemed it proper to hold a ceremony under no flag except the American flag."

ADMIRAL IS LISTED DEAD FROM QUAKE

Commander of Yokosuka Port Lost; Cabinet Acts to Restore Order

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

SHANGHAI, Sept. 7. — Admiral Nomaguchi, commander of the Yokosuka admiralty port, and 1000 Yokohama policemen were officially reported missing after the earthquake, according to a dispatch to the Nihon Dempo Agency from the Osaki Asahi, a newspaper.

Heavy rains after the earthquake and fire have added considerably to the misery of the refugees, crowded into parks and other open spaces in Tokio, according to the same dispatch. The refugees are without food and clothes.

A railroad offered free transportation to the refugees and immediately thousands crowded into the stations, filled the cars and clung to the roofs and rods of the cars. The confusion resulting in the stations is declared to be indescribable.

Yasuda Yoshio, president of the Third Bank, is reported to have been incinerated.

All banks in the stricken area were requested to reopen under military protection, following a meeting of the Cabinet yesterday, the dispatch said, adding that several other emergency measures were approved by the Cabinet including:

Martial law was extended to include the prefectures of Chiba and Saitama.

The mansions of the rich were opened to the victims of the disaster.

It was decided to erect barracks in the imperial gardens.

Fifteen thousand Koreans, now in Tokio, are to be moved to Narashimo.

NAB GARAGE MEN WITH STOLEN SAFE

PAIR SAID TO HAVE ADMITTED BATTLING SHERIFF AFTER ROBBERY WEEK AGO

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7.—Marion P. Nickell and Lester Rickard, operators of three garages in this city, were captured in a stolen automobile this morning by city police detectives just as they were about to unload a safe containing $1000 which had just been stolen from a pool hall, it was announced by the police department.

Later, the police said, Nickell admitted that he and Rickard engaged in a running fight with Sheriff Ellis Jones and a deputy a week ago after the pair had held up and robbed four gasoline service stations. During the chase, F. Orr, attendant at a North Sacramento service station, was shot. Nickell, according to the police, declared Rickard fired the shot which wounded Orr.

Two automobiles of loot said to have been stolen from local business houses recently were recovered from the three garages maintained by Nickell and Rickard, the police said, after the capture.

Efforts were being made to connect the two men with safe robberies in Sacramento early this week.

DEATH TOLL GROWS IN POWDER PLANT

FATALITIES AT SOUTH AMBOY NOW NUMBER SIX; DOZEN INJURED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. — The toll of death in the explosion of thousands of cases of smokeless powder on barges at South Amboy, N. J., while being transferred for Pompton Lakes, now numbers six.

There were four killed instantly when the great blast occurred—three men and a boy—while fifteen or more were injured.

The explosion, which apparently was caused by a fire, which started on one of the barges in the Raritan River, rocked the entire countryside, upset automobiles and enveloped everyone within 100 yards in a sheet of white flames.

The powder consisted of a shipment of 168,000 cases belonging to the Atlas Powder Company, and was being transferred by freight from charleston, S. C., to Pompton Lakes.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE]

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 7.—Milwaukee said farewell to the members of the Grand Army of the Republic today. A week ago the city began arriving and the welcome by with martial music, as the van ahead of the "boys of '61" marched proudly to their quarters.

With all the formality of the regular United States Army, the encampment of the National G.A.R. officials yesterday were inducted into their offices this morning. Past Commander-in-Chief James W. Willett handed the gavel to Commander-in-Chief Saltzgaber, after which he retold in a speech in which he retold the pleasure which he had had during the year he had been their leader, and wished for them all the good fortune possible.

OTHERS INSTALLED

Junior Commander Saltzgaber, and the officers of the Sons of Veterans had been previously installed.

W. S. Horn of Easton, Pa., commander-in-chief; Randall Reid of Tacoma, Wash., senior vice-commander-in-chief; W. C. Doerr of Hoboken, N. J., junior vice-commander-in-chief; Dr. A. Kresser, Detroit, Mich., chaplain; R. Hats of Hartford, Ct., judge advocate; P. Yingling of Cincinnati, O., master of the council.

James W. Willett, retiring commander-in-chief of the National Encampment of the Republic in his address the report of his stewardship declared his year of service to the organization had been the highest of his life.

ENCAMPMENT DEVELOPS

Several debates developed yesterday following introduction of a resolution sponsored by the New York Department, which when finally passed will permit the Sons of Veterans to attend post meetings, which has not permitted them a vote in the affairs of the organization.

Following the flag of the Department of Arizona which stood at the corner of the platform which has been placed at the center of the encampment still remains to be saluted, making for the first time in history that a department flag has not been carried in the annual parade. Commander-in-Chief James W. Willett urged the passage of a resolution which will provide for the Arizona situation.

Action in the measure was unanimous and in the next year's parade the flag of the Department of Arizona will again float over the ranks of the Regular Army units in Civil War.

Gen. Hale was elected senior vice-commander-in-chief and G. T. Hall of Delaware was chosen junior vice-commander-in-chief, without opposition. Charles Burge of Auburn, N. Y., was elected chaplain-in-chief and Dr. John A. Berrill of Kansas City, Mo., was succeed Dr. George Darby of Marion, O., father of the late President, as surgeon-in-chief.

D. N. Hall of Columbus, O., was named trustee of the permanent fund, completing the list of national officers. These men were installed today with the commander-in-chief.

Boston was unanimously selected as the 1924 convention city. During the week Pasadena and Boston supporters waged a noisy campaign for next year's meeting. The Pasadena delegation gave way today in favor of Boston.

FLAMING RIVER CONSUMES CITY

Yokohama Engulfed in Flood of Burning Oil

Streets Littered With Dead in Grotesque Heaps

Human Life Significant Only Through Its Waste

By Roderich Matheson
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

KOBE, Sept. 7.—The destruction of Yokohama is complete and terrifying. The fury of the quake smashed the subterranean tanks on the hillside above the naval station and half a million tons of oil went sweeping through the demolished town, catching fire and becoming a river of flames from which thousands were unable to escape. The burning oil overspread the harbor and terror was supreme.

The destruction of warships is not ascertainable, but no warship reached Yokohama until late Sunday night, eighteen hours after the quake, indicating confusion at the naval base.

During the hours of death the continuous explosions of ammunition were punctuated with the mighty blast of the exploding magazines.

RESORT DEVASTATED

The Hakone Hot Springs region was devastated. Many foreigners were at the hotels over the weekend, and their fate is unknown. A few escaped afoot. It is reported mountains are falling and roads and trans lines are blocked and towns obliterated. Odawara and Kodzu, two large towns, were flattened. Kamakura was wiped out by fire, quake and a tidal wave twelve feet high.

In Yokohama there are ghastly sights on every hand. Many hundreds, apparently gassed, lie in grotesque attitudes. An eye-witness describes streets as jammed with Japanese on their knees calling upon Buddha.

When the ground fell the underwaters where forced out, flooding the streets in a few minutes, many drowning in the mud.

The President Jefferson with 300 refugees and one British steamer have arrived at Kobe, where a relief committee is working. Food ships are preparing to sail. Throughout 200 square miles food and water are short and much suffering is certain.

The country from twenty miles north of Tokio to Kodzu, sixty miles, is a vast scene of desolation and ruin wherein human life is no longer significant. Tokio is a smouldering ruin wherein many thousands of earthquake and fire victims are trapped.

The city is entirely gone except a few isolated parks and spots in which Imperial palaces are located.

CEASES TO EXIST

Yokohama ceased to exist six hours after a titanic convulsion in which buildings collapsed instantly, roads writhed in billows and cracks twenty feet wide swallowed up terror-stricken inhabitants who sought to run away from the scene. Beneath the brick and tiles, thousands lie blanckened, while the fire was sweeping everything, precluding rescues.

The harbor was the scene of the wildest confusion, the seismatic waves dashing the liners together, throwing them against the concrete docks and hurtling the hulls in all directions. The Empress of Australia and the Steel Navigator were fouled, the former losing its propeller. The hull of the Korea Maru was cracked.

ESTIMATES OF DEAD

Burning oil swept the harbor, while rescue work was being frantically pursued. The estimated dead follows:

Tokio, 80,000; Yokohama, 100,000; Kawasaki, 7000; Kamakura, 1000; Kokohuka, 10,000; Odawara, 3000; Yodzu, 2000, and others, 10,000; total, 148,000.

Communications are broken; railroads are twisted; roads split by cracks, and bridges and wires are down.

From Tokio and Yokohama, Japanese refugees by the millions are trudging to the countryside, which itself is wrecked and foodless.

American and British shipping at Yokohama led the relief, the President Jackson landing rice in care of the Salvation Army.

Yokohama is littered with dead, and the canals are filled. There are probably 500 foreign dead in Yokohama and none in Tokio, so far as can be ascertained.

ONLY SURVIVORS

Bates and Fleischman, of the Bates Bag Company of Chicago, are safe, being practically the only survivors of the couple of hundred guests at the Grand Hotel.

Tokio was half consumed at midnight on Saturday when I started to walk to Yokohama, and the conflagration continued until Tuesday. It is impossible that anything remains.

The battleship Fuji, a gunboat and three destroyers arrived from Yokosuka today. Japanese relief is slow in arriving and there probably will be food looting in Yokohama and Tokio tonight.

In Kamakuka a wave wrecked the fishing fleet, making escape to the sea impossible.

The Mexican Minister and his family are safe.

K. E. Morse of the International Bank was murdered by being stabbed in the back with a knife.

SZEPTYCKI STORM CENTER

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WARSAW, Sept. 7.—The excitement over the arrest of Archbishop Count Szeptycki, metropolitan of the Ukro-Ruthenian Church, is growing.

The Minister of the Interior, who ordered the arrest, asserts the Archbishop's return to Lemberg would have precipitated disorder and perhaps bloodshed. Since the war, it is declared, the metropolitan has been the real brains of the Ukrainian movement in Eastern Galicia and has bitterly fought the Polish government at every opportunity, with a view to bringing about the erection of a mandate state in Eastern Galicia under the control of Great Britain until such time as Soviet-Ukraine is organized in a manner possible to bring the two together. It was in the interest of this idea, it is insisted, that he toured Canada and the United States last year, making his headquarters in Philadelphia and working through the Ruthenian and Ukrainian settlements in Pennsylvania and elsewhere.

When your correspondent went to Galicia about a year ago to study the situation he was told that if it were not for the flood of American and Canadian dollars into Eastern Galicia to finance the separatist movement it would be of little importance. The Polish authorities claim they have documents proving Szeptycki is still campaigning and plotting against the Polish state.

An examination of the metropolitan's credentials showed his visa was issued by a former administration at the specific request of the Pope. Negotiations with the Vatican are continuing, the Polish government taking the stand it is not bound to recognize a permission to enter Poland previously granted, on the ground that it was for a previously planned trip and that the one which ended with the imprisonment of the metropolitan was not permitted by the present administration.

HARDING WILLED WIFE $100,000

President Also Left Widow Home in Marion

Aged Father Given Estate Totaling $50,000

Three Officials of "Star" Are Also Remembered

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MARION (O.) Sept. 7. — Bequests totaling $236,000 in cash were made to relatives, life-long friends, churches and the Marion Park Association by the late President Harding under the terms of his will filed for probate here today.

Mrs. Florence Kling Harding, widow of the late President, was left a life estate of $100,000 in government bonds, the east half of the building now occupied by the Marion Star, the Harding home on Mt. Vernon avenue, with all personal property contained there, with the request that Mrs. Harding give to each of the three sons of Dr. George T. Harding, Jr., of Columbus, brother of the President, a finger ring and watch.

Dr. George T. Harding, father of the late President, was left a life estate of $50,000 in government bonds and the home where he now resides. At Dr. Harding's death the home is to revert to Dr. Harding's son and three daughters.

The late President made a stipulation that "no part of my estate will be expended for a monument other than a simple marker at my grave."

WILL MADE IN JUNE

The will, a short concise document covering two and a half pages of small parchment, was executed at Washington, June 20, 1923, and was witnessed by George B. Christian, Jr., the President's secretary; Charles E. Hard, an old friend of the President and a former employee at the White House under Mr. Harding, and Attorney-General Daugherty. The instrument was drawn by Mr. Daugherty just before Mr. Harding left for his Alaskan trip.

No value of the estate can be estimated until the will is admitted to probate and appraisers named, Judge L. B. McNeal said tonight. Much of Mr. Harding's wealth is understood to be in stocks and bonds, the value of which is unknown until the appraisers make their report.

The late President also left Mrs. Harding "all dividends that accrue from and are paid on my entire stockholdings in the Harding Publishing Company." Mr. Harding directed that it be left to Mrs. Harding's judgment "the bestowal of gifts, souvenirs, mementos and any other articles of value to any society, organization or person she may see fit."

GRANDCHILDREN NAMED

The two grandchildren of Mrs. Harding by a former marriage, Jean De Wolfe and George De Wolfe, are left $2000 each under the will.

To his three nephews and one niece, children of the late President's brother, Dr. George T. Harding, Jr., the President left $10,000 each.

Three old employees of the Marion Star, the newspaper formerly owned by Mr. Harding, are left small gifts "as a mark of appreciation of the faithful service rendered." George H. Van Fleet, managing editor, was given $2000; Henry C. Schaffner, treasurer, $1000, and James C. Woods, circulation manager, $1000.

CHURCHES REMEMBERED

The Trinity Baptist Church, of which Mr. Harding was a trustee, was left $2000 and St. Paul's Episcopal Church, which stands next door to the Star office, was given $1000.

The sum of $25,000 was left to the Marion Park Commission "to be applied in the creation of some permanent improvement to be determined by the commission and to be erected in any one of the three parks in Marion."

All the residue of the estate is left to Mr. Harding's three sisters, Mrs. Carolyn Votaw of Washington, Mrs. Charity M. Remsberg of Santa Ana, Cal., and Mrs. Abigail Harding of Marion, and to his brother, Dr. George T. Harding, Jr., of Columbus, "share and share alike."

It is understood that Mrs. Harding expects to return to Washington within the next few days and not remain here until the will is admitted to probate and the appraisers make their report.

KOREANS IN QUAKE ZONE ROUNDED UP

Fifteen Thousand in Tokio Put in Internment Camp for Fear of Riots

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

HONOLULU, Sept. 7.—Approximately 15,000 Koreans in Tokio have been rounded up and transferred to an internment camp at Narashimo, fifteen miles from Tokio, under an order issued by Gen. Fukuda, emergency commander in the earthquake area, according to radio advices received here today by the Hawaii Shinpo, a Japanese language paper.

The order, which is an emergency one, contemplates a general concentration of all Koreans who may be found in the zone of devastation. The Shinpo's correspondent said the Koreans were taking advantage of the existing confusion and disorder not only to set fire to fallen houses, but to loot such establishments and shops as may have escaped serious damage from earthquake and fire.

The activities of the Koreans, the correspondent added, led to the discovery of a gigantic rebellion and a plot to assassinate the Prince Regent on his wedding day, the assassination of members of the imperial family and high officials of the government, the wholesale murder of citizens and a program of widespread arson and looting. The bombing of sections of Tokio which escaped disaster in the earthquake also was contemplated, the advices stated.

The Emperor and the Empress have decided not to return to Tokio, but to go to Kyoto to reside temporarily. The Prince Regent also will go to Kyoto.

Leonard Trims Mendelsohn in Easy Fashion

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, tonight received the newspaper decision in an eight-round encounter with Johnny Mendelsohn of Milwaukee. Leonard won seven of the rounds, the fifth being called even. From beginning to end Leonard outclassed his opponent, who, game to the end, was able to land on the champion but rarely and never hard.

Young Montreal of Providence, slated to box Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion, did no appear, being held back by the New York Boxing Commission, scheduled for a bout there next week. Eddie Segal of Brooklyn was substituted. Lynch tucked him away with a right to the jaw in the third round.

In the other bouts George (K.O.) Chaney of Baltimore knocked out George Russell of this city in the second round.

Dan O'Dowd of Boston bested Jack Burke, Dempsey's sparring partner, in eight fast rounds, and Joe Tiplitz of this city won from Andy Chaney of Baltimore.

Jimmy Murphy Favorite to Win at Monza

A cable received yesterday afternoon from Riley Brett, mechanical representative of Harry Miller with the three Miller racing cars, which are to take part in the Italian Grand Prize race on the Monza course Sunday, carried both good and bad news.

The news told that Jimmy Murphy, American speedway champion, has been making faster time than any of the European entries in practice. The bad news was that Count Aizaga, South American champion, had wrecked his car in practice. Riley's cable indicated that nobody was hurt in the accident and that there was some possibility that the car could be repaired in time for the race.

Horseshoe Honors to Robert Munn

Robert Munn, 17-year-old Oxnard boy, is the new champion horseshoe tosser of the State of California. Yesterday he slipped up on the elderly gents and beat them at their own game, winning the feature event of the California Horseshoe Pitchers' Association tournament now being held on the Santa Monica High School athletic field. Young Munn was not content with barely nosing out his elders, but copped the affair by a mile and three-quarters.

Howard Shuler, 14-year-old star, dealt the older talent the first severe blow of the tournament Wednesday, when he won the special handicap event.

Trophies will be presented to both Munn and Shuler today by George Paine, president of the pitchers' association, while the gray-haired and decrepit look on, green with envy.

Southpaw Golf Tourney Date is Postponed

Play in the first annual Southern California southpaw golf championship tournament, which was originally set for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, has been postponed until some date in October. Numerous Northern California left-handers have designs on the title, and it is in consideration of their wishes to participate that the tournament has been postponed until after the State tournament at Del Monte, the 22nd inst.

EDDIE BROWN IS ON ADAMS'S TRAIL

Eddie (Knockout) Brown, the hard hitting local welter, has returned to Los Angeles after a trip to Salt Lake and Chicago. Eddie returns in tiptop fettle and is ready to meet any welter on the Coast. While at Salt Lake he had four bouts, two of which he won by knockouts, one by a decision and the other a draw. Just before these clashes he fought Jimmy O'Leary a fast draw in Oakland. Brown, until he was stopped by Terry Adams at Vernon some months ago, was regarded as about the best boy of his weight in this neck of the woods.

It is the ambition of Eddie's life to get a return match with Adams, who, he firmly believes, he can beat. Brown is under the management of George Adams, who will have his man matched up with a good boy at Doyle's in the near future. Brown has a chance to go into the movies, but would like to have several more settos at Doyles before considering such a move.

An English lacrosse team will visit Canada next summer. In turn a Canadian team contemplates a tour of Great Britain in 1924.

The "White Star" Warming up for the De Mille Gold Cup Races

This is the latest thing in aquatic vehicles designed and built at Long Beach and regarded as a very serious contender for the speedboat trophy which goes to the winner of Sunday's races. The owners of the White Star believe her capable of just about sixty miles an hour.

GODSHALL BEATS HINCKLEY

Leland Stanford Star Loses to Local Celebrity in Straight Sets After Tough Battle

Harold Godshall, who shares with Bill Johnston the distinction of having defeated Howard Kinsey this season, yesterday justified the committee in seeding him in the Los Angeles city tennis championship tournament by defeating Dick Hinckley, Stanford University star, in straight sets, 6-3, 7-5.

The local player was hitting the ball hard and quite accurately, while Hinckley, apparently is playing the best tennis he has shown this year and came within a whisker of grabbing the second set. Godshall's victory removes his chief stumbling block in his quarter and puts him in line to tangle with Ralph Sindorf in the lower semifinal.

BILLY WINS

A large share of the day's honors went to little two-headed Billy Doeg, who succeeded in downing Edwarde Wilde in a ferocious three-set encounter, 7-9, 6-2, 6-4. Little Bill, who wont be 10 years old for some time yet, is so short that he has to stand on tip-toe to peak over the net, but he swings a wicked racket and both he and Wilde played tennis which youngsters twice their age might well be proud.

Play in the doubles events commenced yesterday afternoon and at the end of the day the teams in women's doubles had advanced to the semifinal round and those in women's singles and mixed doubles to the round before the semifinal. The mens and boy's and junior events with about twice as many entries, are a round or two behind, but will catch up with the parade today in an effort to wind the tournament up on Sunday.

FLY FISHING ALL THE GO AT RAINBOW

Leigh G. Garnsey, manager of the Rainbow Angling Club, sends in word to the effect that water in the club stream is rapidly clearing and fly fishing again is all the go. Heavy rains in the mountains made the stream muddy for several days.

New members continue to join the Rainbow despite the rise in the yearly rates. Among the new ones are John H. Doane and W. H. McAdoo. Following are some of the members who have fished at the club during the last week: J. B. Mallers, Jr., L. T. Barneson, W. N. Glasscock and party, J. G. Nielson, H. C. Dunbar and party and B. L. Clogston.

HORSE IMPORTS DRINKING WATER

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Ben Irish's derby winner Papyrus will take his own drinking water to America with him on his forthcoming trip to meet the best American 3-year-old in a match race at Belmont Park. This decision was reached after analysis of a sample of water brought from Belmont Park. The veterinary surgeons decided that, while it was of exceptional purity, it was sufficiently different from the water at Newmarket to make it advisable to provide Papyrus with a suitable supply of the latter.

NAUTICAL RACES ON TOMORROW

De Mille Gold Trophy Up for Competition Among Speedboats at Harbor

Pursuing the De Mille gold trophy on Sunday there will be a trio of dashing speedboats churning up the waters off Long Beach. The three entries are Cecil B. De Mille's Defiance, Frank A. and Frank E. Garbutt's Mystery and the Holmes-Culver-Ratcliffe "checo" spray rider, White Star.

The Defiance is a wonderful new craft, small, but speedy, and likely to give the larger boats all they care to go up against in the way of speed. This will be her first appearance in a race, though entered for one several weeks ago. Just previous to that contest she was damaged by capsizing when her steering gear gave way on a sharp turn, but all repairs have been made and she is tuned up better than ever. The fans are eager to see what she can do.

The spray rider, White Star, a near seasled, credited by her owners with greater speed than anything else along these shores, is thoroughly tuned and adjusted, and this novel craft may set a pace that will leave the other contestants in the hazy background—but she'll have to whoop it up to do something like that. In the Pacific Motor Boat race a few weeks since the White Star started as an unknown quantity and dropped out on the same basis. She had been in the water only a few hours and her capacity could not be judged from her performance on that occasion. Mr. Holmes declares this glider, which is Long Beach's representative in the event, is good for fifty-five miles an hour the entire distance.

Meanwhile the Garbutts haven't been asleep by a long shot. Their Mystery won the Pacific Motor Boat cup with ease, putting over a practically perfect performance and holding abundant speed in reserve, but her owners have made important alterations looking to swifter operation. This powerful nonsinkable speedster now has but one step in her bottom instead of four and an appreciable increase of speed is predicted. The Garbutts evidently sensed the fact that an unusual test is at hand and prepared for it accordingly. In addition to the Pacific Motor Boat cup they hold the Nordlinger trophy, and annexation of the beautiful De Mille creation of gold would give them a full hand.

The race will be in three heats of thirty-three miles each, over a three-mile triangular course off the Los Angeles Athletic Club yacht harbor, Terminal Island—11 a.m., 12 noon and 1 p.m.

As a sort of social prelude to the speedboat race, the California Yacht Club will have an informal dinner and dance in the clubhouse at Wilmington this evening, with many members and guests participating. The entertainment committee, of which William C. Warmington is chairman, sent out notices a few days ago and responses have been coming in at a lively rate, a cording to C.Y.C. officials. Incidentally this dinner and dance will celebrate the recent lifting of the San Francisco Bay perpetual challenge cup by Matt Walsh with the California Yacht Club's sloop California, sensation of the northern regatta.

Players in the National Championship Pocket Billiard League, representing fifteen cities, will start the competition in October. Games will be 100 points. Interest centers in the five matches between present Champion Ralph Greenleaf, representing Philadelphia, and Frank Taberski of Detroit, undefeated expert. They meet in eight games, so will all the other players.

HACKLEY TRIMS MOORE

Lightweights Put on Fast Battle in Semi-wind-up at Legion Stadium; Farren Easy Victor

Jimmy Hackley and Lee Moore were principals in one of the best bouts ever staged in the Legion stadium when they fought four sensational rounds in the semi-wind-up of the weekly ring program at Hollywood last night. Hackley took the decision, but only after he had overcome a lead piled up by Moore the opening round, when Dempsey's pal knocked Hackley to the canvas twice.

The second round was an even exchange, and Hackley had a shade in the third by clever boxing. In the final round both boxers fought on even terms for almost the entire time, when Hackley began operation on More's jaw that had the latter groggy after he had dropped several swings with the south end of his face, and Hackley won a hard-won decision, which took little glory from the loser.

The main event was not much of battle, Cal Delaney proving a set-up for Frankie Farren of San Francisco. The Cleveland boy took a series of lefts to the jaw and rights to the tummy that took all the enthusiasm out of him and the spectators.

Dixie Dixon opened the evening's fistic festivities by thumping Pico Ramies's anatomy sufficiently to earn a verdict, while Battling Ward and Sailor Mosier stepped a fast draw in the second affair. It was a slugging match from start to finish, Mosier earning a lead early, but losing it to Ward, who finished strong.

Johnny Gillardi, who knows wrestling, Jiu-jitsu, etc., much better than boxing, shoved and pushed and slugged at Soldier Brown for a decision. Brown hardly knew how to go about it, having never opposed that particular brand of fighting before, and he lost the scrap, although admittedly much the better boxer.

Mike Doyle held Young Papke to a draw in the next bout. Papke was hog-fat, his pants even having difficulty holding their own on his slippery bay-window, and he couldn't do much to Doyle, although he managed to make his trunks behave by prompt assistance in moments of peril.

Racehorse Roberts and Eddie McGovern fought a very unsatisfactory draw in the next so-called bout. The fans demonstrated deserved disapproval by booing throughout.

Start Work on Live Oaks Net Club's Court

Work was started this week on the construction of the new concrete courts of the Live Oaks Tennis Association of South Pasadena. The courts are located in the Oneonta Park section across the street from the club's old layout on Oak street. The ground was recently purchased here by the association and will be used for the club's permanent home.

Four courts will be constructed at once. They will be of the latest type, of reinforced concrete, considered by engineers to be the most enduring style and to require the least upkeep. They are ideal courts from the tennis players' standpoint also.

The Live Oaks Tennis Association was organized seven years ago and has grown into one of the most stable organizations of the community. Its membership, limited to seventy, includes many prominent citizens of South Pasadena.

BONUS FOR BEES IF THEY COP PENNANT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7.—As an inducement to the members of the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast Baseball League to redouble their efforts to capture the league pennant for the session, the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce at a meeting today decided to collect a cash bonus to be handed to the players if they "bring home the bacon." The bonus will be returned to the donors if the club fails to land the pennant, the chamber stated.

HAM-AND-BACON SHOOT TOMORROW

The Vernon Gun Club will hold its registered ham-and-bacon shoot tomorrow at the Vernon traps. A shoot of this nature usually attracts a record crowd of local and visiting trapshooters.

One hundred targets will constitute the registered shoot. The scores will be sent to the American Trapshooting Association for official recognition. A fifty-target distance handicap shoot also will be put on.

Bengals to Send Fast Team to Penn Relays

A new gymnasium and swimming pool and a trip to the Penn relays, with three relay teams and half a dozen men for the special events, are among the plans for the coming year announced by Occidental College authorities yesterday. The Tigers are figuring on a big year in athletics and are making far-reaching plans for the department of physical education.

President Remsen Bird is in the midst of a campaign for a $2,000,000 endowment and building fund, the funds to be split evenly between the two. The first buildings to be built and for which plans are already drawn are the men's gymnasium and the women's dormitory.

In the scheme for big things the authorities at Occidental are anxious to build permanently, efficiently and make the gymnasium the most up-to-date building of its sort in the country and its entire physical program the last word in physical education. This will necessitate wide travel and study and long-headed planning in order to select the country's best along this line.

NOT AVAILABLE

There was some talk of securing Coach J. R. Richards, former coach of Wisconsin University and an old-time friend of Joe Pipal, to coach football this fall so that Pipal could be given leave of absence for the contemplated survey, but this did not seem feasible. It has, however, now been definitely decided to have Coach Pipal make this tour of inspection immediately at the close of the track season next spring, which, by the way, ends with a trip to Penn relays. Occidental is definitely planning to enter two and possibly three relay teams in the Penn game, and also several men in the special events, namely, Goodenough in the pole vault, Squint Fulton and Bud Nash in the broad jump and Phil Buckman and Cliff Argue in the sprints. Occidental College will without a doubt have the classiest bunch of relay men in the history of the institution.

Ending the track season with the Penn relays will be a crowning feature of the contemplated strenuous track season, and it will also bring Coach Pipal into the midst of things athletic in the effete East. He will visit all prominent seats in universities, colleges, clubs and Y.M.C.A.'s, studying the latest things in gymnasium construction, equipment and so forth. He will also visit the War Department at Washington to learn the latest plans the government has, following its research into the best corrective

OAKS GET OUT OF THE CELLAR

Make Angels Stepping-Stone From Bottom Berth

Mails Hurls Oakland to Easy Victory, 3 to 1

Has Control of Situation All the Way

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

OAKLAND, Sept. 7.—The great Mails knows he is good and he makes the other fellows admit it. He led the Oaks to a 3-to-1 victory over Los Angeles at Oakland today and he hardly raised a sweat while doing it. The way Walter is going now he could beat any team in the country with a little help but the only visible result of his effort today was to lift the Oaks out of the cellar again. Walt keeps the Oaks out of the basement but as soon as his back is turned they slip back in again.

Elmer Ponder pitched a pretty fair game of ball himself, but the great Mails looked far more impressive than the clever Seraph hurler. Bill McCabe, lead-off man for the Angeles, will say that Mails is pretty good. Bill faced Walter four times today. Three times he was dropped on strikes and the other time he got a pass.

SLIPPERY THUMB

Bill had a bad day in the field, dropping two fly balls. The first error did not cost anything, for he got hold of the ball in time to whip Johnson out at third base. But the second muff cost a run, Del Baker scoring.

Johnson opened well for the Oaks by plastering the ball up against the left-field fence for a double. Brubaker raised a fly to McCabe, who dropped the ball, but when Johnson tried to go to third on the miscue Bill threw him out. Cather and Guisto went out on a easy fly balls to the outfield and Ponder had hurdled a bad handicap.

But in the third the Oaks made runs enough to win the ball game. With one hand down, Brubaker and Cather got hits. Guisto was out on a fly to Hood, but Jack Knight swung through with a single to center. Brubaker scored and on Hood's wild throw to third, Cather also scored and Knight went to third. He perished there.

Del Baker's infield out and McCabe's error gave the Oaks their third run in the fourth.

The Angels made their only score in the fifth when Krug doubled and little Rego hammered him home with a single. Ponder hit into a double play and the Angels had no chance after that. Only three men an inning faced the great Mails in the seventh, eighth and ninth. The series is now even up, each team having won two games. Score:

PORTLAND EVENS SERIES WITH SACS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 7.—Portland won a hard-hitting and weird fielding game from Sacramento today, 10 to 5, thereby evening the series at two games for each club. In the first inning the Beavers let in two Sacramento runs on fielding errors, but got them back immediately on resounding swats off Fittery. In the third they knocked Fittery out of the box and in the next inning Poole hit a home run with two on bases off Penner. Rekert pitched fine ball, but was continually in the hole because of errors by his teammates. Bill Stumpf suffered a split finger while batting in the fourth, and with McCann's ankle just out of a plaster cast, the Deers were reduced to playing Wolfer, an outfielder, at second. Score:

ADDITIONAL WIRING INSPECTORS ASKED

On account of the enormous number of new buildings which are being constructed in Los Angeles, City Electrician Manahan has requested the City Council authority to employ five additional electrical inspectors and one additional clerk. The inspectors must approve the electrical wiring and work done in new buildings before the current is turned on.

BRITONS TO BE GUESTS

The group of English airmen and travelers aboard the steam yacht Frontiersman now at Los Angeles Harbor, will be guests of the Sons of St. George at a picnic in Brookside Park, Pasadena, tomorrow, with a soccer football game and other athletic events as features. The yacht is pathfinder for an around-the-world air flight.

TIGERS EASY FOR SEALS

San Francisco Braces Up and Wallops Ye Vernon to the Melody of 8 to 4

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS

San Francisco's ball team reformed from making a holy show of itself, and in process of this repentance evened up the series by trimming Vernon, 8 to 4. Seal slugging stopped Frank Shellenbeck in the sixth when a liner hit him on the pitching arm. Mike File, first-aid pitcher, didn't allow a hit in the last four rounds, although wildness gave the visitors a run. Pat Shea was simply too baffling for the Bengals except P. Samson Schneider. Pete regarded Pat as his particular pie, punching him for a pair of singles and two doubles.

Clarence E. Tiner and Rodney Whitney, recruit Vernon battery from Western Texas League, arrived yesterday with hand luggage, etc. Tiner won twenty-four and lost fourteen games in his circuit, which shows him glutton for work.

REAL CLUB

George Putnam, Howard Lorens and Oscar Riechow, the syndicate of secretaries who are promoting the Cincinnati-San Francisco-Los Angeles-Vernon post-season series, believe the Reds will come to their demands and play on a 60-40 cut of the receipts. They also give assurance that it will be the real, undiluted Cincinnati club, and that the public will not be asked to accept a substitute. The only absentee will be Adolph Luque, the warm little Cuban. Luque has a molasses plantation in Cuba, and sticks strictly to business in the fall and winter. His plantation oozes sorghum. When Adolph goes out for his morning stroll he looks like a drug-store fly doing Australian crawl across sheet of tanglefoot paper. At every step he pulls taffy with his feet.

SHINE INSULTED

Shine Scott poked his large brunette face through porthole in center-field fence, and report spread that total eclipse had arrived ahead of schedule. Shine was insulted. He says the real total eclipse this season will be Oakland, while the Oaks point to Vernon as most likely to provide the real solar phenomenon.

Gene Valle started to glitter early. He slapped a triple by way of inauguration pastime. Rhyne was hit by pitched ball. Waner lined to High, who held Valla at third, but Gene glided in and gilded plate when Hendryx forced Rhyne.

Valla delivered himself at pan again in third on his own single, assisted by Rhyne and a single by Hendryx. Lower section of San Francisco batting order swung into action in fourth when Bert Ellison, Kilduff and Yelle bunched blows for two runs. Shellenback fanned the last two men in this round and the first in sixth, but Waner let almost shot an arm off Frank that was the beginning of violent end for him.

BADLY HURT

Waner's blow, a line drive through the box, struck Shellenback on the right wrist when he reached for it. The ball was deflected for an infield single, and only surprise was that Frank's hand did not fly off his arm and follow the ball. He was badly hurt but continued. The Seals were perfectly willing to jump on a cripple. Hendryx singled Waner to third. Ellison popped to Rader in short right. Rader was clear off balance. Waner started to score, and could have succeeded, but changed his mind and direction. Right after that Hendryx started for second-steal. Hannah fired to Shellenback who shot ball to third where Waner had a big lead.

But Frank's was crumbling from recent accident, and the throw went far and wide, both runners scoring. Kilduff singled and Mulligan counted him with double. Yelle grounded to Rader for third out. As it was perfectly plain that Shellenback would be in no condition to answer bell for next round, H. Hercules Hyatt was sent out to bat for him in fifth. Hyatt hit a single, advanced to third on a pair of outs and scored on Ryne's fumble of Schneider's grounder.

ORIGINAD TALLY

Just previous to this, or in the fourth, Vernon had compiled its original tally on Schneider's double and a single by Hannah. Mike File walked out amid the debris at start of sixth.

Secretary Lorenz apparently has become a convert to scientific theory that there is to be an eclipse Monday. Anyway he had it announced from field that first game will start at 1:45 instead of 1:30 on account eclipse. Some think that Lorenz hasn't figured the thing out along astronomical lines, but is merely superstitious and has become a pagan and a sun worshiper.

Seals scored noiseless run in eighth, when Kilduq walked, took second on an out, stole third and oozed in on wild pitch. Score:

DISCLOSES PLANS FOR NEXT RACE

Admiral Soiland Discusses Santa Barbara-to-Honolulu Classic's Future

BY ALBERT SOILAND,
Admiral Pacific Coast Yachting Association

The writer has been asked so many questions from interested people about the present and future Honolulu race that he takes this means for expressing his personal views.

To successfully negotiate a race from our Pacific Coast to Honolulu means, first of all, the possession of a seaworthy vessel large enough to carry, besides the crew, a sufficient supply of water and provisions. It also requires an outlay of time and considerable money. Under racing conditions, it will require from four to eight weeks' time to make a round trip. That the race itself is not without excitement and sometimes danger is readily appreciated and vividly recalled to mind by the explosion and fire on board one of the schooners in the race just sailed, which threatened the lives of the entire crew. As a sporting event, however, the Honolulu race is second to none, and therefore the writer strongly recommends its re-establishment.

In Honolulu, the writer called a meeting of citizens interested in yachting, and formed a committee of well-known business men who were anxious to work with the community in upbuilding the yachting interests. This committee consists of Lorin A. Thurston, Jr., Herbert Dowsett, Harold Dillingham and G. Stanley McKenzie. They have now put in operation a plan outlined by the writer to rebuild the old clubhouse and once more place Honolulu yachting in the foreground. That will seek to reorganize the entire territory with a view of joining the Pacific Coast Yachting Association. The California Yacht Club will be asked by the Pacific Coast Yachting Association to conduct the next Pacific Ocean classic, which will be staged in the early summer of 1925. The winner will be officially known as the trans-Pacific Ocean champion for 1925.

FORMER ALASKAN SUES FOR DIVORCE

The wilds of Alaska became lonely for Charles M. Johnson after his wife deserted him and took their 13-year-old son to Los Angeles. Unable to remain alone Johnson came to this city and yesterday asked that the local courts restrain his wife from taking their son away again. In his complaint filed yesterday in the Superior Court, Johnson also asked a divorce from Annie Johnson, and asked that the custody of their son be given into his care.

TO LECTURE ON ECLIPSE

Will the eclipse of the sun make the people of Los Angeles more saintly in character or will the solar phenomenon have a tendency to lower our present near-perfect standards in morality and religion? That is one of the questions to be discussed by Manly P. Hall in a free lecture to be given this evening at 932 South Grand avenue. Mr. Hall will discuss "The effect of the total eclipse of the sun upon the mental, physical, spiritual and moral growth of the earth and its inhabitants."

ADVANCE SALE SETS RECORD

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The advance sale of tickets for the Firpo-Dempsey championship fight at the Polo Grounds next Friday night has amounted to approximately $800,000, Tex Rickard revealed today. The promoter said it exceeded the advance sale of any previous title match he has promoted, including the Dempsey-Carpentier fight, which established a record "gate" of $1,600,000 two years ago.

In the event of a sell-out for the Dempsey-Firpo match, Rickard said, the total receipts will reach $1,250,000. The seating capacity will be about 80,000.

Half of this amount, or more than $600,000 would go to the fighters, for they are to get 50 per cent of the gross total. Dempsey, whose share is 37½ per cent, would receive more than $350,000 and Firpo, with 12½ per cent, would get more than $150,000. These percentages are fixed as the maximum by the State Athletic Commission.

JAP NET TEAM WITHDRAWS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7. — Word was received today that the two Japanese entrants in the national singles tennis championship here next week had withdrawn out of respect for their countrymen, sufferers in the earthquake. They are Zenzo Shimizu, who was drawn to play Clyde Butler, Mexican champion, and M. Fukuda, scheduled to meet Jacques Brugnon, French star.

There was uncertainty as to whether Richard Schleisenger, Ian McInness and James O. Anderson of Australia, would play on account of the death in Japan of the father of John B. Hawkes, one of the members of the team. The Australians withdrew from the tennis tournament at Greenwich, Conn., yesterday when word was received that Hawkes's father had been killed in the earthquake. Schleisenger is drawn against Howard Kinsey, California; McInness against Willis Davis, California, and Anderson against Stanley W. Pearson, Philadelphia.

TRACK DEMONS VIE TODAY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—A formidable array of 144 track and field stars from many sections of the country, including thirteen National A.A.U. champions and sixteen athletes who won the Stars and Stripes at the last Olympic games, will test their speed and brawn tomorrow afternoon at the Yankee Stadium in the pre-Olympic carnival of the Wilco Athletic Association. Nineteen individual events and five relay races, including one for girls, comprise the program, which has been arranged according to Olympic standards.

International color has been added to the meet by the entries of Harry F. V. Edward, English sprinting champion, and Carl Christiersen, Swedish hurdle champion and record holder. Both competed in the last Olympics.

TEE, FAIRWAY AND GREEN

BY "CHICK" EVANS

A NEW PUTTING STROKE found them useful to me when I offer these hints from my experience because I have found them useful to me when things went wrong. Sometimes one thing is the matter and sometimes another, and I have frequently found my particular remedy by referring to "old faithful," which is an authentic record, in fact, one of my many hours of daily practice.

One of the best of all putters, to my mind, was Mr. R. L. Ames, and certainly he has had more incluence on my putting style than any other one man. Once I saw him using a very queer looking putter—much like the one now use. I had never seen such a club before. Later I was visiting on Long Island. This was in June, 1920. In the closet of my room I found a putter like the one Mr. Ames had used. I asked my host if I might try it. He made me a present of it on the spot, and with suspicious alacrity. I practiced with it a bit, trying out his new method. I was rather pleased with the result. I was that day just beginning to acquire my present putting stroke.

My first chance to try it in a tournament was at Memphis, western amateur championship, and it worked beautifully. I expected much of it from then on, but was doomed to bitter disappointment. I missed everything with it. Still later it worked at Roslyn. I putted well, but not exceptionally so. I did not hole any long ones at all, and in those days, being young at golf then, I confidently expected a putter to hole everything. I know better now.

Still hard on my quest of the unattainable, I tried still another stroke, which I still use more or less and which I call the Ames No. 2. While using this stroke I won the western amateur, defeating Bobby Jones on Bermuda grass greens, on which he had been trained, and which were strangers to me. The same year I took my first national amateur championship at the Engineers' Club at Roslyn, where the greens were supposed to be very tricky and difficult.

This is the method: The ball is played off the left foot. You play for a spot on an imaginary line about one foot in front of the ball. Take hands back with the clubhead, and use a slight forward press to begin the stroke. Be sure not to let the hands get ahead of the club head before the club head hits the ball. Stand fairly erect on the long approach shots. Crouch down on the short ones. Keep feet close together on the long ones, and apart when the crouch is used.

The stroke is made mostly with the left hand. Watch the little finger of this hand. The little finger has extraordinary strength and will cause the wrist to break if it is not watched. It is a good idea to keep this finger off the shaft altogether, especially in short putts. Have the shaft so gripped in the left hand that the shaft rests on the ball of the left thumb. Then sink it!

LITTLE LESSONS IN Big Sports

What points should a player take into consideration in selecting a suitable racket?

Answered by
MANUEL ALONSO

Famous Spanish player, easily the sensation of the 1923 tennis season. "Best European player today, possible world champion in 1924," says Tilden. Defeated Tilden in Illinois State championship match in July. Runner-up to Tilden in numerous 1923 matches, including national clay court championship.

* * *

In selecting a racket, a player should consider four things, namely: weight, balance, handle and gut. Personally, I like a light racket, about 13½ ounces, with a 5-inch handle, and with the weight in the handle. Tilden also uses this kind. The tightness of the gut is most important—don't get a racket in which the strings are not as tight as a board. Grasp the racket and swing it through various strokes, then try another—you may like a heavy racket with a large handle, and the balance best suited to your taste may be one in which the weight is not in the handle.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7.—St. Louis divided a double bill with Cincinnati today, taking the first contest, 5 to 1, and losing the second, 5 to 5. In the second game Hornsby got his sixteenth and seventeenth home runs of the season. The first homer was in the first inning with none on, tying the score. The visitors came back in the ninth, however, and duplicated their rally of the eighth inning by running up three more tallies. St. Louis' errors aided the Reds. Scores:

WATER DOINGS ON FOR TODAY

Closing Swim Program of the Season at Belmont A.C.

Mercury Club Enters Bunch of Talented Paddlers

San Diego, Ambassador, and Venice Represented

The second annual open water championship swimming meet of the Belmont Shore A. C. will be held today over the club course in Alamitos Bay, Long Beach.

The beach club offers a varied and interesting program for the closing event of the season. There will be eight events covering all the most popular distances and so arranged as to bring out all manner of performance.

Teams have entered from the L.A.A.C., Ambassador Swimming Club, the Venice Plunge Swimming Association, the Redondo Athletic Club, the Sunset Swimming Club and the San Diego Rowing Club of San Diego.

Messrs. Owen Bird and Fred Cady were of the opinion that with the coming eclipse the San Pedro paddlers would be too busy getting the sun and moon untangled to win in the meet, but yesterday Bert Gunther wired in that he was bringing seven men and five girls for the competition.

MERCURY MEN FAST

The 440 relay event seems to have been made especially for Jerry's men, as all are fast at the 100-yard lap distance, but after the showing made last month by the L.A.A.C. team when it won the national 880 relay from the Olympic Club, the Mercury men are conceded the favorites. The relay is the talk of Long Beach after the heartbreaking finish in the national event last month.

Two other San Diego boys, Charlie and Ed Fletcher, are figured to capture first and second in the 110-yard breast stroke, as it looks as though San Diego will score fairly well in the events, it must be remembered that Walter Chambers swims a mean 880.

The entries:

1—110-yard back stroke (men): Bruce Ream, L.A.A.C.; Ray Keegan, L.A.A.C.; Jack Nelson, Venice; Theo O'Connor, Y.P.A.C.; Harvey Perry, Ambassador.

2—110-yard style (men): Otto Schmidt, L.A.A.C.; Wallace O'Connor, Y.P.A.C.; Wm. Bachman, Ambassador; Charles Reed, unattached.

3—110-yard breast stroke (men): Paul Wyer, L.A.A.C.; Charles Fletcher, San Diego; Ed Fletcher, San Diego.

4—100-yard forward swim (women): Ethel Ford, Ambassador; Marion Fletcher, San Diego.

6—100 yards free style (women): Ethel Wyman, L.A.A.C.; Vinia Hartman, L.A.A.C.; Helen Crabbe, L.A.A.C.; Ruth Johnson, Sunset Club, San Pedro; Katherine Williams, Buddy Smith, Olive Lawrence, Marjorie Gruber, Adele Carr, Sunset Club; Marie Dillman, L.A.A.C.; Lahor Mansell, R.B.A.C.; Ruth Fletcher, San Diego Rowing Club; Charles Dillman, L.A.A.C.; Charles O'Connor, Y.P.A.C.; Con McDonnell, Y.P.A.C.; Harvey Perry, Buddy Smith, Swimming Instructor.

Miss Chambers, Sunset Club, San Pedro, 100 yards free style.

Ed Fletcher, Sunset Club, San Pedro, 110 yards breast stroke.

Relay team: San Diego Rowing Club, 4 men.

HONORED CANADIAN'S WIFE IN SOUTHLAND

MRS. SEYMOUR TO WINTER HERE WHILE HUSBAND SERVES LEAGUE

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Seymour, who reside on Club Drive, Culver City, have as their guest for the winter Mr. Seymour's mother, Mrs. M. E. Seymour of Regina, Sask., whose husband, Dr. M. M. Seymour, has been appointed by the governor general of the Dominion of Canada official representative to the League of Nations, in the public health division.

In selecting Dr. Seymour for so high honor in the medical world the government was guided by a record as registrar of vital statistics for the British Empire. The province of Saskatchewan was the healthiest of any country of the world, keeping such records. This record is ascribed to Dr. Seymour's able administration of the public health laws, sanitary measures and hospital supervision.

NEVER SAW A FIRE

There is always "something new under the sun"—and John Gilbert, William Fox star, is now a firm believer in the old adage. While on location in the desert near Palm Spring, Cal., filming "The Exile," a Richard Harding Davis story, Mr. Gilbert had an Indian boy with one of the new bow-and-arrow pow-pow with one of the native Agua Caliente Indians. He was surprised to learn that the redmen have never seen a fire of any description. "Had to tell him," he had never seen a locomotive, although they pass close by. I might have believed him, but Mr. Gilbert, Yet upon looking I can't imagine it. found there isn't a fire in their section than there is in the ocean at Los Angeles!

FIRPO THINKS HE'S A VETERAN

American Public Brands Him as a Novice

Says He's Licked All They've Asked Him To

Believes He Should be Seriously Considered

BY LUIS ANGEL FIRPO
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Sept. 7.—The many people who have come to my camp ask me if I am confident of victory in the coming match as I did before my last fight, my encounter with Dempsey.

I would like to speak about my match with Charley Weinert, which seems to have excited so much attention after I fought Sailor Maxton and Joe McCann.

Charley Weinert said many bad things about me after my fight with Joe McCann. He said that I was afraid to fight him and many other things like that. At one time I was published in a sporting paper the news that Weinert had dropped me on the street because I had been afraid to take up the challenge he offered. Of course this report was a lie as were many other sayings that I heard of this one and that I never was afraid of Charley Weinert and the first time I received a direct challenge from him, backed by reputable promoters, who acknowledged it immediately, I was on my way to Grand Rapids and I did not wait longer than was necessary to get to the boxing commission to accept it. The public knows now what happened and I met Charley Weinert. I knocked him out in short order.

NEVER FAILS

I think it perhaps well for those who read these lines to remember whenever I have been called to meet a man who has between me and a chance for the championship of the world, I have disposed of that man. Perhaps I have not done the thing in the way some expert North American critics consider impressive, but the fact remains that I have defeated enough North American fighters to have a chance to fight for the championship of the world. Of the North American experts at the head was formerly called the famous "Stonewall" Jackson. There the West Virginia mountain football squad which now will soon be in the midst of intensive preparations under the direction of Head Coach Dr. C. W. Spears.

Of all the Mountaineer eleven's schedule of eleven games, suffering a single defeat this year the opposition, with the exception of Penn State, is the same and it is going to be the best the men have had to keep their record clean.

Captain Mahan, Quinn and Bowers, who were hurt during the summer, are improving and will be in the game. All others of the squad are reported to be in the best of shape. Veteran Dartmouth, and Bob Gutron, former Cornell star, will get on the job when camp opens. Setron succeeds Nate Barrack, while Setron will serve as assistant coach. The first game will be held Monday morning, the 16th inst.

Mahaney, the best all-around athletic football player last year, has entered school and will try for

Plans to import the Cincinnati Reds for a series in San Francisco, and a later one in Los Angeles, while having no baseball significance, undoubtedly would result in considerable interest and might be helpful to the game.

Chief interest would center in the personnel and the fame of the Reds. This would far transcend the series itself. But the Coast men promoting the series should insist that the invading team be the real Cincinnati club, and not a mere sprinkling of Reds rounded out by major leaguers, who are coming West because they live out this way.

Otherwise it would be little less than a barnstorming expedition. Such a post-season series could not be expected to produce a high grade of baseball. The Reds, whose season closes earlier, would have broken training after a hard season, and would be feeling the reaction.

* * *

Intersectional post-season series in baseball do not as a rule produce a high a standard of play as is to be seen in the regular season. Recall that Minneapolis-Denver series? That year Minneapolis, a Class AA league representative, had a really great team, one of the best ever seen in the minors. But it went out to Denver and was bumped off by a Class A club.

* * *

Spring and fall games by touring big league clubs aren't much. In the spring they are not ready and in the fall they aren't as a rule trying. But the Reds, a club never seen on the Coast, if they came intact, would be an object of interest and plenty of people would turn out to witness in action.

But those in charge of the affair at this end should insist absolutely that it be the Cincinnati club complete and not a mere mixture of big leaguers. Commissioner Landis may see that this is done.

* * *

Now and then there is an occasional rattle about changes in the management of this or that Coast League club. But there are fewer such rumors than usual, and there are those who believe that every pilot is sitting pretty.

Los Angeles has promised Marty Krug another year at the job. President Joe Patrick believed it but fair to give Marty a chance to show what he can do with a club of his own construction.

Bill Essick, wise to the vagaries and uncertainties of a manager's existence, got himself signed up to a contract, which has two more year's to run. Rather, the contract was tendered him and Bill accepted. That was when the New York Yankees were reported to be considering him. This perhaps wasn't necessary as President Maier no doubt would have retained him. Essick has been very successful up to the present year, when he worked under many handicaps.

* * *

The San Francisco situation necessarily will remain unsettled until next winter. George Putnam says no permanent selection will be made or any announcement made until the present race is completed.

Wednesday afternoon I asked Putnam, who would manage the San Francisco club next season.

"Jack Miller still is the manager of the San Francisco club," was his reply. And that evening Miller passed away. Of course, nobody believed Jack ever would again be able to get back into baseball.

Bert Ellison, an aggressive player who puts intense energy into his playing, has been acting as playing manager since Miller was first incapacitated.

It is not believed that Owners J. Cal Ewing and Del Howard blame Ivan Howard for the poor showing of the club. Failure of the team to hit the first three months is largely responsible for its present position, and it became necessary to reconstruct the infield.

* * *

Duffy Lewis seems to stand strong with President Lane in Salt Lake. Charley Pick of Sacramento has, of course, made his calling and election for another season sure. Red Killefer always is sure of a job in this circuit. He is an efficient manager and a good card. Red, no doubt, will rule the Indians again.

Jimmy Middleton must have won himself a home in Portland. Even Bill Kenworthy, who is coming back to the league next year, hardly would advise deposing Jimmy that he might step into the job. And the Duke is a type of manager who is needed. His kind are an asset to the entire circuit.

Due to the impossibility of obtaining high-class players with which to strengthen it hardly would be fair to judge any manager by his showing this season.

First Rounds in Handicap at Brentwood

Numerous opening-round matches in the Brentwood Country Club's handicap tournament were played on the Santa Monica links yesterday and others will be played over the week-end. N. H. Foster defeated George Naylor, 7 and 6; Tom McCall defeated W. H. Bainbridge, 6 and 5; M. A. Leach downed L. S. Este, 1 up, and C. M. Craford eliminated J. Cunningham, 1 up.

Herreshoff shops at Bristol are closed for an indefinite period. Many of the most famous yachts, including those that defended the America's cup and many radical changes in yacht designing originated in the mind of the late John and his brother, Nathaniel G. Herreshoff.

JACK PUMMELS LIGHTWEIGHTS

Steps Six Rounds in Work for Firpo Battle

Little Fellows Tantalize Champ Heavyweight

And Dempsey Takes It Out on Ray Newman

BY PAUL GALLICO
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SARATOGA SPRINGS (N. Y.) Sept. 7.—Hard, indeed, is the lot of a sparring partner to a world's champion. He is paid a salary to go in and hit Dempsey. If he doesn't he gets fired. And if he does, Dempsey gets mad and cuts loose. What would you, as the French say.

However, the cannon fodder did not suffer much this afternoon, as Jack was entertaining the younger set in his delightful outdoor palace of punch on the shore of historic Saratoga Lake. Alex Trambitas, Billy Defoe and Ray Newman each argued with the champion for two rounds. The size and caliber of his opponents led Dempsey to go six rounds instead of the four he did yesterday.

Alex and Billy are cheerful little chaps just about shoulder high to Dempsey. Ray Newman is a little bigger and so had to bear the brunt of the champion's fury. But it was the two little men who stirred the champion up with their waspish attacks.

FEELING HIGH

Dempsey was feeling in the best of spirits. His old friend, Bill Lyons, one-time State Senator of Colorado, was the chief man in the ring. The champion was after speed and he got plenty of it. He boxed with the little chaps, matching footwork with them. He let Billy Defoe hit him with all he had. Billy has a fight in Troy Monday night and for two rounds Dempsey was the sparring partner and acted as the punching bag.

Coming from the rubbing table Dempsey made it plain that he had not said he would never box Wills now that the negro challenger has sought to enjoin the Dempsey-Firpo battle. Jack, however, criticised the action of Wills and his manager. When it was suggested that it was probably Paddy Mullins and not Wills who was making the trouble, he shook his head.

"Mullins and Wills are one person," he said, "just the way Jack Kearns and I are one."

GET ROUGH AT FIRPO'S DOMICILE

Challenger Forced to Uncork Wallops to Subdue Lester, His New Partner

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Sept. 7.—There was a rush of new sparring partners at the Firpo camp this afternoon. John Lester Johnson, who once busted three of Jack Dempsey's ribs, and young Bob Fitzsimmons blew in to help Luis get ready for his row with Mr. Dempsey, which is scheduled to take place at the Polo Grounds on September 14, unless Paddy Mullins and Harry Wills get the courts to interfere in the matter.

John Lester was real rough with Firpo and made the big challenger step more lively than at any time since he opened his training campaign. The work against Johnson was just what Firpo needed. He did not have to pull any punches and as a matter of fact the Argentine walloper put everything he had on his swipes this afternoon and had Johnson blowing kind of hard at the end.

Buddy Jackson also arrived this afternoon to help out, but Firpo slipped him the air. Old Bud was somewhat peeved when they gave him the skids, but Firpo announced that he had all the sparring partners he needed and Bud grabbed the first rattler out of town.

CHILEAN LIGHTWEIGHT AFTER RING TITLE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. — With letters of introduction from United States Ambassador Henry Fletcher and President Alesandro of Chile, Luis Vincentini of Chile, lightweight boxing champion of South America, arrived on the steamship Ebro, in quest of a chance at Benny Leonard's title.

He carried a letter of introduction to Tex Rickard and said he would try to get into a preliminary bout at the Firpo-Dempsey fight.

Discussing Firpo's chances with the world's champion, Vincentini declared he believes that the Argentine heavyweight will be defeated by Dempsey unless he has improved greatly since he saw him fight in South America.

The Chilean government advanced Vincentini $2500 for expenses for his trip here.

The Scottish Women's Hockey Association will take part in four international matches this season. They will play America at Dundee or Aberdeen, and England at Edinburgh, while Wales and Ireland will be played away.

HUGHES SQUAD MEETS SOX

Buick Autos in Game With La Habra to Retrieve Honors Lost to Firemen in San Diego

BY JOE BUSH

The schedule lined up for Sunday by Jimmy Cleary, Secretary of the Greater Southern California Baseball Association discloses feature games galore. The Hughes Ice Cream nine and the Moneta-avenue Merchants will play their first encounters under the auspices of the "Greater," and Manager Trickey's Irvine club, will once more be seen in action after a two month's lay-off.

The Hughes club tackles Jasper's Los Angeles White Sox at the Sox Park in what promises to be one of the best of Sunday's games. The Dessert squad last week served the fast Montebello Merchants an 8-to-6 beating, and are confident that they will be able to down the colored club Sunday. Jasper will pitch either Wood or Slowtimer, while Rodgers has selected Duncan as his moundsman. The line-up for Sunday's game follows:

L. A. White Sox	Hughes Ice Cream
Ward, lf.	Armstrong, ss.
Williams, ss.	Puckett, 3b.
Yeste, 2b.	Rodgers, 2b.
Pullen, c.	Johnson, 1b.
Henderson, 1b.	Antista, cf.
Riddle, 2b.	Schiltz, lf.
Kyle, cf.	Whipple, rf.
Wilson, cf.	Hastings, c.
Slowtimer, p.	Duncan, p.

Dave Anderson's Barry's Classy Hats journey to Irvine, where they will engage Manager Trickey's Bean Pickers. Sunday's game will mark the first appearance of Irvine after two months of vacationing and, according to Trickey, his boys are anxious to get back into the swim. Either Dutch Hendricks or Williams will chuck for Irvine, opposing Trautwien, who will pitch for Anderson's club.

The Kant-Skore Pistons meet the Glendora Merchants on the latter's diamond in another of Sunday's feature contests. Zeulch's club laid off last Sunday, while the Merchants trimmed the Western Lithograph club. Cioffe will no doubt be on the mound for Glendora. Poulch has not as yet announced his chucker.

RETURN GAME

Manager Carleton's strong Hollywood Merchants will take a run up the coast to tackle Santa Barbara in a return game. The Santa Barbara club trimmed the Merchants by a one-run margin in the game played two weeks ago, and Carleton is out to retrieve the defeat. Eddie Awerkamp will pitch for the Merchants, opposing Austin, who bested him in a heavers' battle the first time the teams met.

Harry Casey's world-beating San Gabriel Merchants will engage the A. B. Ellis Marketers at Belvedere, Sunday, in what should develop into one of the best games played in these parts for many a moon. The Merchants boast a long string of recent victories and are out to add another to the list Sunday. The Marketers are equally anxious to put a dent in Nelson's club's record. A great contest should result.

Butch Gauntner's Azusa team takes on Sam Cox's Pasadena Eagles at Tournament Park, Pasadena. Azusa did not play last Sunday, while the Eagles lost to San Gabriel on that day, and defeated the White Sox Monday. Either Joe Pirrone or Russell will pitch for the Crown City club.

HARD LUCK

Dad Thielman's Buick Autos ran into a lot of hard luck at San Diego last week, droppnig two games to the Border City firemen. This Sunday they met La Habra at La Habra, and are out to redeem themselves. Kelley will handle the mounding for Dad Thielman.

Manager Darr's First National Bank nine will journey to Downey to engage the fast Downey club Sunday. The Bankers won two games last week and are out to make it three in a row. The Palomar team will tackle the Union Oil Aristos at Santa Fe Springs.

INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE

The Industrial League will get away to a flying start this afternoon, with four fast games scheduled. The Barbarians meet the Moneta-avenue Merchants at Moneta, Los Angeles County tackles the K. V. 220 Edisons at El Monte, Buick Autos hook up with the T. J. Lawrence Company at Metropolitan Center, and the Montebello Edisons will have it out with the Slauson team on the latter's diamond.

LEAVING THINGS AROUND

To the south of Atlanta not far from the Federal penitentiary there is a statue that was erected where a famous Confederate leader fell. On each side of the statue there is a group of cannon balls.

A young thing accompanied by her grandfather was observing where the great man fell. The old gentleman said solemnly:

"And this is where the great colonel fell."

CHALLENGER IS PUT OFF BY JUSTICE

Court Reserves Decision on Harry Wills's Suit to Stop Dempsey-Firpo Bout

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Supreme Court Justice Hagarty today reserved decision in the action brought by Harry Wills, negro heavyweight challenger, asking an injunction to stop the Dempsey-Firpo fight at the Polo Grounds, the 14th inst.

Wills in his action reminded the court of his challenge posted with the New York Boxing Commission almost two years ago, and contends that Dempsey in meeting Firpo is wilfully dodging the defy. Wills it would seem, has every right to ask for the injunction in that his challenge and forfeit were posted long before Luis Angel Firpo made his appearance in this country.

TRYING TO COLLECT CUB GRIDIRON ALUMNI

In an effort to have an Alumni game with former stars of the gridiron, the University of California, Southern Branch, is trying to collect all alumni who play the pigskin game for a tussle on Moore Field October 6. Any such should communicate with Ben Ensig. The veterans will get in some practice to figure out clever tricks whereby to upset the present generation.

James M. Smith, who swam Lake Sabine in Louisiana, some years ago, will try to swim from Santa Cruz Island to Santa Barbara, a distance of thirty miles, during September.

The Little Warrior

BY P. G. WODEHOUSE

"It didn't take me in, you know," said Jill at length, resting her arms on the table and regarding him severely.

Wally looked up.

"What didn't take you in?"

"That bath of yours. Yes, I know you turned on the cold shower, but you stood at a safe distance and watched it snow!"

Wally waved his fork.

"As Heaven is my witness. . . . Look at my hair! Still damp! And I can show you the towel."

"Well, then, I'll bet it was the hot water. Why weren't you at Mrs. Peagrim's party last night?"

"It would take too long to explain all my reasons, but one of them was that I wasn't invited. How did it go off?"

"Splendidly. Freddie's engaged!"

Wally lowered his coffee cup.

"Engaged! You don't mean what is sometimes slangily called betrothed?"

"I do. He's engaged to Nelly Bryant. Nelly told me all about it when she got home last night. It seems that Freddie said to her 'What ho!' and she said 'You bet!' and Freddie said 'Pip pip!' and the thing was settled." Jill bubbled. "Freddie wants to go into vaudeville with her!"

"No! The Juggling Rookes? Or Rooke and Bryant, the cross-talk team, a thoroughly refined act, swell dressers on and off?"

"I don't know. But it doesn't matter. Nelly is domestic. She's going to have a little home in the country, where she can grow chickens and pigs."

"'Father's in the pigstye, you can tell him by his hat,' eh?"

"Yes. They will be very happy. Freddie will be a father to her parrot."

Wally's cheerfulness diminished a trifle. The contemplation of Freddie's enviable lot brought with it the inevitable contrast with his own. A little home in the country . . . Oh, well!

2

There was a pause. Jill was looking a little grave.

"Wally!"

"Yes?"

She turned her face away, for there was a gleam of mischief in her eyes which she did not wish him to observe.

"Derek was at the party!"

Wally had been about to butter a piece of toast. The butter, jerked from the knife by the convulsive start which he gave, popped up in a semi-circle and plumped onto the tablecloth. He recovered himself quickly.

"Sorry!" he said. "You mustn't mind that. They want me to be second-string for the 'Boosting the Butter' event at the next Olympic Games, and I'm practising all the time . . . Underhill was there, eh?"

"Yes."

"You met him?"

"Yes."

Derek fiddled with his knife.

"Did he come over . . . I mean . . . had he come specially to see you?"

"Yes."

"I see."

There was another pause.

"He wants to marry you?"

"He said he wanted to marry me."

Wally got up and went to the window. Jill could smile safely now, and she did, but her voice was still grave.

"What ought I to do, Wally? I thought I would ask you, as you are such a friend."

Wally spoke without turning.

"You ought to marry Him, of course."

"You think so?"

"You ought to marry him, of course," Wally doggedly. "You love him, and the fact that he came all the way to America must mean that he still loves you. Marry him!"

"But . . ." Jill hesitated. "You see, there's a difficulty."

"What difficulty?"

"Well . . . it was something I said to him just before he went away. I said something that made it a little difficult."

Wally continued to inspect the roofs below.

"What did you say?"

"Well . . . it was something . . . something that I don't believe he liked . . . something that may interfere with his marrying me."

"What did you say?"

"I told him I was going to marry you!"

Wally spun around. At the same time he leaped in the air. The effect of the combination of movements was to cause him to stagger across the room, and, after two or three impromptu dance steps which would have interested Mrs. Peagrim, to clutch at the mantlepiece to save himself from falling. Jill watched him with quiet approval.

"Why, that's wonderful, Wally! Is that another of your morning exercises? If Freddie does go into vaudeville, you ought to get him to let you join the trouble."

Wally was blinking at her from the mantelpiece.

"Jill!"

"Yes?"

"What—what—what . . .!"

"Now, don't talk like Freddie, even if you are going into vaudeville with him."

"You said you were going to marry me?"

"I said I was going to marry you!"

"But—do you mean . . .?"

The mischief died out of Jill's eyes. She met his gaze frankly and seriously.

"The lumber's gone, Wally," she said. "But my heart isn't empty. It's quite, quite full, and it's going to be full for ever and ever and ever."

Wally left the mantelpiece, and came slowly towards her.

"Jill!" he choked. "Jill!"

Suddenly he pounced on her and swung her off her feet. She gave a little breathless cry.

"Wally! I thought you didn't approve of cavemen!"

"This," said Wally, "is just another new morning exercise I've thought of!"

Jill sat down, gasping.

"Are you going to do that often, Wally?"

"Every day for the rest of my life!"

"Goodness!"

"Oh, you'll get used to it. It'll grow on you."

"You don't think I am making a mistake marrying you?"

"No, no! I've given the matter a lot of thought, and . . . in fact, no, no!"

"No," said Jill thoughtfully. "I think you'll make a good husband. I mean, suppose we ever want the piano moved or something . . . Wally!" she broke off suddenly. "You have our ear."

"Come out on the roof," said Jill. "I want to show you something funny."

Wally followed her out. They stood at the parapet together, looking down.

"There!" said Jill, pointing.

Wally looked puzzled.

"I see many things, but which is the funny one?"

"Why, all those people. Over there—and there—and there. Scuttering about and thinking they know there is everything there is to know, and not one of them has the least idea that I am the happiest girl on earth!"

"Or that I'm the happiest man! Their ignorance is what is the word I want? Abysmal. They don't know what it's like to stand beside you and see that little dimple in your chin . . . They don't know you've got a little dimple in your chin . . . They don't know. . . . They don't know . . . why I don't suppose a single one of them knows that I'm going to kiss you!"

"Those girls in that window over there do," said Jill. "They are watching us like hawks."

"Let 'em!" said Wally briefly.

NELLIE REVELL IS 'HOME AGAIN'

Indomitable Will Conquers Four-Year Illness

Lay in Plaster Cast for Thirty-six Months

Hope for Authoress Once Was Given Up

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. — Nellie Revell, authoress and press agent, is "out of the trenches" and "back home." After four years in which her entire world was bounded by the four walls of a hospital room, the remarkable patient rode triumphantly today with an ambulance as her chariot back to the Broadway that is her "old home town."

It was the triumph of a will that has astounded the entire medical world. Through a spinal illness that has baffled eminent physicians the woman writer has fought her way through sheer will power and a philosophy which was built on cheer to this latest step toward complete recovery.

Today she is quartered in a suite at the Hotel Somerset, Forty-seventh street near Broadway, surrounded by banks of flowers and baskets of fruit. Four years ago even her doctors would have counted it impossible. Today there was a tear or two in her eyes but she just smiled and said:

"I told you so."

REMOVAL DRAMATIC

The move today was a secret one. Not even her closest friends had known of it in advance. But it did not take the news long to spread in her "old home town." She had been in the hotel less than an hour when there came a telegram from Fannie Hurst and then another from C. F. Albee, vaudeville magnate who simply said: 'Merry Christmas."

There was every element of drama in the return of Miss Revell to her land of make believe. It was present even in her calm attitude as she sat in her new bed in her new suite.

"I hope no one makes any noise," she said. "It might wake me out of this beautiful dream. Back home—it's too good to be true. But it just goes to prove that there is no such thing as hopelessness. All you have to do is believe in good, believe in yourself and believe in your doctors."

SAD FAREWELLS

The ambulance called for Miss Revell at St. Vincent's hospital, where she has been confined for four years at 8:30 this morning. For those four years Nellie Revell had not left that little room—"38"—except to go to the operating rooms. For three of those years she had been even more closely confined if that is possible. She had been in a plaster cast, unable to move.

But today there was to be no operating room. In an ambulance chair the patient made the trip down the stairs. There were silent good-byes by the nurses, good-byes said with tears rather than with words.

The ambulance was large and it had windows so that Miss Revell could see the world which had so long been denied her. For those four years her only outlook had been upon a block or two of roofs. It is little wonder that her eyes were childlike as the ambulance moved up Seventh avenue.

BACK TO BLIGHTY

"Here you are, Nellie," said Mrs. Clarence Willets, who accompanied her, as they reached Times Square. Times Square, the center of her world in the old days.

The tears streamed down Miss Revell's face as she looked out.

"Back to Blighty," she said simply, and quietly she began throwing kisses to the old corner.

Your Nickel now buys a BIGGER Cherinut

Pick one up at any candy counter—

It was the corner of her tragedy, for it was while standing there, watching the bulletin board, that she saw the name of her son posted as having fallen in battle. It was then that she collapsed. Since that day it has been the hospital but tonight she is in her own home in the Hotel Somerset.

JUGO-SLAV HEIR BORN TO THRONE

War Rumors Start as Guns in Morning Boom Out Royal Salute

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BELGRADE, Sept. 7.—Rumors of wars were rampant in the Jugo-Slav capital yesterday when the population of this city was awakened this morning by guns booming a royal salute. An heir was born to the throne of Jugo-Slavia at 3 o'clock this morning.

Young King Alexander, who has spent the last two days at an almost incessant Cabinet meeting lasting to the late hours of the night, went direct from a conference on the Italian situation to Queen Marie's apartments in the palace where the Prince was born. The girl Queen, who is intensely popular in the Serbian part of Romania despite the accusation of the Croatian leader, M. Raditch, that she is a "modern Mme. De Pompadour," was reported in the best of health by a bulletin published at 5 o'clock.

Chicago Holds High Place in Violent Deaths

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—The automobile with a booze-crazed driver continues to be the most deadly weapon in Chicago, but ordinary killers with such old-fashioned weapons as the pistol and knife are not idle.

Two hundred and seventy murders have been committed in Cook county in the first eight months of 1923, as compared with 158 in the same period in 1922, 118 in 1921 and 111 in 1920, showing a steady gain. Murders resulting from attacks by bandits are relatively lower than in the past, but killings in the foreign quarters are increasing at a notable rate.

A total of 488 persons have been killed by automobiles in the first eight months of the year. There were 226 burglaries for August, as against 287 in the same month a year ago. There were but 90 hold-ups during the months, as compared with 118 in August a year ago, according to figures made public yesterday by the Crime Commission.

ALMOND CROP VALUE NEAR THREE MILLION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Merchants and business men throughout the almond-growing districts are feeling the beneficial effects of advances totaling $500,000 which have been made to date by the California Almond Growers' Exchange to growers delivering 1923-crop almonds to the exchange warehouses. The heaviest early deliveries were made in the Chico and Durham districts and the exchange has been advancing from $8000 to $10,000 daily to the growers in those districts.

By the end of September the total of advance money paid to growers will probably reach beyond $1,000,000. The payments being made are only the first advance. Later, as crops move to market and returns are received, another advance will probably be made.

In the first year of the exchange the total tonnage handled by the almond co-operative was valued at something like $300,000. The value of the 1923 crop will probably amount to approximately $3,000,000. The exchange has more than 3200 grower members and will market close to 80 per cent of the almonds of the State this year.

BAY CITY POLICEMEN JAILED IN RUM CHARGE

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Seven men, who were arrested during a liquor raid in which a San Francisco police lieutenant and two patrolmen were taken into custody, appeared in the United States District Court here today and pleaded guilty to a charge of violating the Volstead Act. They were told by the court to return tomorrow with evidence that they are engaged in some legitimate and gainful occupation and that their guilty pleas would be taken care of at that time. The policemen, Lieut. D. H. Brasfield and Patrolmen Mark Willever and W. Barion, were found guilty and sentenced to prison terms. Their case is on appeal.

Arizona Cattle Thieves Using Automobiles

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, Sept. 7.—Automobiles were used on an extensive scale by cattle and sheep thieves in late operations in the Salt River Valley, according to Sheriff Sullivan. It was discovered that cattle had been driven to lonely spots, where they were held till picked up, a couple at a time, by means of an inclosed trailer, while sheep, tied by the feet, were thrown into ordinary two-seat autos, to be taken to the butcher.

Tom Pettitt and Grover Waddell, arrested on charges of cattle and sheep stealing and liberated on bond, are not to be found and are believed to have fled. The Sheriff's office believes they were members of a well-organized ring that has stolen hundreds of head of cattle within the past two years.

DANCER AND MATE BACK IN RUSSIA

Isadora Duncan Escorts Red Poet-Husband From Paris After Row

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Sept. 7.—Isadora Duncan, together with her "blond archangel, her god and genius," Serge Essenin, has left Paris for Moscow. Isadora, whose affection for the poet still remains undimmed, despite cut-glass showers in their hotel on the Place Vendome and despite the poet's playful, kittenish ways after his seventh drink of vodka, has defied the police and taken little Serge away, and now that part of Passy adjacent to the Salle Beethoven, where the Duncan studio was situated, will resume its former tranquillity.

The latest episode in the lives of the two "enfants terribles" is amusingly described in Aux Ecoutes. It appears the Paris police were called during the most recent night of uproar and escorted Serge to a quiet cell, but they were followed immediately by Isadora, dressed in a mauve toga with a classic wax taper, demanding in a histrionic attitude, "Don't take him. He is a poet."

"That explains all," said the sympathetic gendarmes. However, they insisted on treating the prisoner with morphine. As soon as Serge recovered the couple was informed that all strangers, even poets, must register with the police in Paris.

Inasmuch as Serge stubbornly refused to comply, Isadora was told she must move her husband back to Red Russia.

SEIZE SUSPECTS IN CHILD THEFT

Mother's Seven-Year Hunt is Believed Ended

Father and Three Others Are Held at Vancouver

Van Tassel Girl Kidnapers' Chase Extensive

Nellie Van Tassel, her heart broken and her resources exhausted by the seven-year fight she has waged to regain possession of her kidnaped child, is at last on the eve of victory.

Dispatches received here yesterday from Vancouver, B. C., state that Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wilson, Mary J. Wilson and Morgan Van Tassel, Jr., the child's father, are under arrest in that city and will be returned to Newburgh, N. Y., for trial on a charge of kidnaping the girl.

Their arrest comes as the first definite victory for the heartbroken mother in her long fight to have the child restored to her. The Wilsons, according to the mother, kidnaped the child at the father's instigation, and the three have joined in the fight to keep her daughter from her.

SEARCH EXTENSIVE

The search for the Wilsons and Van Tassel covered virtually every section of the United States and extended to Cuba, and finally to British Columbia. For a time it centered in Los Angeles, where the Wilsons were taken into custody, but at the last moment Mrs. Van Tassel was cheated of the prize she had labored for seven years to gain.

The drama unfolded here last July. Mrs. Van Tassel, her strength gone and virtually all of her funds spent, but love for her child spurring her on, had trailed the Wilsons to this city and here caused their arrest. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were brought before Justice Folletts, but denied knowledge of the child's whereabouts.

The court, however, was not satisfied and continued the hearing, in the meantime paroling the two suspects to the custody of their attorney. Taking advantage of this temporary delay, according to Mrs. Van Tassel, the two fled from the city.

Undaunted by this setback, Mrs. Van Tassel renewed the search, finally causing the arrest of the Wilsons and her former husband at Vancouver.

The child is Clare Van Tassel, now 11 years of age. About seven years ago, when Mrs. Van Tassel and her husband were living at Cornwall, four miles south of Newburgh, and before the separation from her husband came, she had considered the Wilsons her best friends. Mrs. Wilson is a sister of Mrs. Van Tassel.

WILSONS INDICTED

Then came domestic troubles. Van Tassel, who was a New York Central Railroad track foreman, disappeared. The Wilsons also dropped from sight. With them went the child.

In November, 1920, the Wilsons were indicted on a charge of kidnaping. Their trail led to Daytona, Fla., then to Cuba, but was finally lost at Long Beach, N. Y. The disappearance of the Wilsons had been preceded by a suit for separation filed by Mrs. Van Tassel. The court granted Mrs. Van Tassel the separation, alimony and custody of their four children, including Clare.

Van Tassel, it is asserted, joined the Wilsons in California, and from here the three fled to British Columbia. Now an officer is on his way from New York to escort the Wilsons and Van Tassel back to Newburgh for trial on a kidnaping charge.

LAWMAKERS VIEW STATE OIL DISTRICT

Industry of California is Under Inspection by Western Congressmen

By A "Times" Staff Correspondent

TAFT, Sept. 7.—Dry holes and gushers together with pumping plants and other equipment used in the production and transportation of oil were viewed yesterday by the party of western Congressmen who are inspecting the California oil industry.

The Congressmen, with officials of the leading oil companies, made their first inspection of the Wheeler Ridge property of the Standard Oil Company. They were shown the original hole where $200,000 was expended before the project was abandoned. Then they viewed the discovery well at the Ridge.

The Maricopa and Taft oil fields were visited before the party stopped at the Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company property for luncheon. After inspecting the Elk Hills Naval Reserve, the visitors proceeded to Bakersfield where they had lunch before boarding the train for Point Richmond.

After visiting the Point Richmond refineries this morning the party, which has been conducted by the American Petroleum Institute, will disband.

ASSERTED LAND FRAUD EXPOSED

Broker Arrested on Charge of Taking Security

Bay City Capitalists Said to be Near-Victims

Case Involves Large Tract in Nayarit, Mexico

The arrest of Carlos A. Heinrich on a charge of stealing $5000 interrupted a deal in San Francisco in which Heinrich stood to win $400,000 or more, according to Detective Lieutenants Reed and Shaffer of the police bunko squad. Heinrich is described as 57 years of age and a real estate broker. The detectives declare that M. J. Gallegher, a San Francisco millionaire, had put $350,000 in escrow as a result of representations by Heinrich, and that negotiations were pending with J. M. Jackson, another wealthy Bay City resident, in which Jackson was to put up $62,000.

The detectives declare Heinrich posted two checks, aggregating $350,000, as his part of the bargain with Gallegher, which were asserted to be drawn against insufficient accounts.

LARCENY ALLEGED

The charge on which Heinrich was arrested was the alleged larceny of $5000 from W. C. Crandall of 1021 Trenton street, a retired farmer, who is asserted to have put up that amount as security after Heinrich hired him as foreman of a Mexican ranch at $350 a month. The detectives assert Crandall's money was drawn out by Heinrich as soon as it was placed in the bank. Heinrich was then indicted by the grand jury.

Reed and Shaffer have been tracing Heinrich's movements since August 19, they said, when Crandall first came to them with his story, and say they have discovered seven or eight other persons to whom Heinrich offered jobs on condition of a $5000 deposit. One of these, they say, was A. Marshall of Pasadena.

MONEY DEPOSITED

The Del Val estate of 180,000 acres in the State of Nayarit, formerly Tepic, Mex., was used by Heinrich as bait in his operations, the detectives assert. They say Heinrich procured documents showing the ownership of this large estate, said to belong to the British Land and Packing Company, and charge he changed them so that they indicated that Heinrich himself was the owner. With these, they assert, Heinrich approached Mr. Gallegher with an offer to let him share in the development.

Gallegher said he would deposit $350,000 in escrow if Heinrich would deposit an equal amount, the detectives say, and Heinrich put up a check of $250,000 and another of $100,000 drawn on the First National Bank of Chicago, while Gallegher put up his own check. Gallegher is asserted to have told Heinrich then to let the matter stand for a couple of weeks, as he had other matters requiring his attention, and Heinrich is said to have hurried to Los Angeles and tried to hire foremen.

Crandall came to the police with the proposition before he put up his money, the detectives say, and the $5000 was deposited under police direction as a trap for the real estate man.

Wife Charges She Was Wooed for Money Only

Declaring that she married William J. E. Dale only because of his desire to have an heir to inherit his reported wealth, and then discovered that the only money he had was obtained from other women to whom he had been engaged, and also from her, Mrs. Edith F. Dale filed suit for annulment of her marriage in the Superior Court yesterday.

The couple met in a sanatorium in New Mexico, Dale told Mrs. Dale of the vast amount of property he had been left by his mother, she avers. He was to undergo a serious operation on his throat, and wanted to leave an heir to prevent his holdings reverting to a church. Finally she consented to marry him after many impassioned pleas on his part, she stated.

Then she left to dispose of some of her property and while she was away he wired her for $540 to meet a note, she charges. She gave him that sum and honored many other requests for financial assistance on his part, the complaint states.

Becoming suspicious she investigated and found that the documents purporting to be the will of his mother and other letters from relatives were all false and that he was a charity patient at the sanatorium, Mrs. Dale declared.

HELD BY DRY AGENTS

Allen Spolinsky and his son, with Harry Leven, were arrested at No. 429 East Adams street, yesterday afternoon by prohibition agents, after the agents declare, purchase of three cases of gin and ten gallons of moonshine was made at the place.

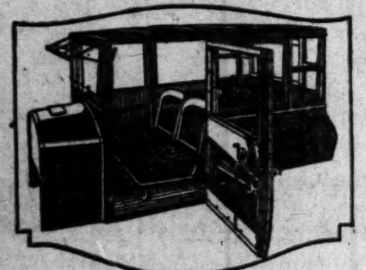
None of the Coach value is absorbed in useless or merely ornate fixtures.

Closed cars that feature such things cost almost double their open car price.



The above illustrates a stripped Coach body we are showing. It permits you to see the design and construction of this sturdy closed car and explains why more than 50,000 in use give such reliable service.

And it is the open car price by which you judge how much attention goes into the mechanical parts of a car.

You wouldn't knowingly sacrifice chassis quality for seldom used body fittings that appeal only to the eye. Know the facts. Hudson and Essex Coaches cost but little more than their open models. They give all essential closed car comforts on these two world-famous chasses.

No wonder their sales have exceeded any ever known among cars of comparable price.

In buying a closed car you want comfort, good looks and all-weather utility, of course. But you also want assurance of mechanical quality, performance and reliability. At their respective prices, does any other car combine these advantages in such measure as Hudson and Essex Coaches?

ROADS GOOD FOR ECLIPSE TOURS

Congestion Warning is Given to Motorists

Food and Camping Facilities Should be Carried

Auto Club Gives Out List of "Don'ts" for Drivers

Motorists planning journeys to various points to witness the eclipse of the sun Monday noon are to find good roads and easy traveling conditions, but will face extraordinary congestion, according to a bulletin sent out by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Among major points of information for automobilists who plan to witness the century's greatest spectacle from San Diego or points near by is the necessity of taking camping facilities and food. It was pointed out that on Labor Day San Diego found herself unable to care for the more than 50,000 visitors and that consequently many of them went hungry.

ACCIDENTS FREQUENT

Carelessness and inexperience in handling automobiles caused eighty-six serious accidents on the coast between Los Angeles and San Diego last Monday. Scores of lesser accidents also were reported. According to testimony of several motoring parties reporting to the club, it was impossible to obtain gasoline at 60 per cent of the stations en route, as their supplies had become exhausted because of the heavy traffic and because it was impossible for delivery trucks to reach gas stations.

Some motorists found that it took eleven hours to make the trip from San Diego to Los Angeles on Monday, when it ordinarily should be made in five and one-half hours.

While it is indicated by thousands of inquiries as to road information received at headquarters of the club here in the last two days that the majority of motoring parties are intending to visit that portion of the Pacific Coast lying between Oceanside and Ensenada, a large number are planning to travel northward to spots on the Gaviota Road north toward Santa Barbara, where the eclipse totality will be observed. The club reports that there are some choice locations for camping in that vicinity.

Here are some of the "don'ts" issued yesterday by touring experts of the club:

Don't fail to light lights on highways just before and following the total eclipse.

Do not park on the highway at any time.

STAY IN TRAVEL LINE

Do not attempt to cut out of line when traveling in a traffic jam. The safest and surest method of traveling when the highway is packed with autos is to stay in line and keep cool.

Do not forget that there are no accommodations available at all at Ensenada, Mex.

If you are touring below the Mexican border, motorists should carry plenty of extra water for drinking and radiator purposes.

Passports are required for journey below Tijuana and these can be obtained at the San Diego office of the Auto Club by advance arrangement, or at the Mexican office at the southern end of the Tijuana bridge.

In order to comply with thousands of requests from motorists as to actual road conditions where the total eclipse may be observed, the touring bureau of the club has issued the following report on highways:

Point Concepcion—Those who plan to see the event at Point Concepcion, just south of Lompoc on the coast highway to San Francisco, will find paved road from Los Angeles by way of Saugus, Fillmore and Santa Paula; by the way of Santa Susana Pass or by the way of the Ventura State Highway to Ventura, with the exception that on the latter route there is a small detour through the Santa Clara River bed between El Rio and Montalvo. Continuous pavement also is found north from Ventura along the coast to Santa Barbara and Gaviota Station, thence through Gaviota Pass to the Santa Ynez River.

LEAVE COAST ROAD

Immediately after crossing the Santa Ynez River and arriving at Buellton, travel will leave the main coast road following the pavement by way of Santa Rita to a point just before reaching Lompoc, then south over dirt road to Point Concepcion. This road is thoroughly signed and recently has been improved in anticipation of the heavy travel. The total mileage from Los Angeles is 178.

Ensenada and San Diego—Excellent road conditions exist over either the coast or inland routes to San Diego. Pavement extends south from San Diego to the international border at Tijuana. It is sixty-eight miles from the border south to Ensenada, and while this is all dirt road, mostly gravel-surfaced, it is in fair condition outside of several washes.

The transporting of firearms across the border is prohibited.

Extra Sailings for Catalina During Eclipse

Additional steamer service to Catalina Island has been arranged for this week-end in connection with the sun's eclipse. The steamer Avalon will make a special trip at 2:45 p. m. tomorrow, special Pacific Electric cars leaving Los Angeles at 1:45 p. m.

Another extra steamer trip will be made at 9 a. m. Monday, scheduled to reach Avalon at 11:25 a. m., more than an hour before totality of the eclipse, the connecting train leaving Los Angeles at 8 a. m. and Long Beach at 8:30 a. m. Advance reservations and specially validated tickets are necessary for this sailing. Regular trips will be made as usual.

FOLLETTE LOSES COURT SKIRMISH

Defense Attempt Fails When Testimony Not Allowed

Six Witnesses Are Refused by Judge Reeve

Defendant's Wife is Given Reprimanded by Court

An attempt to build up a defense for former Justice Channing Follette on the basis that he had acted within his rights in signing the names of other persons to bonds releasing prisoners, failed in its purpose yesterday, when Judge Reeve refused to admit a large part of the testimony of six witnesses.

Follette is accused of signing the names of two other persons to bonds releasing Carl Lindquist, charged with grand larceny. The witnesses called by the defense included Mark Herron, Assistant United States Attorney, U. S. Commissioner Long, Justices Forbes and Hanby, Attorney Thomas Cooper and Hale Day.

WIFE REPRIMANDED

The trial yesterday was marked by a reprimand of Mrs. Follette, who sat on the front row of seats in the courtroom, and closely followed the testimony for and against her husband.

Mrs. Follette sat in full view of the witness box and the jury. Her interest was so intense that she strongly demonstrated approval or disapproval of testimony offered. Deputy District Attorney Van Cott, conducting the prosecution, called Judge Reeve's attention to her behavior, and the court instructed her to control her emotions.

ATTORNEY APOLOGIZES

Robert M. Clark, principal defense attorney, rose and apologized to the court, explaining that Mrs. Follette had intended no wrong, but had been deeply affected by the testimony.

The prosecution completed its case at the morning session, and the defense introduced witnesses during the afternoon. The trial will be resumed today.

LANKERSHIM TO VOTE

Special Election Will be Held on Annexation to City

City Clerk Dominguez yesterday reported that the petition asking that the City Council call an annexation election in Lankershim was sufficient, and the Council instructed the City Attorney to prepare the ordinance calling the election. The date of the election will be set when the ordinance is presented and adopted. Lankershim is located between Hollywood, Van Nuys and the San Fernando Valley section of the city, and has a population of about 6000. There are 614 registered voters, and 185 signed the petition asking for the calling of the special election to vote upon the question of annexation to Los Angeles.

TWO STARS SIGN

LIVE ONES PLAY IN METRO'S "LIVING PAST"

By Grace Kingsley

Mary Alden and Harrison Ford yesterday signed Metro contracts to appear in "The Living Past," the fifth of Metro's series of all-star special productions, the filming of which will be begun next week under the direction of Harold Shaw. "The Living Past" is Thomas J. Hopkins's adaptation of William J. Locke's novel, "The Tale of Triona," and ranks in popularity with "The Beloved Vagabond" and "The Mountebank" by the same author.

Mr. Ford has been given the leading male role in the screen version of the colorful story, which has its setting on the Finnish frontier in Russia and in England. He recently completed the chief male role in "Maytime" and before that was one of the leading players in "Little Old New York."

Probably Mr. Ford is known and remembered best for the numerous productions in which he appeared opposite Constance Talmadge and also Norma Talmadge.

Mary Alden has just finished enacting the principal part in "The Eagle's Feather," an all-star Metro special and her work in this has been judged by the critics who have seen the film to be the best of her career. Miss Alden appeared in all of D. W. Griffith's successes until a few years ago, since which she has been seen in "The Unpardonable Sin," "Milestones," "The Old Nest," "The Bond Boy" and other productions.

Arrangements are being made to secure the services of other players of equal prominence. Georges Rizard has been engaged as chief cameraman.

Mary Grows Up

It begins to look as if people actually want to see Mary Pickford grow out of her professional childhood, judging by the telegrams of congratulation which came yesterday from New York, where her new picture, "Rosita," was given its premiere at the Lyric.

Hiram Abrams is just in the seventh heaven, judging from his wire.

"Press unanimous in praise of your remarkable acting," reads Abrams's telegram. "Production superb, direction perfect, photography magnificent, and the public like you grown up."

Couldn't go stronger than that! Telephonic congratulations came from Elsie Janis, Daniel Frohman, Sol Lesser, Hartley Manners, Laurette Taylor, Mary Hay, Richard Barthelmess, George and Percy Fawcett, Maud Salvini and from a number of dramatic critics as well.

No definite plans have yet been made for the showing of the picture here, but it is believed that it will be seen locally within the next month.

Now It's Aladdin's Lamp

Two film notables have combined to picturize "Aladdin's Lamp." This announcement comes from William H. Clifford, at present scenario editor for Choice Productions, Inc., who, with Ferdinand Finney Earle, noted artist, has begun the first phrase of research work preparatory to adapting this particular link of the Arabian Nights chain of stories for the screen.

While Mr. Clifford is writing the continuity for the Aladdin story, Mr. Earle will work on the paintings for the backgrounds, precisely as when he filmed "Omar Khayyam," which will be released this fall, it is said.

Pete Morrison Begins

Work has started on "The Ghost City," Universal's new chapter play, a western story laid in one of the deserted mining cities that make romantic reminders of gold rushes of a long dead past in the Middle West. The story, written by Paul Bryan, is laid about an old city in Wyoming, which has become the rendezvous of desperadoes preying on the rich cattle regions.

Their machinations are combatted by ultramodern methods, including the airplane patrol.

Jay Marchant is directing. Pete Morrison noted as a western star and daring rider, plays the principal male role, while Margaret Morris, Universal City's new discovery, heads the feminine contingent in the cast.

Others in the cast are Bud Osborne, Frank Rice, Slim Cole, Valerio Olivio, William Quinn and Princess Neola, the Indian actress.

The thrilling airplane stunts that will mark the chapters will be furnished by Al Wilson, Universal City's famous stunt flyer, whose daring work in "The Eagle's Talons" created many a thrill.

A bunch of wild horses from Arizona are to be actors in the drama, with the Universal cowboys breaking them to the saddle as a part of the story.

LEASES THEATER

France Goldwater has moved her offices to the Fine Arts Theater, where she will continue her business of the management of artists and furnishing of programs for clubs and recitals. Miss Goldwater recently leased the Fine Arts Theater, which she is preparing to use as a concert and lecture hall and for the introduction of new artists to California audiences. She will also manage the Fine Arts Productions, a series of six plays, which are to be presented under the direction of Willamene Wilkes and Dickson Morgan. Among the artists who will tour the Pacific Coast this season under his management are John J. McClellan, organist of Salt Lake Tabernacle; Upton Close, lecturer on China; Charles Wakefield Cadman and Princess Tsianina; Marie Millette, diseuse; Esther Dale, soprano, of New York; Louis K. Anspacher, lecturer on drama and the theater, and William Ellsworth, noted educator.

CITY TO ASK BIDS ON SEWER OUTLET BRICK

Bids are to be asked for by the Board of Public Works for 270,000 sewer brick and 130,000 vitrified brick for use in the construction of the sewage screening plant now being built at the main outfall sewer at the city's ocean front at Hyperion.

Pilgrimage Play Benefit for Japanese

For the benefit of the Japanese relief fund a special performance of the Pilgrimage Play, Life of the Christ, will be given at the Pilgrimage Theater tomorrow night.

Announcement to this effect was made yesterday by the board of directors of this world-famous drama through George L. Eastman, president.

Henry Herbert, who plays the role of the Christ, is delaying his departure for New York another day in order to appear with the big cast of players, each of whom is donating his services to the big humanitarian cause, as are members of the stage craft and the business staff.

Receipts from this special performance, 100 per cent gross, will be turned over to the Red Cross to be used in aiding the stricken people of devastated Japan.

The Pilgrimage Play's regular season is scheduled to close Saturday night, and as there are many visitors in the city and many citizens still desirous of seeing this beautiful production, this special benefit performance provides opportunity to do so and at the same time contribute toward the relief fund.

MUSICAL COMEDY STAR TO BE HOST AT CAFE

Frances White, noted star of musical comedies and vaudeville, is to be guest of honor Sunday night at the weekly gathering of celebrities at the Plantation Cafe on Washington Blvd. Miss White will award the silver cup to the lucky dancers of the evening and will also be in charge of an impromptu program. Many of Miss White's Los Angeles friends have made reservations to attend tonight and welcome the actress back to this city.

VIOLA TO MAKE CROOK STORY

The association of Viola Dana and Oscar Apfel, respectively as star and director, is to continue, according to an announcement from the Metro studios yesterday. Mr. Apfel will, according to Milton E. Hoffman, production manager, direct Miss Dana in "Angel Face Molly," a crook romance by Fred Kennedy Myton. He has already finished "The Social Code" and "In Search of a Thrill," starring Miss Dana, "Angel Face Molly" is the fourth of the present series of Dana pictures.

Melford's Next

The next George Melford production will be "Flaming Barriers." The cast has been announced to include Jacqueline Logan, Antonio Moreno, Theodore Roberts, Walter Hiers, Sigrid Holmquist and Robert McKim. The story is an original by Byron Morgan, adapted by Jack Cunningham. This will be the second Melford feature since the "fifty-two pictures a year" policy went into force at the Famous Players-Lasky.

For Juvenile Lead

A juvenile lead will be taken by Cullen Landis in "The Man Whom Life Passed By," which Victor Schertzinger is directing for Metro.

Like Eclipses

An eclipse is certainly a great convenience as far as picture makers are concerned. At least, Alfred E. Green has just discovered, for instance, that he will be able to use the effect produced by the one next Monday very nicely in "Woman Proof," starring Thomas Meighan, which he is now filming.

It seems that the story, written by George Ade, calls for both daylight and night scenes aboard ship, and these will be obtained for the picture a few minutes apart, it is said, miles out to sea between Los Angeles and San Francisco. Passage for upward of thirty members of the company has been booked accordingly.

Finishes Anna Christie

The role of Anna Christie has been completed by Blanche Sweet, and she is now considering several offers for future engagements, with the expectation of signing shortly. The part that she particularly favors is one of high emotional possibilities.

Jackie Doll Star in Punch and Judy Show

As he will be unable personally to attend, Jackie Coogan will delegate a doll to be present at the opening of the New York Hippodrome November 1. The historical playhouse has been taken over by B. F. Keith interests, and Mark A. Luescher, manager, wired Jackie yesterday to ask if he would appear.

By November, however, the child star will be busy on his next production, and so a Jackie Coogan doll has been forwarded to be placed in an honor position in the children's playroom. A Punch and Judy show featuring the doll will also be given, it is said, at the theater the opening day.

ASSUMES MANAGERSHIP FOR HART PICTURES

Completion of arrangements whereby "Scoop" Conlon will become manager and publicity director for William S. Hart were announced yesterday. Mr. Conlon will be directly in charge of the business details of the productions which Mr. Hart is making for Paramount release, thus renewing an association which he formerly had with the actor, though at that time he was simply publicity director.

During the past several years Conlon has conducted his own bureau of publicity, having as his clients a large group of feature players, as well as directors and producers.

BERLIN READY TO NEGOTIATE

Willing to "Weaken" for Sake of Parley

Cabinet is Declared to be Shaping Proposal

Declares Agreement is Only Way to Avert Ruin

[Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger.]

BERLIN, Sept. 7.—The Stresemann administration is so anxious to bring about reparations negotiations with France and Belgium that it is now willing to "weaken passive resistance" as soon as such negotiations begin, it has been learned from a reliable source.

While no official steps have been contemplated for the immediate future, the administration is understood to have definitely in mind what it would be willing to concede in return for a mere agreement to negotiate without complete capitulation on the part of Germany.

The two main forms of resistance which the administration is said to believe it can afford to give up should the French and Belgians agree to or ask for a conference are, first, the refusal of the Ruhr population to use French-controlled trains for passenger or freight traffic and, second, the refusal of German industrialists to pay coal taxes to French and Belgian customs officials in the occupied territory.

STILD CONCILIATORY

The Stresemann administration has been conciliatory from the first in regard to the reparations fight with France and Belgium, only declaring that the Ruhr and Rhineland, which are necessary for Germany to live, must be saved at all costs. Thus far, however, the administration has carefully avoided a public announcement of its attitude toward passive resistance.

It is understood the shaping of a policy in this respect has been hastened in the last few days by disquieting reports from the Ruhr, where portions of the population are said to be finding the burdens imposed by their persistent endurance too heavy to bear much longer. Several representatives of the elements which are inclined to give in and start working under French and Belgian control are now in Berlin. Their version of conditions also has influenced the administration.

END PREDICTED SOON

Germany's long endurance of financial and economic conditions, daily seeming to grow more and more impossible and flattening every new crisis into a level of wearisome perpetual crises, is, however, a warning to those who are now willing to predict that passive resistance will be given up soon.

It is very unlikely that there will be any decisive moves in the near future, although it is true Germany is weary to death of the Ruhr conflict, which daily is bringing her nearer collapse and chaos, and her resistance has appreciably weakened in the last few weeks.

SITUATION IS BAD

The plain facts are that the economic situation, with high food prices and the prospect of unemployment staring the country in the face, has become so bad that the present administration feels that opening up of negotiations looking toward a definite reparations settlement is absolutely necessary if Germany is to be saved from complete economic ruin and coincident collapse of constitutional government. How to bring about negotiations is the problem.

The present administration, it now seems, is willing to cease hindering France's attempts to collect freight charges on railroad cars and coal taxes in the Ruhr whenever the parties concerned agree to sit around a council table and attempt to arrive at some satisfactory agreement.

CALLES IS CAUSE OF PESSIMISM

Mexican Business Men Fear Him as President; He is Friendly to America

BY JACK STARR-HUNT
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 7.—Frank scepticism exists in Mexico's business and financial circles concerning the country's prospects under Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, who, it is generally believed, will succeed President Obregon. Gen. Calles, in his first campaign utterance, made recently, did not mention international relations and his statements evidently were directed to obtaining the labor vote. They included somewhat vague support for the Agrarian policy. His revolutionary ideals tend toward Socialistic views. He is generally accredited with being a supporter of Socialism.

A special correspondent of the Excelsior credits Gen. Calles with a desire to conserve cordial relations with the United States government. He quotes the former Secretary of the Interior as follows:

"Mexico has much to give the United States. Mexico desires cooperation and sympathy with the United States in all questions. The progress of both countries does not constitute a reason leading toward conflicts; the two great republics can progress together and derive the greatest possible benefit by working in a united manner.

"Our interests in many respects are mutual. Mexico is the world's richest country in products and in natural resources. The people of the United States are the greatest consumers of these products. We desire the United States to help to explore for these riches. The fulfillment of this program will furnish the United States with the products it needs and at the same time will give Mexico the necessary means for its progress and development. Relations between the United States and Mexico should be most cordial, as their interests are parallel."

Toreador Kills Bull in Tribute to Miss Mellon

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN SEBASTIAN (Spain) Sept. 7.—Miss Ailsa Mellon, daughter of Secretary Mellon, is the first American girl to have a bull pledged to her and then dispatched in her honor—as a toreador's tribute to her beauty.

As a guest of Ambassador Moore, Miss Mellon visited the bullfights, occupying the box of the Duke of Tovar. The throng cheered Julian Sainz, a noted bullfighter, known as "Saleri," as he came in the arena, but Saleris eye caught sight of the American girl.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

TWO OFFICIALS INDICTED AGAIN

Fresno Men Charged With False Accounts

Thirteen Counts Returned at Each Time

License Fee Transactions Basis of Cases.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

FRESNO, Sept. 7.—City Commissioner of Finance Charles Dillon and City License Collector Harry Erickson, indicted August 30 on thirteen counts charging embezzlement of public moneys, were indicted again today by the county grand jury. They are charged in the latest true bills with knowingly keeping false accounts of public money.

There are thirteen counts, covering the same transactions as were covered in the former indictments. About $1600 is involved. The new indictment, however, is in addition to the other, and Dist.-Atty. George R. Lovejoy announced that the men will be prosecuted on both.

The transactions that have led to grand jury action had to do with collections of license tax fees. Bond for each man was fixed at $7500 by Superior Judge D. A. Cashin. The same sum was set under the original indictment. Both were arrested and arranged bond. They were to have been arraigned this afternoon on the first indictment, but asked for a week's continuance, which was granted.

BOND INCREASED

The City Commission yesterday was notified by Dillon that he had decided to suspend Erickson while the charges are pending. He also said he expected to appoint Le Roy H. Gunther, an accountant, to the post of chief deputy commissioner of finance, but the commission, by a vote of 3 to 2, refused to sanction the appointment.

It voted unanimously to increase Dillon's official bond from $10,000 to $50,000.

Today rumors were current at the City Hall that friends of Thomas E. Risley, civil engineer, are starting a boom to have him given Dillon's place on the City Commission in the event of the removal or resignation of the latter. Risley was out of town and could not be reached for a statement.

Mayor T. G. Hart denied that the City Commissioners have agreed to appoint Risley if a vacancy occurs.

RANKIN RESIGNS

Charles S. Rankin yesterday resigned as secretary to Mayor Truman G. Hart and as deputy commissioner of public safety and welfare. The resignation will take effect October 1. He also withdrew as secretary of the fire, planning and park committees. Hart has not announced who will be Rankin's successor.

Rankin has been secretary to the Mayor during two administrations. He was appointed by W. F. Toomey, then Mayor, and was reappointed when Hart went into office, about two years ago.

Press of private business impelled his resignation, Rankin said. He will go to Southern California in October for a month's vacation, and then will return here to reside.

WOULD OPEN ROAD

Venice to Start Agitation for Open Boulevard to City

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Sept. 7.—Furthering the movement for the opening of Venice Boulevard from Los Angeles to the sea, officers of the Venice Boulevard Improvement Association will start agitation the first of the week to open both sides of the highway from National Boulevard to the Angel City.

For the purpose of discussing the proposed improvement and to plan action along this line a meeting is scheduled for Tuesday evening next in the Citizen's State Bank at Palms.

With the condemnation proceedings completed and the work ordered for the opening of the two closed blocks between Jasmine and Hughes avenues on the south side of the boulevard, and with petitions for the opening of the south side before the City Council, the association has completed two important steps in the proposed improvement.

TRADE WITH MEXICO TO TAKE JUMP

Long Beach Official is Optimistic Over Future Commerce to South

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 7.—"If the banking houses and business interests of Long Beach and Los Angeles will establish banking connections and commercial warehouses in Mexico, the greatest volume of trade handled here within the next five years will result from such a policy."

This is the opinion expressed here today by City Manager Charles H. Windham, who has just returned from a trip to various cities and towns in Sonora and other Mexican States, where he went at the invitation of high officials of the Southern Pacific of Mexico. Mr. Windham was for many years a directing official of Mexican and Central American railroads.

"I wanted to see Mexican possibilities as they appear under American recognition and especially as they relate to Long Beach Harbor. I am convinced that we cannot afford to sleep at the post and let other cities get all of this business," he said.

"We understand Mexico and we can build up a great commercial relationship with that country, especially the West Coast, by systematic endeavors. The greatest agricultural district on earth, capable of producing whatever grows anywhere, is within a short distance of Long Beach and Los Angeles harbors and is available by both rail and water," he declared.

Mr. Windham predicted that within two years regular passenger-train service will have been established between Los Angeles and Mexico City over the Southern Pacific line by way of Nogales and Hermosillo.

Slaying Is Laid to Mistake in Man's Identity

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

REDONDO BEACH, Sept. 7.—A Coroner's jury heard testimony this morning in regard to the death of Antonio Arce, longshoreman at the Pacific Electric wharf, who died in Los Angeles yesterday. An autopsy showed that death was due to a fractured skull.

Testimony of Mrs. A. V. Slater of 515 Hermosa avenue, Redondo, threw most light on the affair. She testified that shortly before 8 o'clock on the night of the assault, she heard a man's voice saying in an angry tone, "What are you following those women for?" Then, she said, she heard another man say something about his wife, followed by a thud and a groan. Mr. Slater gave similar testimony.

Police here believe it was a case of mistaken identity.

JUDGE SCORES NEW AUTO ACT

Dunham in Pasadena Says It Encourages Violations

Denies Motion to Drop Case Against Doctor

Hollywood Man Will Appeal if He Loses Trial

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 7.—The new State Motor Vehicle Act received a second jolt this morning when Judge Frank Dunham denied two motions for the dismissal of the case against Dr. Frank Chandler of Hollywood as advanced by the Automobile Club of Southern California. After a spirited flare between the local judge and attorneys for the club it was intimated that this test case will be taken to the highest court in hte State to establish firmly the worth of the new vehicle act that went into effect on the 1st inst.

The test case arose over the arrest of Dr. Chandler, who is charged with speeding, failing to stop at officer's signal, giving wrong hand signal and having no operator's license. The Automobile Club took the case and declared through its attorney, Louis C. Spiess, Jr., that it will fight it to the finish.

Today at a continuance of the doctor's hearing two attempts were made to have the complaints against the defendant dismissed through certain rulings in the new Motor Vehicle Act.

JUDGE SCORES ACT

On both occasions the judge refused to entertain the motions. Following a heated argument in court Judge Dunham declared:

"It is my honest belief that the State Motor Vehicle Act encourages violations and creates disrespect for the law."

On the first hearing of the case last Wednesday the Automobile Club attorney cited Section 154, Title 12, of the act as a reason for dismissing the case. In this particular provision the law specifies that the violator may demand that his case be tried at the county seat of justice. It was brought out that Dr. Chandler did make such a demand at the time of his arrest but, it was further declared, he signed an agreement to appear in Police Court, thus his first demand was declared void.

When this demand was refused the Automobile Club presented another motion for dismissal based on the grounds that Dr. Chandler had not been given five days before the date set for his appearance in court. Judge Dunham also denied this on the same grounds that the defendant had signed the agreemgnt to appear.

TRIAL OCTOBER 2

The trial of Dr. Chandler was set for October 2 and should the defendant be found guilty an appeal will be immediately made, it was stated today.

It was this case that caused City Manager Koiner to flay the actions of the Automobile Club in a public statement yesterday. He declared that it was his belief that the club was aiding violators to break the law by assisting them to get off. He further declared that speed traps and plain-clothes officers, banned by the new State law, would be used in Pasadena in open defiance of the act. Speeders and other asserted criminals will be caught in Pasadena at any cost or measure, he declared.

Today several heated replies were received to the City Manager's statement. James Kindel, president of the Motor Car Dealers' Association, and David R. Faries, general consul of the Automobile Club, both sent letters of disfavor.

WARNING BY SEER TRUE; MAN KILLED

Husband Slain by Hunters as Predicted to Wife by Fortune Teller

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VENTURA, Sept. 7.—Mrs. Joe Popevis, for whom the prediction of the fortune teller came true, will take her three babies and go back to Sioux City, after seeing her husband's remains laid away in Ivylawn Saturday afternoon following a service at the old mission. The Popevis family had been living in Los Angeles.

A fortune teller told her husband would be killed before November of this year. She begged him not to tempt fate by going hunting when deer season opened. When he laughed at her she insisted he bring her and the three children with him. He was shot by deer hunters on Sulphur Mountain Labor Day.

Evidently the men who fired the fatal shots carried their victim some distance and then became frightened and left him. He was dead when found. The wife and children waited all night at the foot of the mountain for the husband and father who did not come back.

MUSCAT SHIPMENTS AT HANFORD HEAVY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HANFORD, Sept. 7.—Fifty carloads of fresh Muscat grapes are now being shipped daily out of Kings county to the East. Much of the shipment is under a special certificate of State inspection, which guarantees the condition of the fruit on the day of shipment. The grape shipping season is now well opened and will be heavy until weather conditions become unfavorable. There is no car shortage this year and though the prices are lower than last year, growers consider conditions fairly satisfactory. The warm weather of the past two weeks has been a boon to the grape industry.

DETECTIVES, CASHING CHECK FOR PRISONER, "HELD UP" BY SMALL-TOWN BANK CLERKS

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 7.—Two plainclothes police officers were detailed to cash a check for a prisoner in the Pasadena jail so he might gain his release. The check was drawn on a small bank just recently started in a near-by community. The officers drove to the town but were unable to find the bank, so one of the officers accosted a pedestrian and asked if such a bank were located in the town.

"Oh! yes," exclaimed the obliging pedestrian, "you've just passed it back there. How know it's only a little chubby hole of a bank and has but two clerks."

"Do you suppose there's any money in the blamed thing?" the officer further inquired.

"Yes, they'll have some."

"That sounds good to us," exclaimed the officer as he stepped on the gas.

When the officers arrived at the bank they were confronted with the muzzles of two shotguns in the hands of the two bank clerks. The officers explained their business and after considerable persuasion the clerks put up the guns.

"Well, we're not taking any chances," declared a clerk. "Just a minute ago a man up the street phoned in that a carload of tough-looking yeggs were on their way to rob the bank. He must have meant you fellows."

THIEF SUSPECT IMPARTIAL

Even Officers at Bakersfield Check Over Personal Belongings When Man is Jailed

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 7.—City and county officials are breathing a sigh of relief following the incarceration of Paul E. Pelky, asserted fast-working auto thief, forger and bad-check artist.

Members of the police department have checked up on their watches, pen knives and small change, and are assured that Pelky didn't "touch" them on his rapid flight jailward.

DIDN'T STEAL JAIL

The deputies in the Sheriff's office were equally gratified to find that they still had sufficient clothing for public appearance, while Head Jailer Jack Shomate has reported to Sheriff Walser that none of the cages are missing in the County Jail, where Pelky is awaiting further investigation.

As Pelky left Los Angeles in a stolen Southern California Edison Company automobile, he picked up a strange passenger, but when he arrived in Mojave his guest declined to continue the journey northward. Shortly after Pelky's arrival in Bakersfield, the Mojave man discovered he was minus a suit case and its contents.

EXPERT FORGER

Tellers at the local bank where Pelky conducted sundry operations, avow that the notorious, "Jim the Penman" had nothing on Pelky as a duplicator of signatures, as three checks approximating $300 to which Pelky forged the name of C. J. Routzong would deceive any handwriting expert.

Pelky's confession to the effect that he recently finished serving two years in the Patton Insane Asylum is now being checked.

Escape from Death Considered Miraculous When Car Rolls Over on Road to Tijuana

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 7.—Two men were injured early this morning when their big touring car turned turtle on the Tijuana highway just south of Chula Vista and rolled over several times. R. C. Weistphal, driver—and owner of the machine, who gave his address as 1341½ Wright street, Los Angeles, is suffering from a broken back but is expected to live, according to word from St. Joseph's Hospital. TRAIN WHISTLING BANNED

Ontario Officials Protest Unnecessary Night Noises; Railmen Promise Co-operation

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ONTARIO, Sept. 7.—With the assurance this afternoon of officials of the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific companies that immediate steps would be taken to put a stop to unnecessary sounding of locomotive whistles within the city limits of Ontario, particularly at night, the cases against R. A. Fagan and H. S. Stephens, Southern Pacific engineers, and George W. Hagne and U. L. Wells, employed in like capacity by the Union Pacific, scheduled to appear today before Judge George R. Crane in the Police Court for violation of the city antiwhistling ordinance were continued indefinitely.

Announcement of the continuance was made following a conference between City Attorney E. H. Joliffe and the railroad officials numbering J. P. Carey, Union Pacific division superintendent, and Attorneys Harry B. Ellison and Kenneth Keeper of the same company and C. M. Murphy, assistant division superintendent of the Southern Pacific.

TO INSTALL SYSTEM

Mr. Murphy declared that if Southern Pacific engineers were whistling for signals in Ontario, they were doing so contrary to the orders of the company which several years ago installed an electric signaling device for the elimination of whistled signals.

Union Pacific officials announced that they would at once issue instructions to do away with whistling for signals, would take steps to install a similar system to that now in use on the Southern Pacific and would take further steps to do away with all unnecessary whistling.

ELECTRIC SIGNALS

When a city ordinance was adopted several years ago making it a misdemeanor to sound a locomotive whistle for signals within the Ontario city limits the Southern Pacific promptly installed the electric signaling system, but this is the first assurance on the part of the Union Pacific that they would comply with the law.

Trainmen on both lines are reported to have become so careless in the matter of whistling at night of late that the police have been swamped with complaints from hotel proprietors and residents generally.

GAMBLING ORGY ENDED BY RAIDS

Sheriff's Office Makes Haul in Mexican Quarter

Pay-Day Callers Nabbed and Lodged in Jail

Action Follows Complaint by Cement Plant

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 7. — Cash stakes, cards, three women, one alleged bootlegger, bootleg liquor, twenty assorted gamblers and one perfectly good Ford car were taken in a raid on the Mexican quarter at Crestmore last night by Undersheriff Clem Sweeters and Deputy Sheriffs George Swanson, Wesley Walrath, Paul Mapes and Sam Harbison. Yesterday was pay day and for the last several pay days gamblers, women and bootleggers, it is alleged, have been reaping bountiful harvests by plying their traffic among the hundreds of Mexican laborers there.

So it came about that the officials of the Riverside Portland cement plant determined to put an end to the orgies by turning over the situation to the Sheriff's office. And the sheriffs last night put such a quietus upon the lawless conduct of the many lawless characters who had gathered there that Crestmore is expected to remain quiet for months to come.

FLOURISHING TRADE

The alleged bootlegger gathered in was Florena Reyes. He had the hood of his Ford packed with hooch in pint bottles, the officers say, which he was handing out to the Mexican laborers as fast as he could make it $3 for each. But he still had quite a few of the bottles left when he was nabbed by the sheriffs, who confiscated his car as well as the booze.

After Reyes had been quietly slipped out of the crowd and headed toward the County Jail in charge of one of the deputies, the others made a raid on a poker game that was going on at full blast in one of the bunk houses. The Mexicans had spread a blanket on the floor and were playing with piles of money in front of them.

FREE-FOR-ALL GRAB

As the sheriffs burst open the locked doors, the Mexicans began to grab for the stacks of money and the cards before them, but so did the sheriffs. George Swanson seized $16.81, which was the largest amount secured by any one sheriff. He also got two decks of cards. Although the alleged gamblers were not put in jail, their numbers were obtained and they will be brought to trial later, as all of them have money on deposit with the cement company, which assures that they will be on hand when wanted.

Up to midnight, nearly twenty gamblers had been numbered. After paying their respects to the gamblers, the sheriffs next began to haul in the women who had come from Los Angeles and Pasadena on purpose to gather in Crestmore pay-day shekels. Maria Hernandez, Nellie Gonzales and Praxes Nanez were the three young women arrested and brought to jail.

BID LET ON NAVY BUILDING

Campbell Company Quotes Lowest Figures on Structure for Service Men at San Diego

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 7.—A contract for construction of the San Diego Army and Navy Y.M.C.A. Building on Broadway from India to Columbia street, probably will be awarded to the Campbell Building Company, which is announced the low bidder, according to the building committee. The Campbell bid is $557,500, which is said to be within $5000 of the appropriation. The bid must go to the international building committee of the Y.M.C.A. in New York, for consideration and award of contract.

Announcement that the building plans have practically reached construction stage coincides with a visit here by Rear-Admiral William F. Fullman, retired; who, when in command of the Pacific Fleet, used to come ashore and urge upon the citizenry the need and desirability of an army and navy Y. M. C. A. building. But it was not until after the World War that a way actually was found, the international committee offering a building fund provided San Diego furnished a site. It is planned to have excavations for the structure completed before the rainy season to avoid delays from flooded ground conditions.

LOWER SURTAX RATE APPROVED

Mellon to Ask Congress for Fifty Per Cent Cut

Investment Banker Tells Why Benefits Will Follow

Capital Again to Flow Into Commercial Channels

BY D. T. BABCOCK,
Resident Partner Blyth, Witter & Co.

It is reported that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is prepared to continue his fight for the reduction of the surtax rate in Congress when it convenes in December. He will ask that the present surtax of 50 per cent be cut to 25 per cent. His contention is that by thus lowering the rate the amount of money collected by the government will be increased.

It is not alone in additional revenue for the government that Secretary Mellon is interested. He asserts that by the reduction of the surtax the extraordinary measures to avoid the heavy levy which now are taken by those whom it hits will be lessened, and that money which now is invested in tax-exempt securities again will find its way into the channels of industry. This, he asserts, will be the cause of increased activity in all lines of business.

The contentions of Secretary Mellon not only are correct in theory, but they have been proven in practice. The slight reduction in the surtax made by Congress which applied to taxes for this year was marked by a noticeable increase in revenues by the government. In March, 1922, the government received $393,382,000. In March of this year, with the reduced rate in effect, revenues were $463,091,000. In June, 1922, income taxes totaled $295,527,000, while this year June payments totaled $367,186,000.

Part of this increase may be attributed to increased prosperity of the country, but it is conceded that the reduction in the rate of surtaxes was the biggest factor in the larger amount of taxes collected.

Perhaps the best illustration of the manner in which high surtaxes have contributed to the seclusion of wealth is the number of big incomes reported. In 1916, there were 1206 persons who reported taxable incomes of more than $300,000 each. In 1920, this number had shrunk to 395. Yet, during the intervening years, the country was prosperous.

The only reasonable explanation for the decrease in number of persons reporting high incomes is that they have withdrawn their wealth from industrial enterprises where they are subject to high surtaxes and converted their capital into tax-exempt securities.

Productive enterprises usually are accompanied by an element of risk. In compensation for this risk the rate of return must be higher to attract capital. If, however, surtaxes are such that the extra profit from enterprises of more or less hazard must be paid to the government, then capital will refuse to take these changes and seek security and equal compensation in tax-exempt securities.

In the last few years this has resulted in an insistent demand for municipal securities. This demand was followed by an unprecedented emission of bonds by practically every city in the United States. There was a ready market for these securities at a low rate of interest, which encouraged many municipalities to enter upon an era of extravagance rarely if ever equaled.

Latterly this demand has lessened. The presumption is that the large fortunes of the nation have a surfeit of tax-exempt securities. This has caused demand for a higher rate on municipal borrowings, and some of the cities have found difficulty in disposing of their securities.

If the suggestions of Secretary Mellon not only are accepted by Congress it will mean that the immense amounts of capital which gradually have been withdrawn from industry again will flow into the channels of commerce, which will tend to stabilize the present industrial activity of the country.

COTTON SOARS AGAIN TO NEW HIGH LEADS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Further new high records were scored in active trading in the cotton market today. Less favorable crop reports from the East caused a continuance of buying by the trade, Liverpool spot houses and speculators. The start was irregular, 10 points lower to 4 points higher. However, as cables at Liverpool improved and no heavy pressure was evident the market resumed its advance of the previous day and touched new high levels for the season in the first hour of trading. Increased profit-taking and some hedge selling developed about noon, but offerings were readily absorbed on the reaction and in the early afternoon the upward trend was resumed. The peak was reached just before the beginning of the last hour.

Spot was steady, 45 points advance, 27.80 for middling uplands.

Southern markets: Galveston, 26.30, 30 points advance; New Orleans, 26.00, 50 points advance; Savannah, 26.65, 50 points advance; Augusta, 26.50, 50 points advance; Houston, 26.35, 35 points advance; Little Rock, 25.75; 25 points advance.

INHERITANCE TAXATION

History of a Movement Which Has Become a Permanent Institution in Nearly Every Civilized Country; What It Is and How It Works

[This is the sixth article of a series upon the subject of "Estate and Inheritance Taxation," by James P. Mackel, manager legal department, Lowin & Baker, Inc.—Editor.]

The various kinds of transfers of property subject to the inheritance tax in Calofrnia come under three heads; viz: Transfers of property under the terms of a will; transfers of property under the laws of succession, i.e. where no will is left; transfers of property defined by the law to be taxable because they are final dispositions of property of a testamentary character.

Before going into an explanation of the various kinds of transfers, attention should be directed to the fact that the property of a resident of California that may be the subject of a taxable transfer under the law includes all property, real, personal or mixed, or any interest therein or income therefrom, except real estate situated outside of the State. The transfer of real estate situated outside of this State could not be effected through any action of the State nor aided by any of its laws, and such transfer, therefore, could not be taxed under the State inheritance tax laws. The act in its relation to personal property, however, says in theory that such property attends the person of its owner, and, therefore, regardless of its situs, its transfer is effected by the laws of the state in which its owner resides. The transfer of property of a nonresident owner is subject to inheritance tax under the California law where it is situated within the State and the transfer is of a taxable character as defined in the law or where the transfer is aided or effected by or under the law of the State.

In consideration of the kinds of transfers of property designated by the law to be taxable, the transfers referred to in the first paragraph above, as being accomplished through probate proceedings had under a will or through probate proceedings to transfer property under the law of succession are clearly taxable where the value of the property is sufficient to exceed the amount of the exemption allowed to its recipient. As for the other modes of transfer, some warrant explanation and some, due to their rare occurrence, warrant only mention.

GIFTS TAXABLE

Of these forms of transfers, the transfer made by person during lifetime by gift, deed, sale or assignment without valuable or adequate consideration, either in contemplation of death of the grantor or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after death, have caused the most trouble and misunderstanding. The purpose of the law regarding such transfers is to tax certain gifts of property made between persons during lifetime and to tax transfers made by giving deed of property to another not to be recorded until after death. Such forms of transfers very often will avoid probate proceedings but do not operate to avoid inheritance tax liability.

The law does not purpose to tax gifts of property made between living persons where the gifts are out-and-out gifts and where the mind of the giver at the time of making the gift is not actuated by a fear of impending death or where the mind of the giver is not influenced by the thoughts or desires held by one at the time of making a will. Transfers by gift are looked upon with suspicion by the inheritance tax attorney and the facts and circumstances surrounding the making of the gift including the age and health of the giver are all considered in determining the right of the State to collect a tax.

The transfer by operation of law to surviving joint tenants of property held in joint tenancy is taxable where the value of the property of the deceased tenant received by the survivor is sufficient to warrant tax under the law.

The other modes of transfer referred to are of rare occurrence and are somewhat technical in character. They include transfers by power of appointment, transfers to executors in excess of reasonable compensation, transfers under operation of homestead laws and transfers made subject to charge determined by death.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Transactions in oil, industrial and public utility bonds reached such proportions yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange that speculative and investment was almost entirely diverted from the mining and oil stocks.

Gains in the leading bond issues ranged from ⅛ to ½ point. Amalgamated Sugar 7s of 1937 at 99¼ were up ¼ of a point, and California-Hawaiian 7s of 1937 advanced the same fraction to 105. Miller & Lux 7s of 1930 climbed ⅛ to 102¾.

Petroleum liens were actively dealt in. General Petroleum 6s of 1928 sold up ¼ to 95⅛ and Union Oil of California 6s of 1926 were taken at 99½, off ⅛. San Joaquin Light and Power series C 5s of 1950 sold at 98½, up ⅜. An advance of 9-32 of a point were scored in Liberty fourth 4¼s.

In the oil list, General Petroleum common was ahead ¼ of a point at 31, Globe Petroleum dropped ½ cent at 51½, after beginning the day at 53. United States Royalties recovered 3 cents to 55. Republic Petroleum at 9 cents gained 2.

Closing at 1.60, United Eastern advanced 5 cents. Sales were made in United American at 6 cents and in Yellow Dog at 32.

Following are the closing quotations and sales:

BUSINESS NEWS OF BUSY MARTS

Southern California a Heavy Glassware Consumer

Great Opportunity for Coast Manufacturers

Decline in Francs; Making Roads; Manager Honored

Consumers in Southern California use on the average a total of 290,000 gross, or 580 carloads, of glassware each year to bottle or pack jelly, cosmetics, catsup, salad dressings, meat sauces, soda water and milk. The demand for the glass products comes largely from the industries located here that require glass containers to market their wares.

Eastern manufacturers, the research department of the First National Bank and Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank has learned, supply approximately 80 per cent of the glass containers sold in Southern California. The heavy traffic in soda water and milk has stimulated the growth of glass manufacturories in and near this city who make glassware especially for these industries.

Very little competition has been met by the latter group of glass manufacturers, despite active representation of eastern firms on the coast, and their domination in other lines. The Pacific Coast manufacturers have several sources of sand supply available, and are also able to land glass sand from China at Pacific Coast ports at profitable prices.

The selling area for Los Angeles factories extends as far north as Fresno. The northern part of the State and Washington and Oregon are exploited by San Francisco manufacturers.

DECLINE IN FRANCS

A private dispatch to a Los Angeles foreign exchange wholesale dealer yesterday explains the recent decline of the French franc on the basis of the last Bank of France statement, which showed what was construed to be an extremely unfavorable condition. A circulation of 37,998,700,000 francs was the highest shown in any week since June 10, 1921, when the figures stood at 38,375,300,000 francs. This compares with the record high of 39,645,800,000 francs on November 9, 1920.

Advances to the State, as shown in the bank statement, increased 500,000,000 during the week to 23,900,000,000 francs, which total has, however, been equalled several times in recent months. These increases are accounted for by the extraordinary requirements at the end of the month, and to price increases which have followed the decline in franc exchange.

At Thursday morning's low of $.0552 1-2, francs were only $.0008 1-2 above the record low of $.0543 1-2 touched about three weeks ago. Opinion among traders, according to the New York dispatch, as to whether further now lows will be recorded in the coming few weeks seems to be largely in the affirmative.

In September and early October franc grain bills usually appear on the market in fairly large amounts and although French imports of wheat and corn are expected to be smaller than usual this year, it is probable that the market trend will continue lower, unless there is sufficient change in the continental political situation to bring about speculative purchases of francs.

MAKING ROADS

The Gilmore Oil Company has notified the organizers of the program of the twenty-fifth annual convention of the League of California Municipalities that it will participate in the road-material section of the exhibition to be made at Coronado, from the 10th to 14th inst., inclusive, in conjunction with the convention. The Gilmore exhibit will include one of the company's special trucks and other equipment for distributing and heating road oil.

NEW BOOKLET

Hunter, Dulin & Co., is preparing a booklet on the industrial development of Los Angeles, which will be distributed to interested individuals. The survey includes studies of population, wealth, banking resources, labor, markets, harbor facilities, raw materials and other important economic factors.

MANAGER HONORED

L. L. Broodeen, manager of the cigar department of Haas, Baruch & Co., was the guest of honor last night at a banquet given by salesmen and associates of his company at a downtown cafe. Mr. Broodeen left afterward on a business trip through the Eastern States.

PERSONAL MENTION

Robert M. Marks, formerly manager of the Main and Commercial branch of the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank, has become associated with Metzler & Co. of California, the new bond house recently organized by Metzler & Co., Inc., of New York. Mr. Marks will serve in the capacity of assistant treasurer.

HEAT HURRIES BEAN AND NUT HARVEST

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VENTURA, Sept. 7.—The hot weather is hastening both bean and walnut harvesting. The beans are almost all cut and drying out rapidly ready for threshing. Almost all the walnut orchardists have a few workers employed as the nuts have begun to fall. By the first of the week if the heat continues full forces will be at work.

SCHOOL CONTRACT LET

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLENDALE, Sept. 7.—The contract for the new heating plant for the Columbus-avenue school has been let to the Hammel Radiator Corporation of Los Angeles, for $1448.50. Fresh bids will be asked for the heating system of the Cerritos-avenue school, as the legal specifications were not mentioned in the advertisements.

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

Two wells yesterday added somewhat to the production total of the Signal Hill field. Both wells, from the standpoint of their owners, are said to be disappointments. They are the Union Oil Company Community No. 6, which started flowing after two days of swabbing and in making only a few hundred barrels per day, and the Henderson Petroleum Company's Dodge No. 2, which started production on the pump yielding 115 barrels in ten hours.

The Union Community shows good pressure on the casing and the well is said to be cleaning up. Because of its location and depth No. 6, is expected to become a fair producer, operators say. It is located in the twenty-acre lease north of Creston avenue and west of Cherry street.

The Dodge No. 2 on Willow, near Cherry avenue, refused to flow when swabbed recently and was placed on the pump. Gravity of the oil is said to be twenty-three degrees.

Progress Near Anaheim

After successfully completing a fishing job, drillers on the Standard Oil Company's test well on the William Wagner ranch, two miles southeast of Anaheim, were yesterday operating near the 500-foot level, in a stratum of conglomerate. Shortly after noon the huge bit was twisted off when it struck a boulder. The bit was picked up at 475 feet and drilling was resumed. A total of 4500 acres in the Anaheim field has been leased by the Standard, Union, Shell, General Petroleum and other companies.

Top Notch to Set Casing

According to an announcement made yesterday the Top Notch Oil Syndicate well at Santa Fe Springs is 4433 feet deep, with excellent gas and oil showings. Ernest A. Charlton, president and general manager of the syndicate, states that the drillers are now ready to set the eight and one-half and six and one-fourth inch casing and pupt in the oil string, and the well is expected to make a production test within twenty days.

Owing to a slight mix-up in the names of two different wells, it was stated in these columns recently that the Top Notch well was a half-mile from the Luneta Oil Company's well, and that the Top Notch was temporarily idle because of machinery trouble. As a matter of fact, the Top Notch, according to President Charlton, has experienced no mechanical trouble, and has not been idle. On the contrary, it is moving right along and its exact distance from the Luneta, Mr. Charlton asserts, is 338 feet.

Reports yesterday were to the effect that the Luneta Oil Company had its well 417 feet in a formation of oil sands and oil lesions, and that it may be able to make a production test within ten days. In the opinion

BOND QUOTATIONS

E. F. Hutton Absorbed

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Indications that large sums of money are still available for investment were given by local bankers today in the quick absorption of the $20,000,000 new Pacific long-term issue of 5 per cent bonds following the over-subscription of the $40,000 Argentine short-term issue today.

Liberty bonds on the New York Stock Exchange showed mixed changes, mostly unimportant. Sterling is closed more than a cent higher after touching a new low of 4.51, or 18 points below the parity price. Serbian 8s also advanced a point. United States Treasury bonds held steady, with the stock prices. Fluctuations in the industrial and public-utility groups were narrow and irregular.

Dealers in the domestic market today reported practically all deliveries and purchases of straits- and similar settlements closed at 42 versus a close in London cables the list as shipments closed at 41 cents per pound. London cables the spot as up 15s to £201 for standard; £202 15s for futures. £205 for straits.

NEW YORK CURB

Pressure on Oils

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Further cuts in midcontinent crude prices impartial a reactionary tone to today's curb market. There was a large accumulation of overnight selling orders in the oil shares with no rallying tendency in evidence until late in the afternoon when a few issues, notably Standard Oils of Indiana and Vacuum, succeeded in cancelling their losses and moving to slightly higher ground.

Losses of a point or more were established by Eureka Pipe, Galena Signal Oil, Illinois Pipe, Indiana Pipe, Salt Creek Producers and several other pipe line shares, but the volume of business was small in nearly every case.

There were several strong spots in the industrial group, notably Gillette Safety Razor, which advanced 3 points; Glen Alden Coal, which moved up 1¾ in preparation of a settlement of the anthracite dispute and favorable dividend action, and Armour, up 1¾.

Short-term notes of the Argentine government and the 7 per cent long-term bonds of the United Pacific Railroad, offered today, were subsidized to trading but there were no transactions.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Following are the closing quotations and sales on the New York Curb Market. Furnished by Logan & Bryan, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 623 South Spring street.

METAL MARKETS

Daily Review

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CLEVELAND, Sept. 7.—Daily Metal Trade today says: "Sharp reduction in output of Connellsville coke follows closing down of over 2000 ovens by furnace interests, while quotations grow firmer. Important independent sheet and tinplate makers open books for fourth-quarter business at unchanged prices, and thus follow example of American Sheet and Tinplate Company yesterday. Pittsburg pig iron market continues to gain in activity, as does Cincinnati, but Birmingham trade is not greatly stimulated by price cut yet. Copper is 13¾c at New York, 7th street, down ¼c to 12¾c. Zinc is strong on foreign inquiry at 6.60 and lead is active at 6.70 St. Louis."

SOUND EXPRESSION IN TRADE AND FINANCE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

"Evidences of expanding business multiply with the advancing season. Gains are not uniform and few signs of increase appear in some quarters, but the main tendency is in the right direction. Preparations to meet the fall requirements are becoming more general and there has been a check of the restriction of outputs in some industries, with more firmness in prices developing. While the anthracite coal strike has caused some unemployment, and the Japanese disaster has affected certain domestic markets, the trend toward enlarging operations has continued and there is expectation of further progress now that the vacation period is practically ended. Curtailment of industrial and mercantile activities during the summer was less noticeable than usual in different lines, and current statistics of car loadings, which surpass all previous records, show that distribution of goods is maintained in exceptionally heavy volume.

"Weekly bank clearings, $3,385,899,000."

BEATEN WIFE WINS DECREE

A story of constant beatings at the hands of her husband, told in Judge Crail's division of the Superior Court yesterday by Mrs. Sadie Thomas, won a divorce from Hugh B. Thomas. She declared that she was frequently knocked down, struck and kicked by her husband.

KILAUEA'S CRATER IS SLIPPING

New Opening is Reported Nine Miles Distant From Old Lava Outlet

Kilauea, famed volcano on the southeast end of Hawaii Island, is changing craters. The lava flow has found a new opening about nine miles away from the old crater, according to a letter received by Mrs. Bernice H. Johnson, 4323 North Griffin avenue, from Mrs. Florence Lillie, wife of a plantation overseer.

Mrs. Johnson, who recently returned from Hawaii, said that several natives were near the mouth of the old crater, playing music in an endeavor to enchant the volcano and prevent temblors.

"The belief prevails among the natives that whenever the lava sinks in the crater an earthquake is to come," Mrs. Johnson said. "The lava, it seems, has been sinking gradually for a number of days."

According to the letter received from Mrs. Lillie, the new mouth of the crater is about 700 feet lower than the former one. The old mouth is continuing to steam. The Kilauea volcano had long been active, although no violent eruptions have been reported for years. Its most violent eruption was recorded in 1789.

Crime Crushers Make Fifty-two Arrests in Day

Chief Vollmer's invisible division, the Crime Crushers, continued its battle against criminals and undesirables Thursday with marked success, according to a report issued yesterday.

The Crime Crushers scored fifty-two arrests during the day and are reported to have made their presence felt in quarters least expected.

They arrested three men for asserted violation of the Wright Act, twenty-six on charges of vagrancy, six for disturbing the peace, thirteen for intoxication, one for carrying concealed weapons, one for evading fare and two for investigation by the detective bureau.

WIFE DIVORCES HER "NIGHT HAWK" MATE

John A. Dutra firmly believed in the superiority of men over women, his wife Christine testified yesterday in Judge Summerfield's division of the Superior Court. This belief he carried into practice during the greater part of the eleven years of the marriage, she said. He would stay away all night, she said, and when she asked him where he had been, his answer was to tell her to mind her own business and care for the home and the children. She was granted a divorce.

FORGER ASKS PROBATION

A plea for probation was made before Judge Keetch yesterday by Mrs. Mary Brown, the English girl who pleaded guilty to forging a small check in order to support her baby. Other similar charges against her were dropped by consent of Dep. Dist.-Atty. McCartney, and the probation hearing was set for the 21st inst.

Noticias de Washington

WASHINGTON, septiembre 7.—Todos los recursos de los Estados Unidos han sido puestos por el Presidente Coolidge a la disposición del gobierno japonés, estando los trabajos de socorro dirigidos y coordinados por la Cruz Roja. Estímase en $20,000,000 la suma que habrá de necesitarse durante los dos próximos meses. Ya se han recaudado y gastado más de $2,000,000.

Dice el Ministro de Comercio, Hoover, que se han exagerado las cifras relativas a las pérdidas mercantiles en el desastre japonés.

El Senador Willis, republicano de Ohio, ha postulado al Presidente Coolidge para 1924, después de haber hablado con el alto funcionario en la Casa Blanca.

Está vacilando el Presidente sobre si hará o nó recomendaciones al Congreso en lo tocante a la oferta que hace Ford por Muscle Shoals.

El Viaje del "Pony Express"

WINNEMUCCA (Nevada) septiembre 7.—El expreso de ponies salió de Wendover, Nevada, de las 4:30 de la mañana de hoy. Según itinerario, debe llegar a Battle Mountain a las 10 a.m., y a Winnemucca, a la 1:30 p.m. A las poblaciones del camino se les informa de que ya se aproxima el jinete, silbando con sirenas de incendio.

"Shorty" Hopkins y Al Holt, duros vaqueros de Nevada, manejarán el expreso entre Battle Mountain y Lovelock, que están a una distancia de 133 millas. Tienen para hacer el trayecto un tiro de ponies vaqueros escogidos. La mula de carrera de W. H. Cooper va a hacer la primera jornada a partir de Winnemucca.

NOTAS LOCALES

Pareja que se Casa en el Aire

Fiel a sus instintos de volátil, Earl S. Daugherty, instructor de aviadores en Long Beach, se llevó a su novia, la Srita. Catherine Hall, hasta un punto del espacio que queda como una milla por encima de la cumbre de Signal Hill, y allí, sostenidos por las alas del rápido "Blue Bird" (Pájaro Azul), y en presencia de sus respectivas madres, la Sra. C. J. Daugherty y la Sra. Margaret Hall, fueron declarados marido y mujer por el Dr. Henry Kendall Booth, pastor de la Iglesia Congregacionista.

Pilotaba el novio el avión nupcial, que iba escoltado por otros tres. Estos bajaron, después de haber tomado instantáneas de la pareja, cuando los dos novios cambiaban votos de amor eterno.

Se Cree que es un Fugitivo de la Justicia el Aprehendido en la Casa de Correos

Anoche fué detenido en la Administración de Correos un individuo que dió su nombre de dos maneras, A. E. Woods, y A. E. Adams; pero que la policía cree sea el Dr. Percival Allen, médico osteópata que anda fugitivo de la justicia. Creen las autoridades que con la aprehensión de anoche han descubierto todos los elementos de la historia de un Barba Azul moderno, complicado por lo menos en un misterioso asesinato, que ofrece sensacionales desarrollos.

DEPORTES

Tennis

Harold Godshall, que comparte con Bill Johnson la distinción de haber derrotado a Howard Kinsey en esta temporada, derrotó ayer, en el juego de los campeonatos anuales de tennis de Los Angeles, a Dick Hinckley, as de la Universidad de Stanford, en series seguidas, por 6-3, 7-5.

El jugador de aquí estaba pegándole a la bola duro y con exactitud. Hinckley estuvo jugando el mejor tennis que se le ha visto en este año, y en un tris estuvo que se ganara la segunda serie. La historia de Godshall ha hecho a un lado el principal estorbo que este jugador tenía, y lo pone en aptitud de luchar con Ralph Sindorf en la semifinal inferior.

Baseball

San Francisco derrotó ayer a Vernon por 5 a 4 en el parque Washington. Se jugaba el tercer partido de la serie, en la que lleva ahora San Francisco la delantera por dos juegos a uno. En Oakland fué derrotado ayer Los Angeles por Oakland, con anotación de 3 a 1.

Pugilato

NUEVA YORK, septiembre 7.—El Magistrado de la Suprema Corte, Hagarty, aplazó hoy el fallo en el juicio promovido por Harry Wills, retador negro de gran peso, que pedía un decreto inhibitorio que suspendiese la pelea Dempsey-Firpo que va a desarrollarse el 14 del actual en el campo de Polo de Nueva York.

Wills, en su escrito, alegaba ante la Corte que él había depositado hace casi dos años su reto con la Comisión de Boxeo de Nueva York, y pretendía que Dempsey, al combatir con Firpo, está esquivando su desafío (de Wills.) Parece que Wills realmente tiene derecho para pedir la suspensión del match, pues su reto y el depósito de rigor fueron hechos mucho antes de que Luis Angel Firpo hiciera su aparición en este país.

NUMERO 43

Pláticas Diarias en Español por el Prof. R. Guerrero, del Departamento Español de "The Times"

"El del soliloquio" es el que habla consigo mismo (no digáis "con si mismo", sino "consigo mismo"). "Soliloquio" o "monólogo" es aquel discurso en el que, estando sola la persona que habla, manifiesta lo que piensa o siente, como Hamlet cuando, en el famoso soliloquio del tercer acto del inmortal drama shakespeariano, pesa los más y los menos del ser y el no ser (To be or not to be).

Dice nuestro hombre (me refiero al madrileño y no al Príncipe danés) que él, por galantería, tal vez hubiera dejado su asiento a la señora de las "grandes voces"; pero que le indignan los ataques (hold-ups). La "galantería" es la cualidad que nos hace ser atentos y obsequiosos, particularmente con las damas. También es "galantería", el requiebro o piropo con que se lisonjea a una mujer, alabando sus atractivos. Decimos que un joven es "galante", cuando es urbano y cortés y también cuando gusta de requebrar a las mujeres. Pero no digáis nunca a una señora o señorita lo que aquel galán que, cuando su pareja le dijo: "halla usted muy bien, caballero", él contestó: "es usted muy galante, señorita", ignorando quizá que "mujer galante" es la que gusta mucho de galanteos, y hasta se aplica, tal vez por imitación del francés (femme galante), a la de costumbres licenciosas.

En todas partes acostumbran los caballeros bien educados que viajan en tranvía, ceder (give up) su asiento a las señoras que van de pie, y, en general, a personas ancianas de cualquier sexo que sean. Es positivamente desagradable ver en el tranvía a un atlético jayansote cómodamente repantigado enfrente de una señora de edad, y a veces cargada de envoltorios, que hace equilibrios asida de la correa.

Cuando un hombre bien educado se levanta (se pone en pie) para ceder su asiento a una señora (dama), debe decirle (decirla), quitándose o tocándose el sombrero: "Hágame usted el favor de tomar mi asiento, señora (o señorita)", y, una obsequiada contestará: "Mil gracias, señor (caballero), es usted muy amable." Si un viajero viere que puede hacérsele sitio (make room for) a otro viajero o viajera sin que nadie se ponga en pie, dirá a sus compañeros de viaje: "Me hacen ustedes el favor de correrse (move over) a su derecha (a su izquierda) para que se siente este señor (esta señora)?"

Pero el del soliloquio de marras, que debe de ser un regalón de marca mayor, se contenta con hallarle a la señora de los gritos hechuras de atracadora, y permanece plácidamente sentado.

Entre los viajeros hay un descontento que se enfada (y a fe que con razón!) porque el conductor o motorista hace arrancar bruscamente el tranvía (to start with a jolt), tratando a los viajeros como si fueran borregos y no personas. Hay, en efecto, conductores desculdados, o inexpertos, que paran o echan a andar el vehículo de un modo violento, perjudicándoles a los viajeros sacudidas muy desagradables.

La que inspira interés y "su miajita" de lástima es la señora del paquetito, contra el que da su compañero de al lado al zangolotino en el vagón. "Si yo comiera su postre (dessert) en algún pastel o tortada (cake or pie) artísticamente aderezado por el pastelero, y que, ya chafado, no lucirá en la mesa lo que debiera. Es casi seguro que una hispanoamericana no habría dicho "está usted chafando (crushing) mi postre, sino "está usted aplastando mi postre, o mi pastel."

KEYES WINS IDA JONES WRIT CASE

Mandamus Action Seeking to Force Salary Payment Denied by Court

The petition of Ida Wright Jones for a writ of mandamus against Asa Keyes, District Attorney of Los Angeles county, was denied without prejudice in a decision of the Second District Court of Appeal, Division 1, yesterday. Presiding Justice Conrey wrote the opinion and Justice Curtis concurred. Justice Houser was absent.

Petition for writ of mandamus was in connection with the petitioner's occupation as county juvenile investigator and her fight for the use and enjoyment of her right to perform the duties of that office and to have her name certified by the District Attorney to the Civil Service Commission of Los Angeles county for the payment of salary.

In January, 1923, Ida Wright Jones commenced action in the Superior Court. An alternative writ of mandamus was issued then and upon the hearing thereof a non-suit granted by the court, the petitioner stating that the action was never tried nor determined on its merits.

The District Court of Appeal ruled that the facts stated do not furnish a sufficient reason to excuse the petitioner from applying to the Superior Court for a writ.

A. J. Bledsoe is attorney for the petitioner. District Attorney Keyes is conducting his own case.

HER OWN DETECTIVE IN CAUSING ARREST

A young woman who acted as her own private detective yesterday caused the arrest of E. L. Brown, a taxicab driver, on a charge of burglary. Last Wednesday Miss M. K. Smith called for a taxi to come to her home at 6621 Padre Court. When it did not arrive, she took a street car. On her return she found a fur, a camera and some money missing. She notified Detectives White and Adams, who arrested Brown. The detectives said they recovered the stolen articles in his rooms.

STORY OF MAN WINS PROBATION IN COURT

Describing the case as one of the saddest he had seen, Judge Keetch yesterday granted probation to Harry V. Minkler, jointly accused with Jerry Groshaw of stealing $40 from the hat sore of William Siegel at 326 South Hill street. Minkler said that he recently came to California looking for work to support his wife, who suffered from cancer, and four small children. He got one job after another, he said, but was unable to keep them. His story was substantiated by the probation officer.

POINTED QUERIES TO POWER BUREAU

Mayor of San Fernando and Chairman of Water Committee of Associated Chambers of Commerce of Valley Demands to Know Truth of Over Sixty Charges of Mismanagement Against Public Service Board

A bombshell in the form of sixty-eight pointed questions, covering the many charges of incompetence, mismanagement, waste of public funds and politics-playing made against the Municipal Power Bureau, was exploded under the Board of Public Service Commissioners yesterday by F. D. Parker, Mayor of San Fernando and chairman of the committee recently appointed by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando Valley to investigate the curtailment of irrigation water in the valley. Mr. Parker is a resident of San Fernando, but a large owner of citrus-growing land in the city of Los Angeles, a heavy city taxpayer and one of the largest users of city water in the valley. He is regarded as one of the leading citizens of the valley. With this letter he also sent communications to the City Council, the Mayor and the City Auditor urging that the last-named official's investigation of the Board of Public Service departments, which include the Power Bureau, shall be complete and thorough. The Council recently instructed the City Auditor to make this investigation.

Mr. Parker's letter to the Board of Public Service Commissioners follows:

SAN FERNANDO (Cal.) Sept. 5, 1923.

To the Honorable Board of Public Service Commissioners.
R. F. Del Valle, President.
John R. Haynes,
C. A. Dykstra,
James B. Baker,
J. A. Burton, Commissioners.
207 South Broadway,
Los Angeles, Cal.

Gentlemen: Because of certain serious charges which have appeared in the public press directed against the conduct of your department of the city government and because of the fact that an official inquiry has been ordered by the Council into the financial condition of that department, I, as a taxpayer and farmer whose livelihood has been jeopardised by the water shortage in the San Fernando Valley, submit to your honorable board the following list of questions calculated to inform the public as to the truth of these charges. It has been stated that your board courts the fullest investigation into the water situation and into its relation to the power department, and public answers thereto would prove enlightening:

(1.) Is it a fact that your board has, in the past, resisted in the courts any attempts on the part of the taxpayers to secure access to and information from the public service department books and records? If this is a fact, why was such resistance made?

(2.) Is it a fact that members of the Public Service Commission and its employees sponsored and sought to bring about a secret, unadvertised sale at a discount to a syndicate headed by Irving H. Hellman of $13,500,000 in power bonds authorized in 1919, that the commission agreed to accept $11,965,000 for these bonds and in fact a fact that members of the commission and its special counsel, W. B. Mathews, appeared before the members of the finance committee of the Council in private conference and urged that the Council sell the bonds to that syndicate at this discount of $1,535,000?

(3.) Is it a fact that when a taxpayer's suit opposing this sale as illegal was tried, W. B. Mathews, special counsel of the commission appeared before Judge J. Perry Wood and defended the sale at a discount?

(4.) Is it a fact that the Supreme Court of California set aside this sale as illegal and ordered the bonds sold at public sale under open competitive bidding as required by law, and that the bonds when thus sold brought, not a discount, but par and a premium of $450,495, or a saving to the taxpayers of $1,985,495 over the Hellman offer?

(5.) Is it a fact that the Board of Public Service Commissioners applied to the City Council for and secured this $450,495 premium and has already spent part of it? If so, exactly how much has been spent and exactly, item by item, for what purposes?

(6.) Is it a fact that the Bureau of Power and Light for a period of six months or more last fall and winter caused to be diverted from the aqueduct a continuous flow of approximately 10,000 miners' inches of water in order to operate the the municipal power plants and that this water subsequently flowed into the sea through Santa Clara and Los Angeles Rivers and was thereby prevented from being stored in the aqueduct reservoirs, either above or below the power plants?

(7.) Is it a fact that, as a result of this loss of water, it has been necessary to curtail the supply of water available for irrigation in the San Fernando Valley to the serious detriment of crops dependent upon such irrigation?

(8.) Is it a fact that a further result of this shortage of water the city of Los Angeles has been obliged to discontinue for the time being its policy of encouraging the annexation of adjacent territory, upon which annexation is contingent the use by residents in such territory of aqueduct water?

(9.) Is it a fact that, if the waste water had been used for irrigation, it would have brought a larger return than it did running it through the power-house?

(10.) Is it a fact that the responsible executives of your board were advised of the probable results of such diversion of water during the winter months and that these protests were ignored?

(11.) Is it a fact that, had it not been for the requirements of the municipal power plants, additional large reservoirs would have been constructed on the line of the aqueduct which would have greatly added to the storage facilities for aqueduct water?

(12.) Is it a fact that the primary purpose of the aqueduct enterprise was to supply water to Los Angeles with power development as an incidental undertaking? Is it a fact that the power enterprise has been made by your board the most important phase of its activities and the supply of water an incidental thereto?

(13.) Is it a fact that, due to the demands of the power program, your board has delayed securing necessary water rights in the Owens River Valley until these rights will cost the city three or four times what they would have cost three years ago?

(14.) Is it a fact that the taxpayers have paid to date from increased taxation a total of $6,467,436.25 to pay interest and sinking fund charges on power bonds after it had been promised during the 1910, 1914 and 1919 bond campaigns that these charges would be paid from power revenue?

(15.) Is it a fact that when the first power bond issue of $3,500,000 was asked in 1910 the Board of Public Service Commissioners was quoted in the Los Angeles Record of April 16, 1910, as saying that if the bonds were voted "this great project will be completed without the expenditure of another cent other than that voted for the work by the bond issue?"

(16.) Is it a fact that when the power bond issue of $6,500,000 was asked for in 1914, Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood was quoted in the Los Angeles Record of April 29, 1914, as declaring that bond issue to be sufficient to place the power enterprise "upon a paying basis?"

(17.) Is it a fact that the work was not completed with the money voted in 1910, that a second bond issue of $6,500,000 was asked for and received in 1914, and a third bond issue of $13,500,000 asked for and received in 1919, and a fourth bond issue of $35,000,000 asked for but not received in 1923?

(18.) Is it a fact that when the $13,500,000 power bond issue was asked for in 1919 the citizens' power bond committee was quoted in a statement published in the Los Angeles Record of June 3, 1919, as declaring that if this bond issue was voted the power project could be completed "without a cent of additional taxation"?

(19.) Is it a fact that while the negotiations were proceeding for the purchase by the city for $11,000,000 of the Los Angeles distributing system of the Southern California Edison Company that company continued to operate the distributing system, pay taxes, make necessary repairs and pay interest on bonds and dividends to stockholders?

(20.) Is it a fact that the Edison company suggested to Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood of the Bureau of Power and Light from time to time during the years of 1919 to 1922 that extensions and betterments be made by the company to the distributing lines to prepare for the increase in population and that Mr. Scattergood refused to carry out those suggestions, but took over from the Edison company when the purchase was consumated $749,367.94 as a depreciation fund to be used for extensions and betterments to the distributing system?

21. It is a fact that while the Board of Public Service Commissioners and its power bureau expended this money, it has just asked for and received from the Council a loan of $500,000 for tax funds for the betterment and repair of the distributing lines?

(22.) Is it a fact that if the power bureau kept its books in the same manner that private corporations are forced to keep their operating costs and charged interest, depreciation and taxes, that instead of the $2,362,000 profit claimed, the result would have been a loss? On what basis of figuring interest, depreciation and other normal items for conducting the business was the claimed profit arrived at?

(23.) The power bureau declares that it has made a profit of $2,362,000 during the last fiscal year. If so, where is the money? Was it spent together with the $749,367.94 turned over by the Edison company for betterments to the distributing lines, and the additional $500,000 asked for from the tax funds of the city to prevent the alleged overloaded distributing lines from "blowing up"?

(24.) Has the Board of Public Service Commissioners or its power bureau filed with the Council its annual report for the year ending June 30, 1923, as required by law? If not, why not?

(25.) Is it a fact that since May 15, 1922, the Board of Public Service Commissioners has received for the use of the Bureau of Power and Light $18,061,862.94, divided as follows: Proceeds of sale of 1919 power bonds including the premium of $450,495, making a total from this source of $13,950,495; $749,367.94 from the Southern California Edison Company as depreciation fund to be used in repairing and betterment of purchased distributing lines; $1,000,000 from belated sale of 1914 power bonds; $2,362,000 profit claimed to have been earned by Bureau of Power and Light from power enterprise during fiscal year ending June 30, 1923; total, $18,061,862.94. What has become of this money? The question to be answered item by item, and not by simply stating that money was expended for "extensions and betterments."

(26.) Is it a fact that the Bureau of Power and Light does not pay city, county and States taxes such as must be paid by private and competing companies generating and distributing power?

(27.) Now that depreciation has been recognized in principle why should it not be set up for each of the years the power bureau has operated, and if set up on the same basis that must be employed by private corporations, what would be the aggregate amount?

(28.) Is it a fact that expert certified public accountants employed by the board stated in their report covering the operations of the power bureau for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, that the provision of $135,009.30 made for the year for depreciation of the $25,000,000 power system "is altogether inadequate"?

(29.) Is it a fact that a common method used by individuals and companies desiring to make their stockholders and the public believe that their respective companies are being profitably operated, instead of the true fact that the companies are being operated at a loss, is to set aside inadequate depreciation funds?

(30.) Is it a fact that the Bureau of Power and Light has spent up to June 30, 1922, for the development of power in Owens River Gorge $774,630.32?

(31.) Is it a fact that no power has been developed at the gorge and that, in view of decisions by the Supreme Court of the United States which prevents the city from obtaining power in this district at the expense of other California communities, practically all of this money has been lost?

(32.) Was the City Council consulted and its permission obtained by the Board of Public Service Commissioners when it turned over to the Federal government, under contract dated February 16, 1922, $75,000 for "preliminary investigations" on the Colorado River?

(33.) Has the Board of Public Service Commissioners received from the Federal government a detailed report showing how this money was expended, so that the Board of Public Service Commissioners can be in a position to truthfully tell the taxpayers of Los Angeles that this $75,000 was expended for the actual benefit of the people of Los Angeles?

(34.) For what purposes, definitely, specifically, item by item, was $25,044.38 spent by the Board of Public Service Commissioners or its employees during the year ending June 30, 1922, listed as "other charges" in connection with Colorado River development?

(35.) Does this $25,044.38 include expenses of Special Counsel Mathews, Councilman Criswell, then President of the City Council, and others sent to Washington to lobby for the Swing-Johnson bill, and for a contract that would give Los Angeles a virtual monopoly of the power generated at Boulder Canyon?

(36.) Is it a fact the United States government officials declined to sign or approve of a contract giving Los Angeles this Boulder Canyon power monopoly at the expense of other communities in the Southwest?

(37.) Is it a fact that the Board of Public Service Commissioners did, by resolution adopted by the board on June 12, 1923, authorize the donation from power reveues to the Boulder Dam Association of monthly payments not to exceed $1500 each month for "publicity" until Congress reconvened?

(38.) Is it a fact that immediately after this resolution was adopted there was received at the City Hall a demand for a $1000 payment to the Boulder Dam Association, said demand, bill or claim being written on plain paper at the top of which appeared the name of the Boulder Dam Association, care of W. B. Mathews, 207 South Broadway, Los Angeles, and that no itemized statement appeared on the demand showing how this $1000 had been expended? And is it not a fact that the W. B. Mathews is an employee of the commission, i.e., special counsel at a salary of $12,000 a year?

(39.) Is it not a fact that the check for $1000 covering this demand was subsequently cashed at San Diego by Mayor John L. Bacon of San Diego, as president of the Boulder Dam Association, received at the Los Angeles City Hall and honored by the City Treasurer and the $1000 cash covering the same paid from the public funds of the city of Los Angeles, to-wit, from power revenue?

(40.) Have any other monthly payments to the Boulder Dam Association been made since the first payment of $1000 was made in June, in accordance with the Board's resolution agreeing to make monthly payments not to exceed $1500 a month was adopted by the board on June 12? If not, why?

(41.) What return have the people of Los Angeles received from the $53,181.87 purported to have been spent for investigation at Kings River?

(42.) Will the board state, item by item, for what purpose was spent from the power revenues or public funds $41,965.27 during the year ending June 30, 1922, listed in the records of the Bureau of Power and Light as "miscellaneous expenses"?

(43.) Will the board state that this total of $195,191.52 spent on "investigations" has brought any return to date to the people of Los Angeles?

(44.) Will the board agree that if this $195,191.52 had not been spent for "investigation" it could have been used for repairing, strenghtening and extending the existing distributing lines?

(45.) Is it a fact that individual members of the Board of Public Service Commissioners and its employees worked for and actively supported the $500,000,000 water and power act which was rejected by the voters of California?

(46.) Is it a fact that aqueduct water and service is being given free to the Bureau of Power and Light; and that in spite of the large amounts of water run through the plants during the winter when it should be stored for use in the summer months, no charge is paid by the power department for this service?

(47.) Is it a fact that if a private corporation uses the aqueduct water it would be forced to carry the depreciation and maintenance costs, as well as interest on the investment to the extent of not less than 50 per cent? And if this is a fact, what would be the amount that should be charged?

(48.) Is it a fact that the Bureau of Power and Light charges the city for all current used in lighting streets and parks and for other public uses, in spite of the fact that one of the promises made in order to secure votes for the several power bond issues was that such service to the city should be free?

(49.) Is it a fact that if private power plants were securing water and service from the aqueduct the companies owning these plants would be charged for all water passing through these plants?

(50.) Is it a fact that the absence of this charge by the water department against the power department is one of the factors that enables the power bureau to claim profitable operation?

(51.) Is it a fact that plants of the power bureau are not operating at all now from 11 o'clock at night until 7 o'clock in the morning and that these plants are running at only one-half and one-third capacity during the day?

(52.) Is it a fact that electrical energy is being sold by the Bureau of Power and Light at less than cost? If so, why?

(53.) Is it a fact that the purchases now being made by the Bureau of Power and Light of electrical energy from sources other than its own generating plants are contributing factors to a net loss in operation?

(54.) Exactly how much money was authorized by the Bureau of Power and Light to be expended for political purposes during the campaign for the $35,000,000 power bonds voted on in June?

(55.) How many city employees were detached from their regular duties to assist in this campaign? How much time did they spend in so doing? Did the city pay their regular salaries for the time so expended? How much in money did their salaries for that item amount to? How much city equipment, such as automobiles, etc., was used for this purpose and how much would it have cost if hired for this purpose?

(56.) Is it a fact that the $35,000,000 power bonds were the only proposed issue for whose passage any considerable sum was expended by any city department?

(57.) Is it a fact that the power bonds were the only ones on the ticket which were defeated, notwithstanding the fact that several other large issues were on the ballot?

(58.) Is it a fact that the Board of Public Service Commissioners

GREAT FORGING PLANT ASSURED

Consumers of Steel Products to Spend Million

Manufacturing Company to End Monopoly

Dependence on Eastern Mills to be Averted

One of the most important projects in Los Angeles' industrial history was announced late yesterday when it was stated that a $1,000,000 plant is to be constructed at Vernon within the next month for the newly organized Western Press Forging Company.

The announcement was made by E. M. Smith, president of the E. M. Smith Company, the Emsco Steel Products Company and head of several other manufacturing corporations in Los Angeles. Mr. Smith will be president of the Western Press Forging Company.

The new corporation plant will be the first of its kind in the West. It will be a combination steel mill and forge plant for the manufacture of tools for the oil industry and various other products such as require the particular type of steel produced in electric furnaces.

The venture is a closed corporation financed entirely by a group of local steel men and manufacturers. Besides Mr. Smith, the other officers of the concern will be W. W. Wilson, vice-president; J. E. Long, secretary; C. J. Wild, treasurer; G. E. Moreland, general manager; C. F. Baker, director.

This group, each at the head of his own plan using steel and steel products, will consume a large percentage of the output of the new mills. W. W. Wilson is president of the Wilson & Willard Oil Tool Manufacturing Company, which uses large quantities of steel; J. E. Long is owner of the Western Malleable Iron Works, which is also a large consumer of steel; C. J. Wild is treasurer of the Warman Steel Casting Company; G. E. Moreland is president of the Western Drop Forge Company, and D. F. Baker is owner of the Baker Casing Shoe Company.

In addition to the portion of the steel output from the new electric furnaces used by these concerns, the Western Press Forging Company will forge the billets into fishtail bits, casing shoes and heavy forgings used in oil production.

Both the raw steel and the forged products now consumed by these local manufacturers and the oil industry of Southern California are manufactured in the East, according to the statement made yesterday by Mr. Smith. The purpose of the new corporation is to transfer the scene of operations for the whole process from the iron one to the finished product from the eastern centers to Los Angeles.

It is stated that immense savings can be made in cost of production, and the total freight bill will be wiped out.

This means that, hundreds of thousands of dollars of local capital which in the past has been spent in Philadelphia, Pittsburg and other eastern steel centers will remain in the future in Los Angeles.

Two sites in Vernon have been selected, one on Boyle avenue and the other on Slauson, but until definite information as to size of machinery and space needed for the completed units is received, the definite location will not be decided upon.

WEIRD LOVE PIRACY TALE BARED IN MAN'S ARREST

A. E. Adams Tried to Snare Many Women Into Marriage, Assert Federal Officers Here

The tale of a love pirate who was handed lemons and icicles instead of the affections and fortunes which he coveted, which yet has a sinister cast that police are still investigating, was bared yesterday in the arrest of A. E. Adams, alias A. E. Woods and maybe another name or two.

Adams is held at Central Police Station for Federal authorities, who aver that he is wanted in Seattle on a murder charge, in Minneapolis for bigamy and in other cities for lesser crimes. And his story, as the Federal officials tell it and as the inquiries of the police have developed it, is one of a modern sheik strange to even newspaper annals.

Adams, in his cell, denies the allegations of the police; he declares himself innocent of any criminality and avows his willingness to return to any city without extradition to face any charges which may be preferred against him.

ARRESTED HERE

His arrest came through the receipt by Leon Bone, chief investigator of the Los Angeles branch of the Department of Justice, of a circular from the Seattle branch, giving a description and photograph. Adams was arrested by Detective Lieutenant Lane as a result of this message.

Seattle Federal authorities say Adams has been identified as one Dr. Percival Allen, chief figure in a murder mystery which achieved unusual prominence in Seattle in 1916. This Dr. Allen later escaped from the Seattle jail while awaiting trial on the charge. Dr. Allen at that time was known to have figured in many escapades with women.

When police searched Adams's room at Ninth and Beacon streets last night they found a trunkful of letters, lists of women, membership cards in matrimonial clubs and other data, which, checked as far as possible, evidences an attempt on Adams's part to marry someone who has money—this despite the fact that he admits having a wife and children in Evansville, Wis.

HUNDREDS OF WOMEN

There were several hundreds of names in the lists of Adams's correspondents. They ranged from Palm Beach, Fla., to Ventura and from Minneapolis to New Orleans. Many of them were from Los Angeles; and here it is that the police have learned much of his plan of operations.

Mrs. Mary E. Dowdy, 45 years of age, a widow living at 1337 West Twenty-fourth street, a member of a lonesome club, received a letter from Adams February 23, last, she says. She invited him to call. He did.

He told her he owned sixteen apartment-houses in Kansas City, a $35,000 home in Seattle, five automobiles — and said his wife had been dead five years. Following this declaration, he proposed marriage. She indignantly refused him, she says. He proposed three times; finally he left.

IS FAST WORKER

He became acquainted with Miss Marie Grobmier—and fifteen minutes after the meeting proposed. He was again rejected—and a week later proposed to a neighbor of hers, who likewise turned him down.

Thelma B. Epley, 30 years of age, 406 Court street, was engaged to Adams until he tried to borrow $1000 from her to buy a new sedan.

"I believe him to be a dangerous man," she said last night. "He always carried a gun and several hundred dollars."

Police found not one but two guns on him; the several hundred dollars was missing.

To get new names on his lists he inserted numerous advertisements in the newspapers. One of these was for a partner in an apartment-

RECORD SET FOR RENTAL PRICE HERE

Moss Company Lease Is at Rate of $200 Per Front Foot Each Month

What is believed to be a record rental for an inside store location in Los Angeles, a rental probably not exceeded in any other city in the country, will be paid by the Moss, Glove & Hosiery Co., for the store formerly occupied by S. Nordlinger and Sons at 831-33 South Broadway.

For a lease of ten years and five months on this property the Moss, Glove & Hosiery Co. will pay a total rental of $168,250, or $200 per front foot per month.

Robert Baker, realtor, who represented both parties in the leasing negotiations, expressed the opinion yesterday that this establishes a new high rental for Los Angeles business frontage—a rental exceeded only by that paid by the Owl Drug Company at the southwest corner of Seventh and Broadway.

The Moss, Glove & Hosiery Co., will make extensive alterations on the store, the changes representing an expenditure of about $50,000. The lessor in the transaction was C. H. Baker, who purchased the lease from Brock and Company when that firm took over the business of Nordlinger and Sons for a cash consideration of $150,000.

The Moss, Glove & Hosiery Co., is one of the best-known firms of its kind on the Pacific Coast, operating twenty-two stores in the principal cities of California. The firm now has three stores in Los Angeles.

Score Share in Estate Left by Mrs. Raymond

The will of Mrs. Lydia A. Raymond, who died on August 29 last, filed for probate yesterday, contains bequests to more than twenty close and distant relatives.

The major portion of the estate, which is valued at approximately $215,000 and consists of stocks, bonds and personal property, is left to Mrs. Helen M. Merriman of Long Beach, a niece.

Judge Ralph H. Clock of the Superior Court and T. C. Harriman are named executors of the estate. Mrs. Clock, wife of Judge Clock and a grandniece of Mrs. Raymond, is given $10,000 in the will.

PAIR MARRIED IN MID-AIR

Long Beach Flying Instructor Takes Wife in Plane Several Hundred Feet Above Ground

True to his avian instincts, Earl S. Daugherty, veteran flying instructor of Long Beach, took his fiancee, Miss Catherine Hall, fully a mile above the bristling knob of Signal Hill, and there on the wings of the swift "Blue Bird," in the presence of their mothers, Mrs. Margaret Hall and Mrs. C. J. Daugherty, who were the official witnesses, they were declared man and wife by Dr. Henry Kendall Booth, pastor of the First Congregational Church.

The bridegroom piloted the nuptial plane, which was escorted by three others which descended after duly "shooting" pictures of the couple as they vowed to love one another to their dying day.

The throng, which watched the mid-air wedding, expected the bride and groom to return after the "sky pilot" had united them, but the pair disappeared into the horizon, on the first leg of their honeymoon, fully confident the "Blue Bird" would steer them along the proper course of happiness.

Shortly before half past 1 o'clock the shrill siren of the car belonging to Capt. Claude Robinson of the Long Beach police, drew up at the hangar. There, amidst much laughter, the bridegroom-elect, who had been taken from a padded cell where he spent an hour, as the result of a mock arrest engineered by his police friends, "for speeding to Los Angeles after their marriage license," was subjected together with his fiancee, to the fire of a battery of cameras.

CONVOY PLANES

The three planes, which carried the various photographers, were piloted by Raymond Crawford, J. W. Boyd and Bill Frey, all of whom displayed considerable skill in the way they maneuvered their crafts during the entire performance.

They preceded the high-powered plane of the wedding party, attaining a height of several thousand feet.

The "Blue Bird," with its five occupants began to get underway the second after the couple had made their adieux to their friends and C. J. Daugherty, father of the groom, and Gladys Hall, sister of the bride. It taxied over the aerdrome, gaining momentum at every succeeding yard, and finally, with the grace of a sea gull, left the ground for the nebulous altar, the roar of the machinery drowning out the cheers of spectators.

ONE WOMAN DEFIES SQUAD

Takes Flying Force With Store Detectives to Nab 200-Pound Shoplifter Suspect

Angelenos in the vicinity of Seventh and Hill streets yesterday noon saw a battle of the giants that probably will not be surpassed by the Firpo-Dempsey scrap. It was between a 200-pound woman shoplifter suspect and two store detectives and caused the turning in of a riot call, of a call for a patrol wagon, and the blocking of traffic in both directions for nearly half an hour.

The woman said she was Mrs. M. Ryan, 35 years of age. She was arrested, finally, on a petty larceny charge and lodged in the City Jail, but it required a lot of effort on a hot day by several policemen to accomplish this result.

RIOT CALL

According to Officers Adams and White of the flying squadron, who went out on the riot call, Mrs. Ryan was seen in the Hamburger Department Store taking a dress from a counter and slipping it into a large bag she carried. An operative of the Retail Merchants' Protective Association tried to intercept her, but the large Mrs. Ryan headed for the door and wouldn't be intercepted. The operative called for clerks and floorwalkers to help; she brushed them aside with a brawny arm and gained the sidewalk.

Detectives Rathbun and Blackman of the protective association then gave chase and succeeded in catching up with Mrs. Ryan, who was stopped by a traffic jam at Seventh and Hill streets, and then the real battle started.

TRAFFIC JAM

Neither of the detectives had anything like the heft of the woman and while the crowd gathered thicker and thicker and the automobiles and the street cars got more and more congested, and drivers and motormen began to swear harder and harder and the two detectives were more and more getting the worst of it.

Mrs. Ryan gave up the fight only when the detectives were reenforced by the Flying Squad, the traffic officer at the corner, and a couple of policemen and the driver from the patrol wagon.

"She sure raised hell," commented Officer White as he washed his face and changed his wilted collar at the police station.

KHJ FEATURES 'THE WAYFARER'

Triumph in Broadcasting is Accomplished

Rodeheaver Adds to Success of Program

Hawaiian Numbers Delight Listeners-in

BY BEN A. MARKSON

An undeniably important radio feat, the broadcasting last night of the dress rehearsal of J. E. Crowther's mammoth passion pageant, "The Wayfarer," was successfully accomplished by KHJ, The Times station. This was done through line telephony within the Coliseum.

The spiritual theme of the pageant, contained in the lines spoken by the Wayfarer, Understanding and other characters, enabled listeners-in to visualize the episodes, beginning with the war prologue and going on through "The Babylonian Captivity;" "The Birth of Christ," "The Triumphal Entry," "The Crucifixion," "The Resurrection" and "The Golden Age."

KHJ's appreciation is due to Marshall Stedman, prominent dramatic instructor of this city, and Bernice Foley. For the purposes of broadcast Mr. Stedman read the part of the Warfarer and Miss Foley that of Understanding. Miss Foley and Mr. Stedman read their lines with splendid interpretation. J. T. Fitzgerald of the Fitzgerald Music Company, read the prologue to the pageant. His assistance in this respect was of great value.

CADENCES OF SEA

The swelling voices of the vast chorus, directed by William Tyroler, in "By Babylon's Wave," by Gounod, and choral hymns, reached the ears of listeners-in like mighty sea cadences, while the brass and wood-wind band under the conductorship of Hugo Kirchofer, in "Armageddon," the overture, and other wind-instrument ensembles were of symphonic power in radio conveyance.

Briefly, the broadcasting of "The Wayfarer" dress rehearsal was a difficult achievement, brilliantly executed. It entailed not only the portrayal of the picturesque scenes by descriptive effects, but more, the sending of the greatest choral and instrumental ensembles in radio history. Through the sense of hearing alone it was possible for listeners-in to have the tremendous drama unfolded before them. The fine co-operation of Merle Armitage, manager of "The Wayfarer," is acknowledged.

Homer Rodeheaver, famous evangelistic singer associated with Billy Sunday for fifteen years, appeared in The Times studio yesterday afternoon. He gave a program assisted by Mrs. Helen Evans, accompanist, and Mrs. F. R. Stover, cornetist and trombonist.

The evangelist-vocalist has a voice and a smile known throughout the country. His songs, while sacred in character, have a heartiness and personality that arouse a feeling of enthusiasm.

He has been the leader of all the big choirs of the Billy Sunday campaigns, the choruses ranging from 500 to 1500 voices. A magnetic voice, which wields a forceful influence over his hearers. He was educated at the Ohio Wesleyan University and was a member of the Fourth Tennessee Military Band during the Spanish-American War. Now he is on a world-wide evangelistic tour with Rev. W. E. Biederwolf, leaving soon for Australia.

Mrs. Helen Evans at the Knabe, and Mrs. Stover's instrumental solos, rounded out a splendid matinee program.

Mackie's "Queen's Hawaiians," playing through the courtesy of the Dragon Cafe, featured the noon broadcast session with string music.

HAWAIIAN MELODIES

They favored with native Hawaiian melodies and popular dance selections. Sol Hoopii's steel guitar solo work being featured. Assisting Mr. Hoopii were Lani McIntire and Joe Nawahi. The string trio is frequently heard from KHJ and is highly popular with radio fans.

W. R. Marshall presented an unusual entertainment during the children's hour. He told interesting phases of Eskimo life and sang Eskimo songs.

"Singing and dancing form one of the Eskimo race's favorite ways of passing the long, cold winter evenings," said Mr. Marshall. "They meet in their town hall, and while several beat time with their drums, all join in singing. One or two will arise occasionally and, going to the center of the room, will dance throughout the song being sung."

One of the songs given by Mr. Marshall was called "Omi uk puk, toh kah," meaning "Ship in Sight." This is a favorite with the Point Hope Eskimo people.

From 7 to 7:30 p.m. KHJ broadcast an organ recital by line telephony from the First Methodist Episcopal Church. Arthur Blakeley, noted musician, was at the Ewart Watchorn Memorial Organ.

FATE STEPS IN TO BREAK WIFE'S JOY

First Husband Neglects to Get Divorce; Woman Loses Second Mate

O. Henry might have written the story of Jessie E. Pordue, which was told in Judge Guerin's court yesterday.

She married Joseph A. Page and they quarreled. He told her he was going to get a divorce and they separated. Two years went by, and she wrote from Seattle to a Los Angeles friend to look up the record for her. The friend wrote that a final divorce decree would be entered in a few days.

In Seattle she met Edward Pordue, with whom she fell in love. They were engaged for many months. She waited until certain that the divorce from Page had been granted, then they were married.

They came to Los Angeles and lived together for four years. One day she met Page on the street and learned he had never obtained the final decree.

She told Edward her story. He consoled her and said he would go away until she had obtained a divorce from Page. Then he would come back and they would be remarried. Five years went by, but he did not come back.

Yesterday her marriage to him was annulled.

The Hard Coal Industry On Trial For Its Life

A single act of tyranny in the hard coal fields may be the last straw to break, not the back, but the patience of a long suffering people. Already we read in the press of the country of plans that are being formulated for a possible permanent abandonment of anthracite coal by consumers; the immediate utilization of bituminous coal, coke, oil—and the speeding up of plans to supersede coal in industry with huge water-power electric projects, and even solar or atomic energy. From all of these far flung plans, The New York World deduces that, "The hard coal industry of Pennsylvania is on trial for its life." There is an illuminating article in The Digest this week that presents all of the facts on this timely subject.

The First Anniversary of FUN from the PRESS

It was just a year ago that The Literary Digest's short humorous motion-picture reel FUN from the PRESS was released. Almost from the first week, it became popular and each additional week but served to increase its popularity with the public. It is being shown in about 2,000 of the better class of motion-picture theaters throughout the country. The high spots of the cleverest newspaper humorists and cartoonists are transferred to the screen in this jolly little reel and the public which attends theaters where it is shown may be sure of five minutes of laughter. There is a theater in your town presenting FUN from the PRESS. Why not drop in and see it?

CHURCHES WILL AID JAPAN

Christians of all Denominations are Offering Funds For Relief of Temblor Victims

The love of God for man is sometimes doubted and for this reason the love of man for God is not a universally established fact. And yet, "in spite of theological doubts and dogmas," and in spite of the proverbial selfishness of individuals and nations, the one shining truth that permeates human exstence is the love and sympathy of man for man, emphasized in superlative degree when a cry of help rises from a stricken people.

This truth was never more amply demonstrated than today when, at the call of bleeding, sorrowing Japan, the citizens of many nations—and especially of America—are hastening to send to old Nippon ships of mercy, laden with gold, food, clothing and medical supplies to help assuage the pain and dry the tears of the little brown people whose contributions to civilization's advancement have been so notable.

In almost every church in the Southland tomorrow the story of the tidal wave of horror that swept the flowered isle will be told again and in scores of churches collections will be taken for the relief fund. At the Presbyterian churches, especially, at the request of the Southern California Presbyterian Board of Extension, the pastors will call upon their congregations for contributions to the relief fund.

"THE VOICE OF GOD"

"The Voice of God From the Ashes of Japan" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Rev. Bruce Black tomorrow evening at the Wilshire Baptist Church. Mr. Black will also conduct services at his church in the morning.

Rev. D. T. Thomas, who will conduct services tomorrow morning and evening at Grace Congregational Church, Sixty-eighth street and Holmes avenue, will preach in the evening on "Afflictions," with special reference to the Japanese disaster. A special offering for the Japanese sufferers will be taken after the sermon.

"Lessons We May Learn From Great Disasters" is the theme of a discourse by Dr. J. W. Ball at St. Mark's Lutheran Church tomorrow, while at the Knox Presbyterian Church, Forty-third and Figueroa streets, Rev. W. H. Manshardt will preach tomorrow morning on the topic, "Carest Thou Not That We Perish?"

At the Angelus Temple Mrs. Aimee McPherson will preach in the morning, afternoon and evening, her subject for evening being "The Eclipse of the Sun and the Japanese Calamity."

"JAPAN'S CALAMITY"

Rev. J. W. Bailey, a colored evangelist of the national Baptist convention, will be the speaker tomorrow evening at the First Baptist Church. In the morning Rev. J. A. Francis, the pastor, will preach on "Japan's Calamity—God's Challenge to the Christianity and Humanity of America." Next Wednesday evening the Sunday-school teachers will meet for supper at the Y.M.C.A.

MAJ. MORTON TO SPEAK

Maj. L. Morton, successor to Booker T. Washington as principal of the Tuskegee Institute and said to be the greatest orator of the negro race, will be the speaker tomorrow evening at the First Methodist Church. Accompanying Maj. Morton to Los Angeles are the Tuskegee Jubilee Singers, who will give a program beginning at 6:45 p.m. In the morning Dr. E. E. Helms will preach on "The Four Pillars."

"THE SOUL'S DESTINY"

"Are the dead conscious? Do the dead pass at once to judgment? What are purgatory, paradise, hades and hell? Shall we know one another in heaven?" These questions will be discussed by Dr. Bruce Brown at the South Park Christian Church tomorrow evening, when he will preach on "The Destiny of the Soul." The theme for morning is "Loyalty."

TO ANALYZE DISASTER

"Was the terrible disaster in Japan sent by God to punish the Japanese? What did the Japanese do to deserve this frightful experience? Will the international relationship between Japan and America be affected by Japan's great misfortune?" These are among the questions to be discussed by Rev. William MacCormack, D. D., dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, in a sermon at the Scottish Rite Auditorium tomorrow evening. The subject for the morning discourse is "The Green-Eyed Monster."

DR. McCULLOCH RETURNS

Tomorrow will be celebrated as "Home Coming Sabbath" at the First United Presbyterian Church when the members will welcome

KEEPING THE BALANCE

An Italian genius has invented a non-sinkable boat. Here seems to be the proper equipment for Mussolini right at hand. The Italians can use a lot of these nonsinkable boats.

THE NIGHT RIDERS

The Ku Klux Klan is said to have virtually taken over the control of a mid-western university. It is possible that pillow-fighting will be added to the college sports in deference to the uniform of the Klan.

THE INCOME TAXES

Congressman Madden, chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, is preparing a measure which looks to a general reduction in income taxes. This sounds more popular than the old idea of reducing the income by increasing the taxes.

WILD BLADES

Ten robbers with a couple of trucks drove up to a government warehouse in Chicago, held up three night watchmen with their guns and loaded up with fifty barrels of fine bonded liquor, worth $100,000. Then they carelessly rode away in the gloaming, whistling "What Shall the Harvest Be?" It does seem that every time Uncle Sam gets a little boost ahead some thirsty Chicago guys drop in with a set of pistols and take it away from him.

TIME ON HIS HANDS

A man arrested by the police was found to be carrying seven watches and two automatic revolvers. He explained at headquarters that he was a peculiar guy and just naturally had to have a different watch for each day of the week. Also he used to be a two-gun man and his father had given him a left-handed pistol to use in that fin. The Chief agreed that any two-gun man should be watched seven days in the week and so the stranger is on the inside looking out. He has considerable time on his hands.

PLAYTIME IN RUSSIA

They have been giving an exposition in Moscow for the purpose of showing that Russia can still entertain company. Most of the foreign exhibits came from Germany and were sold on the spot. They were mainly of tools and wares which the Russians need in any return of industry. About the only exhibits from America were of Fordson tractors and these could also be of considerable service in remaking Russia—if Russia would stand still long enough to dress up. But there is hardly a county fair in any scrub section of the United States that cannot offer much more of a display than the international exposition at Moscow.

IN THE BIG LEAGUE

The United States has done very well by its proteges. Dr. Peraza, representative of Cuba, has been elected president of the League of Nations. He received the votes of twenty-four of the forty-five governments participating in the election. The Western Hemisphere seems to be strongly present in the administration of the big League, even if Uncle Sam himself is not participating officially. In this connection it also appears that the United States has more unofficial observers than there are visitors from all other countries put together. Also the major business of the present session is made up largely of items inspired by American thought or action.

FRENCH MARRIAGES

The French courts have just handed down a decision that destroys one of the most firmly established traditions of the country, the control of the parent over the marriage of a son or daughter. Hitherto the father or mother has exercised unquestioned authority over the son's choice of a wife until he attained the age of 30 years. By the new decision this state of affairs is permanently ended.

The matter was brought before the court by a young girl whose engagement was broken by her fiance because of his parents' objections to the match. He admitted that he loved her and wished to marry her, but he feared the displeasure of his father and mother and could not go against their wishes. The girl did what she could to overcome their objections and gain their liking, but, failing in this, consulted a lawyer. The case was bitterly fought, but she was awarded 15,000 francs from the parents for alienating their son's love from her and preventing the match.

The French papers are full of outraged parents' comments on this epoch-making decision that abolishes the tyrannical control formerly exercised by the French parents over their children in the choice of their mates. British judges state that a similar verdict would probably be rendered in an English court in a like case. In America damages from parents are limited to alienating the affections after marriage. This is quite just, as it would take more than a mere parent to stop a young man here from espousing the girl of his heart. However large the role parents-in-law may play in their children's lives after marriage, they are of slim importance before the wedding.

THE PRESIDENT AND COBBLER

"We, the people," seldom lose confidence in those who, on rising to high position, are not too swelled by personal vanity to give full credit to those by whose assistance they were able to rise.

When President Coolidge was installed in the White House one of his first written communications was a letter to an old Irish shoemaker in Northampton, Mass. In that letter he wrote, "If it were not for you I should not be here."

And Jim Lucey, bent and silvered by the snows of sixty-six winters, laid down his awl, took a stub pencil and replied to "Friend Cal." And this is the advice he gave:

"Don't pay any heed to these criticizers. Don't say nothin' to them at all. Just keep doin' like you made up your mind to do and you'll come out all right, as you always have."

Sitting in his modest little shop, industriously following his trade and minding strictly his own business, but chatting with his customers as he pegged new soles on their worn shoes, this humble craftsman achieved the proud distinction of making a President for the greatest of the world powers.

There have been king-makers in the past. One recalls the Earl of Warwick during the tempestuous period known as the War of the Roses. But these men were the richest and mightiest in the land, habitues of the courts, skilled in war and statecraft.

With what material did this shoemaker of Northampton fashion a President?

He advised his "Friend Cal" to be honest, to be fair and, above all, not to be afraid. He told him that expediency was a poor business, that he who travels a crooked path goes a long way and seldom arrives. He told him to have confidence in the people and that, if he persisted, the people in the end would have confidence in him.

How the world has changed under a century and a half of American Democracy! The people themselves have learned to distinguish what is genuine from what merely glitters. They have learned that coronets, armor and purple vestments are only so much dross. They have learned that the things of highest worth are those which cannot be bought and sold. They have learned that men can make money, but only God can make a man.

It required more than the homely philosophy of this Northampton cobbler to make a President. To make good shoes the first essential is good leather. Every workman is limited by his material. Scores of men carried their shoes to that unpretentious hole in the wall but there was only one Calvin Coolidge among them. Hundreds of men passed it by; for there was no flaming electric sign in front, and Jim Lucey did not work behind a plate-glass window.

Coolidge possessed the stuff of diligence and frugality out of which most of America's great men have been wrought. He did not toss his shoes into the closet when the soles were worn, to replace them with a shining new pair. He carried them himself to the cobbler and waited while the repairs were made.

Other men would have called that so much lost time; but Coolidge did not travel through life on the lightning express. He knew how to enjoy leisure and to put it to a good purpose. He had learned to appreciate the luxury of walking.

Something in the homely speech of the honest shoemaker attracted and held his interest. He went to that shop to find a cobbler and remained to find a friend. In the simple speech he discovered the fundamentals of Americanism.

Coolidge is college bred; but he possesses a reflective mind. He knows how to distinguish between mere learning and wisdom. He was not too proud to choose as a comrade one who had studied only in the school of life. He stopped often at this little shop around the corner; and, strange to relate, he fell into the habit of occasionally taking Mrs. Coolidge with him—which marks her as a woman worthy to be the wife of a President.

In his candid way Jim Lucey said to inquiring reporters who had learned in Washington of the remarkable letter the President had written and rushed in taxis to the cobbler's stand, "I told him, 'You're there in Washington, Cal, because what you say you'll do you'll do and because you've got more brains than any man I know.'" Asked about Mrs. Coolidge, he replied: "That woman, too, has brains."

Pressed for details about his reply to the President, he said, "Of course, we had our little joke. Cal always likes to joke. I wrote, 'Course I'll take the job at the Court of St. James, now that I see you're wantin' somebody for it. But I won't insist, seein' that they mightn't want an Irishman and I'm gettin' kind of old for work.' Cal will laugh at that."

And a great many other Americans will laugh at that, and thank the special Providence which guides the destinies of the nation that the influences which made it possible for Calvin Coolidge to rise to his present position are so pure and wholesome.

DIAMONDS FOR ALL

One of the oddest results of the prohibition law is shown in the report of the London diamond merchants, who state that the volume of their business in the United States has increased tremendously since the aridness of Sahara descended on this country. Not alone diamonds, but all varieties of precious stones, find larger sales in America now than at any previous time in history.

Especially is this true of the more moderately priced gems. The exporters cannot meet the demand for cheaper varieties of jewelry. From this they infer that a class of people who formerly were not interested in such adornments have now become purchasers on a constantly increasing scale. The time when a man limited his unusual ornaments for his spouse to an engagement ring, wedding ring or a brooch has happily passed. The lady has trained him to disgorge costly presents at holiday time and she no longer has to gnaw her nails with envy when the champion vamp of the city roams past her bedecked with flashing stones.

The British merchants declare that it was most unusual for the middle and industrial classes in the United States to buy gems in any quantity in former days. They attribute the change entirely to prohibition and not to the more prosperous economic condition existing here. The money that was once spent on liquid refreshment for father now finds its way to the jewelry stores. Thus has prohibition again been proven a boon to suffering womanhood.

THE TOO-BEAUTIFUL MAN

This is the last straw. We bore up bravely under the frequent advent of the disconcerting "too-beautiful girl" who seemed to have an embarrassing penchant for getting into mischief, but now behold the self-confessed "too-beautiful man." No wonder his wife is suing for divorce.

We had supposed that the limit of human domestic endurance had been reached by any man saddled with one of these "too-beautiful-girl" wives, but his anguish can be as nothing to that of the woman with a smugly conscious too-beautiful male Adonis on the other side of the breakfast table.

There is a mournful lesson for humanity in the chronicle of the incident which completed the final demoralization of this sumptuous male. It appears that he was selected to lead a bevy of El Monte's handsomest men over the new bridge to celebrate its opening. The compliment completely turned his beautiful but otherwise dubious cranium and he was never able to settle down respectably to his domestic fireside thereafter. We have noticed the same result with the ladies in beauty competitions. Like some capricious, romantic countries, "recognition" should have been withheld until more solid evidence of continued virtue was forthcoming.

It seems to be so difficult to get these publicly recognized beauties—either sex—to appreciate that "handsome is as handsome does." Because, of course, the handsomer doers are not apt to be chosen by even the most enterprising cities for advertising purposes.

MONTMARTRE'S COLOR LINE

The information that the Montmartre district in Paris has become an American colony is given out by the French press as the reason for cafe owners of this district recently refusing service to French-African colonials.

Purveyors to Bohemia were not wont to draw the color line in days gone by, but the heavy American patronage has led them to eject negroes on several occasions rather than offend their profitable guests from overseas.

One African with the high-sounding title of Prince Kojo Tovolan Hoveneu, nephew of the last King of Dahomey, was rudely thrown out on his ear when he strayed into an all-night cafe for a sip of absinthe. The Yankees came forth and jumped on him then, and the Prince asserts that his skin would have turned blue from their blows it if had not already been black. Being a practicing lawyer, as well as a humorist, he filed a suit in the French courts and had the cafe keeper's license revoked.

French newspapers are greatly wrought up over the introduction of the American colored prejudice in their country, of which there are daily manifestations. One surgeon who had been with the French army for four years was bodily thrown out of a sight-seeing bus en route to the battlefields by a number of Americans who objected to his presence.

The disturbances have become so frequent that the Minister of Foreign Affairs has been compelled to issue a note calling the attention of the tourist to the fact he is "our guest and therefore bound to respect our laws and customs," and demanding that the traveler park his prejudices at the port when he enters France.

The papers stress the fact that the matter has a serious political aspect for the country. While America has her colored population within her borders, where she can restrain them if she wishes, the African colonial is leagues away. If he is subjected to ostracism and insult when visiting the mother country he will inevitably go home in an embittered mood and stir up strife against France. If she cannot induce her foreign guests to reserve their race prejudices for home use she may be faced with outbreaks in Africa and face the possible loss of her colonies.

A TOUCH OF NATURE

All are brothers under the skin. It only needs the impress of a great tragedy—the impact of a mighty suffering—to carry the proof.

TWO MINUTES OF OPTIMISM

BY HERMAN J. STICH

Keep Moving

When a hoop stops it falls.

Action stabilizes, as gravitation holds the planets in their course.

Without action, as without gravitation, the whole world would instantly go to smash.

Inactivity sounds a man's death knell.

The man who is satisfied, who is not looking higher, who is not eternally striving for something better, is little different from a dead man, and he is far more of an encumbrance.

Unlike Topsy, we do not "just grow."

We either push or are pushed; compel or are compelled; row or drift; swim or sink; forge ahead or lag behind.

Take a tip from nature, who knows no rest. Even repose must be had only in activity. As the swallow feeds and recuperates on the wing, so one bound simply qualifies a man for another.

The ship at the wharf rots; water that does not run putrifies; the man who stops stagnates.

If we had our way some of us think we would spend our lives lying under fruit trees waiting for breakfast, dinner and supper to drop into our mouths. If we indulged ourselves long enough we would rapidly become afflicted with the worst ills and ailments to which man is heir and prey.

None of us have our own way, and it is providential that we do not.

"On! On! On!" is the cry of the universe till even the Star of Empire has swept westward and now hovers over our own United States.

Brains and biceps are the coat-of-arms of every successful man—brains and biceps and the imperious urge of ambition that grows stronger with achievement, stirs us up and spurs us on, and proclaims the immutability of nature's behest.

Carry on; keep moving. You can't climb standing still.

RIPPLING RHYMES

THE GOOD PROVIDER

James Beeswax is a good provider, year after year he strives to please; he brings home kegs of wholesome cider and cans of succotash and peas. His children wear the finest raiment of any offspring in the street, and James is always making payment for things to wear and things to eat. The town is full of women yearning for things they need and cannot buy, and they behold this James returning from market with a costly pie, and oftentimes their hearts are bitter and in them thoughts discordant buzz; "Why can't all men," they sadly twitter, "behave as James H. Beeswax does? His wife must be a happy woman, she gets all things for which she sighs; that man of hers is more than human—he's old Kris Kringle in disguise." And Mrs. Beeswax, sitting lonely, is saying, "By the saints above my James would be a peach if only he'd tell me often of his love. He brings me eggs and prunes and bacon, he brings me butter from the cow, but I am feeling all forsaken for lack of kisses on the brow. He brings me home a sack of carrots, a dish of kraut, a bale of hay, and hats whereon the plumes of parrots and ostriches make vain display. But I am pining for the ardor that once he showed and brought me bliss; I'd rather do without the larder and have an old-time lover's kiss."

What Europe needs is a generous application of scopolamin.

With the elevation of Magnus Johnson to the Senate all the aspiring young men are thinking of taking to the glass-blowing industry.

Just wait a bit, the Harding biographies will soon be on the market. Why shouldn't George Christian write a book on the subject, say, "Warren G. Harding as I Knew Him"?

There is more trouble in Poland. Pilsudsky has had a hot break with Sesptyzski, Minister of War. Hope they will get together and each knock some of the consonants out of the other.

The French government has bought the vertical flying machine, the helicopter. But it would seem that the note of England on the Ruhr would have been enough to send them straight up.

President Coolidge would do a favor to the country if he would explain how he managed to be satisfied with living in half of a house, for which he paid $35 a month, while Governor of Massachusetts.

The balloon is out of date. Balloon races are foolishly dangerous. For the most part they are drifting matches in which human skill plays comparatively little part. Chance decides the contest and death stalks the contestants.

Up in Oregon the loganberry market is in a slump. Why not cooperative marketing by affording a market and a price and insuring that a surplus crop does not mean ruin, but indicates an even greater success. The citrus fruit growers of Southern California have shown how it can be done.

In the United States at the present time between sun and sun there moves six tons of mail, 12,000 pounds of it, or something like 540,000 letters, all carried by airplane. The "Night Mail" of the air is here. Years ago Rudyard Kipling wrote an amazing story about the trip of an aerial mail packet rising out of the dark of London in early evening and straightening out for a trip across the Atlantic. The trans-Atlantic mail packet still is in the future, but aerial mail is a common thing both in this country and Europe. America should lead in airplanes as we do in telephones, railways and motor cars.

The Battle of Eutaw Springs, S. C., was fought in the year 1781 between an American force under Gen. Nathaniel Greene and a British force under Lieut.-Col. Sir John Stuart. It was a drawn battle, but in effect an American victory.

GERTIE'S GARTER'S GOT

BY HARRY CARR

It appears that the smutty-minded little boys who write bad words on the walls of the family outhouse finally grow up.

They grow up and either write plays like "Getting Gertie's Garter" or they pay out their good money to sit in the orchestra chairs and giggle and gurgle at the same.

The truth is that this Al G. Woods farce which has so agitated the City Prosecutor is about on a line with the stories that cigar drummers tell in the Pullman smoking-rooms.

These unutterably tedious recitals about what the bride said as she was going to bed make modern travel a hardship. It is almost inconceivable that anybody could sit through one of these drummer's stories without perishing of sheer boredom; but the merry wag of the smoking-room never lacks an audience. Just so, the Al G. Woods fast and furious bedroom farces go right along and gather in shekels. "Getting Gertie's Garter" and all the rest of these so-called risque plays try to be tough and are only stupid. They are in reality about as funny as the day the income tax comes due.

The stock in trade of each is some kind of a situation where a girl is getting undressed in the virtuality of some man who ought not to be there. Sometimes the lingerie is displayed in a taxicab, or in a bedroom. In "Gertie's Garter" the dramatic climax, I believe, is staged in a hay mow. These supposedly wicked situations are complicated with various squeals, screams, winks and wise cracks that haven't any real meaning, but are supposed to have two.

Personally, I feel some gratitude to Al G. Woods man who wrote the first the manager who owned it.

If the morons who the theater at $2 per seat to tie's Garter" weren't also comparatively harmless they would be riding up the street in front of it with their automobile trying to see how much noise they could make.

WHAT DO YOU WANT?

By The Foothill Philosopher

The Koran is introduced by the statement, "There is no doubt in this book," which was a good way for Mohammed to begin a volume in which he wanted people to believe. I wish I could compose as forceful an expression to make the reader accept as truth the things I am going to say.

How old are you? If you are not too old and have "a sound mind in a sound body" you are doubtless a creature of many desires, more or less conflicting. But what we want to say to you is this: Your chief desire, if it is within the range of human possibility, can be gratified if you lift it into the realm of faith and are willing to work for its fulfillment. That isn't "new thought;" it's old truth.

Do you want money more than anything else? You can have it. How? First, by believing that you can secure it, then by working and planning for it and by thinking of money in connection with all your other thoughts and actions. Keep your health, study business principles and do not always "let your conscience be your guide." Let the thought of money be your guide, let the standard of the dollar rule your soul—and you'll get money, lots of it. You may lose other things and qualities of value, but you'll get money.

Do you want physical health and strength? They are yours. The price? Forget that you have a palate. Deny yourself the pleasures of the table. Live in the open air, drink only when thirsty, eat only when you are really hungry and let your food be simple. When the sun sets go to sleep. When he rises greet him with a song. You may have little money, but you won't need it, for you'll have true "wellth." Even if you must work in an office, you still may have health in large measure, if you can forget that you enjoy eating and remember to sleep.

Would you have friends? You can have them, scores of them and genuine friends—not merely acquaintances who like you, but men, women and children who love you. How? By making yourself lovable, and this is done by determining to cultivate those qualities that invite, yes, that compel affection. To become interesting to others, become interested in them. That is the whole secret—but the interest must be real, not affected, and it must be, as nearly as possible, an unselfish interest.

Do you seek a position of trust? Make yourself trustworthy and the place is yours. This does not mean that you must be merely honest. The veriest clod-hopper can be, and usually is, honest. It means also that you must work, putting in "overtime" if necessary in order to master the details of the organization you wish to head. It means perseverance, study and the development of that moral courage innate in every normal man and woman. It means the establishment of a character that cannot be shaken by the winds of calumny and adversity.

Do you consider peace of mind life's greatest possession? You can have it, whether you are rich or poor, famous or unknown, learned or unschooled, sick or well. How? Through the practice of meditation and prayer in your every spare moment. Reading holy books and seeking the society of quiet-minded men and women will aid you, but they will aid you only to find yourself and to know your own heart for the home of peace.

Any of these things you can have, in superlative degree, if you are willing to pay the price—but, best of all, you may have all of them, in wholesome degree, if you use common sense and are not overgreedy about any of them. In the last analysis it is never necessary to sacrifice anything truly good in order to secure something else essential to legitimate comfort and happiness.

Better Be Slow and Sure

Most ruined men may trace their downfall to attempting to make progress too rapidly. In making progress it is particularly important to build on firm foundation.—[E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Earth news is coming in from American side the Canal and Mexico finally have to show a little seemingly intelligence by recognizing each other. But on the European continent several nations show a tendency toward reverting to the age of race progress is considered into wholly unneeded wars.

The situation on the Asiatic side has been funny. Japan and two great countries, each on the other and drawn together by every natural law of attraction and self-interest, have been looking cross-eyed at each other because each is pretending to look straight ahead when it was really watching the other.

They were like people living in adjoining apartments who have met in the same hall, punch and judy fashion, but who wouldn't admit knowing each other, even on the most formal occasions.

From this distance it appeared that either nation could have ended the embargo by trading off its surplus "dignity" for a few tavos' worth of horse sense. But the fact that the nations were able to see this after only a few years of delay is evidence that the long-time processes of getting together hopeless.

On the European side the outlook is not so encouraging.

War is the one thing that must not meet. There isn't a country in Europe which would not be more prosperous after a few years of peace than it is now. But there are certain historic grievances which once aroused can whip Greece, which is so small in its national egotism.

Greece appears after a while to admit it.

National dignity is one of the most bothersome things on Earth.

It may be that nations are merely trying to insulate themselves from the cloud in Europe and solve their own immigration problems.

Personally, I feel nothing but gratitude to Al G. Woods, the man who wrote the play and the manager who staged it.

If the morons who crowd the theater at $2 per seat to see "Gertie's Garter" weren't about the comparatively harmless creatures they would be riding up and down the street in front of my house with their automobile mufflers cut out trying to see how much unnecessary noise they could make.

adopted on June 12, 1923, a resolution defending its propaganda expenditures during the $35,000,000 power bond campaign and requested Controller L. M. Anderson of the public service department to report the total amount of money so expended from the power revenue?

(59.) Is it a fact that Controller Anderson did make his report to President Del Valle of the commission and that to date this report has not been made public?

(60.) Why has this report not been made public? Does the commission hesitate because of fear of public criticism to state the amount it has expended from power revenue for propaganda?

(61.) What are the contingent liabilities of the Bureau of Power and Light?

(62.) What is the amount of the actual unpaid bills on hand of the Bureau of Power and Light? For what are those bills and how old are they, that is, what is the date of the oldest unpaid bill?

(63.) Is the Bureau of Power and Light paying or promising to pay its creditors interest on the amount of the bills until they are paid?

(64.) How much does the Bureau of Power and Light owe, or will owe manufacturers and others for materials contracted for?

(65.) Has the board discussed, as a possible method of securing financial relief for the Bureau of Power and Light requesting the Council to relieve the commission for five or six months from its pledge to pay all interest and sinking fund charges on power bonds from the tax funds?

(66.) Has the board discussed an increase in power and light rates from 15 to 25 per cent as a possible method of securing additional funds for the Bureau of Power and Light?

(67.) Is it a fact that the power companies once offered to purchase, at the rate of three-fourths cent per kilowatt hour, all the power the city plants desired to generate, and is it true that had this offer been acceped the taxpayers today would have received from this sale a net profit, after all operating expenses and bond charges had been paid, approximately $5,000,000?

(68.) Is it a fact that by adding this $5,000,000 and the $6,467,436.25 which the taxpayers have paid to date as interest and sinking fund charges on the power bonds, the total cost, or loss, to the taxpayers through municipal distribution of power is today in excess of $11,000,000?

I am very truly yours,

FRED D. PARKER.

TO CITY AUDITOR

Mr. Parker's letter to City Auditor Myers follows:

San Fernando, Cal., Sept. 5, 1923.
Mr. John S. Myers, City Auditor,
City Hall, Los Angeles, Cal.:

Dear Sir: I inclose herewith copy of a letter which I have this day sent to the Board of Public Service Commissioners. Copies have also been sent to the Mayor, the City Council and the press.

May I, as a taxpayer, take this occasion to express the hope that the investigation which you have been commissioned by the Council to make of the departments under the direction of the Board of Public Service Commissioners, will be complete and thorough? I believe it to be the hope of the citizens of Los Angeles that the spirit as well as the letter of your instructions shall be realized in the results of this inquiry and that the full truth regarding the financial condition of the Bureau of Power and Light shall be made public. In a word, that there may be full and fair answers, without equivocation, to questions such as are set forth in the letter inclosed.

It seems to me that the taxpayers should be informed through the results of your investigation if, for example, the Bureau of Power and Light is selling current at less than the cost of production. They should be shown, by an impartial and thorough sifting of the facts, the truth or falsity of the charges which have been made against the bureau of mismanagement, waste and extravagance in the expenditure of public funds both in the administration of its department and in ways having no direct connection with the municipal generation and distribution of electrical energy. In that the taxpayers must bear the financial burden of these enterprises, they are entitled to know if the conduct of the department is and has been such as to merit their confidence and support.

May I further suggest that, in my judgment, such information cannot be conveyed to those entitled to it through a mere mass of figures which superficially summarize the operations of the Power Bureau? Figures must, of course, serve as the basis for conclusions, but the conclusions must be drawn and must be plainly stated.

With no intent to appear to be seeking to instruct you in your duties, may I add that it is my belief that in making such a real investigation, you will have rendered a notable public service?

Very truly yours,
[Signed]

Very truly yours,
FRED D. PARKER.

TO THE MAYOR

To Mayor Cryer Mr. Parker wrote:

San Fernando, Cal., Sept. 5, 1923.
Hon. George E. Cryer, Mayor of Los Angeles, City Hall, Los Angeles, Cal.:

Dear Sir: I am inclosing herewith copies of letters I have this day sent to the Board of Public Service Commissioners, to the City Council and to the City Auditor. Copies of these communications have also been sent to the press.

As a taxpayer, may I suggest that the weight of your influence in the direction of making complete and thorough the investigation by the City Auditor of the departments under the direction of the Board of Public Service Commissioners will be appreciated by those who bear the financial burden for the conduct of these departments?

Very truly yours,
[Signed]
FRED D. PARKER.

TO THE COUNCIL

This is Mr. Parker's letter to the Council:

San Fernando, Cal., Sept. 5, 1923.
To the Honorable City Council, Los Angeles, Cal.:

Gentlemen: I am inclosing copy of letters which I have sent this day to the Board of Public Service Commissioners and to the City Auditor. Copies of these communications have also been sent to Mayor and to the press.

I wish to take this occasion to congratulate you on your action in ordering an investigation of the matters therein dealt with and, as a taxpayer, to express the hope that you will see that this investigation is made complete and thorough.

Very truly yours,
[Signed]
FRED D. PARKER.

BOARD'S REPLY

Following receipt of the communication, President R. F. Del Valle, Board of Public Service Commissioners, issued the following statement:

The Board of Public Service Commissioners is in receipt of a ten-page letter from F. D. Parker, setting forth a series of questions, sixty-eight in number, whereby the writer purports to seek information bearing on the operation and financial status of the Water and Power Bureaus.

It is quite apparent to anyone reading such letter that it was not written in good faith or with a real desire to gain knowledge upon the multitudinous points mentioned.

Moreover, investigation discloses that the writer of this letter is not even a citizen or resident of the city of Los Angeles. It also appears that he owns land in the San Fernando Valley, and has for some time been demanding that the allotment of water to that district be greatly increased. The facts of the matter are that the 30,000 people in the San Fernando Valley, up until a few days ago, were using two times more water than the other 870,000 people in the city of Los Angeles. Even the past few days, after an effort has been made to curtail this tremendous flood of water over the valley, so as not to endanger the city's domestic water supply, the 30,000 people in the valley are still using a quantity of water each day equal to the amount consumed for all purposes by the other 870,000 people in the city. Despite this situation, Mr. Parker apparently desires to endanger the domestic water supply of the entire city in order to increase the already generous allotment of water now being received by the San Fernando Valley people.

In the opening paragraph of his letter, the writer states that "an official inquiry has been ordered by the Council into the financial condition of the Water and Power Bureaus. In view of this fact, it is obvious that any statement bearing in detail upon the financial status of either of these bureaus should come from the City Auditor, who has been officially designated to lay these facts before the City Council, and not from the department itself.

By his repeated insinuations that the Bureau of Power and Light is not operating on a sound financial basis, Mr. Parker is simply carrying out the line of attack against the Power Bureau that has long been waged by private power corporations, seeking to discredit this municipal enterprise.

The facts of the matter are, that the Power Bureau is operating on a sound financial basis and during the past year did return a surplus of more than $2,000,000 after every allowance had been made for operation expenses, payment of all interest and sinking fund requirements on electric bonds and the setting aside of a depreciation reserve fund.

In his questions, Mr. Parker also continues to carry out the power corporations' false charges that the municipal power plants along the Aqueduct are wasting water that might be stored in reservoirs for the use of San Fernando Valley irrigators. Chief Engineer Mulholland of the Water Bureau has repeatedly pointed out that the operation of the municipal power plants in no way affects this city's water supply. Water is never diverted from the line of the Aqueduct, through power plants or otherwise, unless all available reservoirs, both above and below the power plants, are filled to capacity.

ALLAN RAPS POWER BODY IN PROTEST

Councilman Objects to Opening of Manholes at Busy Intersections

Councilman Allan, chairman of the City Council's Public Utilities Committee, yesterday carried out hi sthreat to file a writen protest with the Municipal Bureau of Power and Light, against the bureau's failure to co-operate with the City Council in eliminating unnecessary excavations in busy street intersections. The Councilman sent the following letter to the Municipal Power Bureau:

"Some time ago I wrote your department, along with other public utility companies of the city, asking for closer co-operation to assist us in solving some of our traffic problems. I believe that no one thing will solve the traffic problem, but many small things will greatly assist, and one of the greatest is the correction of the present nuisance of placing manholes and underground chambers in street intersections.

"I called your attention, as well as that of the other utility companies, to this matter in a previous letter, and received a splendid response from them, but up to the present time have received no response from you. Instead of a response, the practice is increasing, rather than diminishing, and manholes and underground chambers have been opened up at a great many of the intersections in the congested area of the city, every one of them creating an impediment to traffic that could be and should be avoided.

"I find that in the last two days, fences have been erected around existing manholes on Seventh street at Grand, Hope and Flower streets, blocking traffic, and that no construction is going on. The one at Grand makes it impossible for people going west on Seventh to turn south on Grand without stopping their cars and backing to make a short turn.

"I want to make an appeal to you at this time to take some immediate action to stop these openings at the points above mentioned."

The Southern California Telephone company has agreed in the following letter received by Councilman Allan, to co-operate in the city's efforts to prevent the unnecessary interference with traffic caused by excavations made by the utility corporations public utilities:

AID PROMISED

"In answer to your letter of August 15 relative to street openings in congested districts in the city of Los Angeles, as well as street intersections during heavy traffic hours, we wish to advise that instructions have been issued to both our own construction forces as well as our contractor to comply with your request that we work sixteen hours a day continuous work in the congested districts in the city whenever it is necessary to open the streets, and not to open streets at intersections during heavy traffic hours; also, that we open up one block at a time, and that all surplus dirt and material be removed as soon as possible after opening is made.

"We realize the necessity of your request, and wish to co-operate with you in relieving the traffic situation."

ORSATTI ARRAIGNED

Man Charged With Bribe Attempt To Plead Wednesday

Morris Orsatti, North Spring-street business man, and J. R. Johnson, a former operative with the Burns Detective Agency, charged with attempting to bribe Harold H. Dolley, at the time prohibition agent in charge in July, 1922, appeared in the local Federal court, yesterday.

Two indictments had been returned against the accused. The first instrument was defective, and a second was secretly reported by the Federal grand jury. It was to this indictment that the defendants were required to answer yesterday.

Orsatti's attorney, Jesse R. Shafer, asked that his client be allowed two weeks to plead, but the court gave him until Wednesday. At that time a demurrer will be interposed and argued following a plea of not guilty, and a date set for the trial.

Johnson will be arraigned Wednesday. It is understood he will be a witness in behalf of the government.

ARREST BARES PIRACY IN LOVE

house project. Mrs. Florence Hertzler, 816 South New Hampshire street, answered such an advertisement as this. He called on her; she didn't like him and the deal fell through.

SUCCESSFUL SOMETIMES

His aliases and tales of fortunes present or coming to him apparently, from his correspondence, were too numerous to mention. And that he was temporarily successful in his amorous intentions in some cases is evidenced by letters from his correspondents.

Mrs. Ive B. Magel of Burlington, Iowa, conducted telegraphic repartee with him; then they exchanged letters. This romance was broken by his arrest.

Disregarding this lighter correspondence, Federal officials believe they have him linked up with a chain of circumstances which, should he be positively identified and implicated, might make him a modern Bluebeard. For instance, the case of Dr. Allen:

It was in June, 1916, that Dr. Percival Allen, osteopathic physician, met Miss Anna Marie Danielson, Minneapolis heiress, on the steamer Queen while en route to Seattle.

After their arrival in that city they were seen constantly together; later testimony indicated that they had lived together for several weeks.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD

Eventually Miss Danielson was found dead in their apartment. The cause of her death has always been a mystery. But warrants for a statutory charge were sworn out against Allen.

He disappeared; a search of Coast cities failed to reveal his whereabouts. But—he was finally captured.

He was taken back to Seattle, held in jail in default of $1500 bail.

Later he was tried and convicted and sentenced to one year in the County Jail. In the jail he became head trusty and was given the freedom of the corridors. After serving several months he learned that evidence was being gathered to convict him on a more serious charge; and one day, immaculately dressed and carrying a gold-headed cane, he walked past the jail guards and vanished.

Subsequently he worked in numerous California towns as a barber under numerous aliases. And then, one day, the constable of Hemet, looking through a file, noticed the resemblance of a photograph of Allen to a man known to him as J. B. Davis.

PROVED TO BE ALLEN

He arrested him; Davis turned out to be Allen.

He was taken back to jail again, but on March 17 escaped and has not been seen since.

The Department of Justice agents further assert that Woods is sought by Federal authorities in Minneapolis where, it is said, he became engaged to a young woman in Rochester, while he had a wife in Evansville, Wis.

In his pockets yesterday the return half of a ticket from Chicago to Los Angeles was found. He said he had been here on this latest trip but a few months. He admits having spent some time in Seattle, but denies being Dr. Allen. No one could be found to identify him last night.

Three Youthful Hikers, Thought Lost, Are Safe

Three youthful hikers who started from Riverside early last week on a trip to Salt Lake City and who, it was feared, had become lost on the desert, arrived in Salt Lake City Thursday, according to information received by the Sheriff's department. Relatives of the youths had instituted a search when no word had been received from the boys for several days.

Lieut. Kenneth Montee, Los Angeles aviator, and Gladys Hoy, 22-year-old professional parachute jumper, left Los Angeles Thursday to aid in the search. They were notified when they reached Victorville that the boys had been found. Miss Hoy was equipped with a first-aid outfit and provisions sufficient to last for a few days until aid could be summoned by Lieut. Montee. In case the boys had been located on the desert she had planned to descend by parachute, allowing the aviator to return to the nearest town to organize an expedition.

The name of only one of the youths was given to the Sheriff's office. He is Neal Janney. The ages of the boys are said to be 12, 14 and 16 years.

LLOYD GEORGE COMING

War-Time Premier Expects to Visit Los Angeles

Lloyd George will come to Los Angeles next month, according to information which has been received from the Washington office of the Chamber of Commerce. While definite plans for his visit have not been announced in this country, it has been definitely settled that he will come to Los Angeles. The trip will be of a recreational nature.

Plans are being considered by the Chamber of Commerce for the entertainment of Mr. Lloyd George. It is planned that the local organization will co-operate with the local English colony and the British Consul in preparation of reception plans.

DR. WILSON TELLS WORK OF NEGROES

Baptist Mission Board is Now Operating Both at Home and Abroad

Rev. E. A. Wilson, who was secretary of the American delegation to the Baptist World Alliance at Stockholm, Sweden, in his report to the national negro Baptist convention here yesterday, stated that the negro Baptists of America are now operating a foreign mission board with headquarters at Philadelphia, Pa., and have thirty-three missionaries in foreign fields.

"The colored Baptist churches also support a large home mission board, fully organized and covering every State in the Union," said Dr. Wilson. "We have an evangelistic board with 105 local and national evangelists, a benefit board working for the welfare of aged and infirm ministers, and a publishing board at Nashville, Tenn., doing an annual business of $250,000. The plant is valued at $500,000."

State Fund Is Declared Clear of All Politics

"The State Compensation Insurance Fund is one State department which is absolutely free of politics. And it will remain so as long as I am manager of it." In his first public statement since his recent appointment as manager of the fund referred to, C. B. Day made that declaration yesterday.

"There have been some statements to the effect that this fund is a political organization," Mr. Day went on. "That is without foundation. The Governor has assured me of full support and no one attempts to influence appointments. All are made because of experience and ability. That is the sole factor governing and all employees are required to meet these qualifications."

COUNCILMEN TO TAKE TRIP

Councilmen Workman and Wheeler will leave tomorrow morning for San Diego to represent Los Angeles at the annual convention of the California League of Municipalities from the 10th to the 14th inst. Mr. Workman will speak on the municipal operation of Los Angeles Harbor, and Mr. Wheeler is a candidate for the presidency of the league.

Says He's Good as Author But Poor Husband

Jules Furthman is considered a first-rate scenario and short-story writer, but as a husband he is inadequate, Mrs. Sybil Furthman asserts in a divorce complaint filed yesterday.

Mrs. Furthman said her husband earns about $1500 a week, but that he spends it almost entirely on himself. She declared that while her husband entertained lavishly, she was compelled to depend on relatives for support of herself and her baby. She asks custody of the child.

WOBBLY RULE AT HARBOR HIT

Quiz Body Urges Ouster of I.W. Radicals

Strikes Traced to Activity of Malcontents

Workers Terrorized Into Quitting Jobs

Not real grievances but a lack of understanding between employer and employee have been the cause of the recent labor troubles at Los Angeles Harbor, according to a report made public by the citizens' committee appointed to investigate the industrial situation at the water front.

The report covers more than ten typewritten pages and appended to it is an explanatory letter from Capt. W. J. Peterson, general manager of the employment service bureau of the Shipowners' Association of the Pacific Coast. It represents the first definite effort to determine the causes which have led to the labor disturbances at the harbor and to conciliate the conflicting views of the shipowners and their employees.

"A lack of sympathy or understanding of the workers' viewpoint by the employer and a feeling of distrust on the part of the employee for the employer," is given as the principal cause for the disturbed conditions.

The question of hours or rate of pay has not been an issue, as various radical agitators have stated, the report says. The entire argument has been about "Fink" Hall and the system of registration and assignment to work.

CONDEMN REDS

Agitators, radicals and the I.W.W. are vigorously condemned in the report, which places responsibility for many of the industrial disturbances at their door. It is indicated in the report that without these agitators on the ground to mislead and terrorize the workmen many of the strikes could have been amicably adjusted or averted.

In many instances, it is pointed out, workmen have been deliberately misled by I.W.W. organizers into believing that their respective unions had issued a strike call. In other cases, it is stated, these workers have been bullied or frightened into leaving their posts.

The positions of both the shipowners and the workers are gone into in detail. Both the employers and the workers, it is stated, feel that the I.W.W. is a menace and should be driven from the harbor for the general good of all. This, if accomplished, the report indicates, will do much toward relieving the friction which has been existing.

In conclusion, the committee makes a number of recommendations for placing the relations between the workers and their employers on a more friendly basis.

"Fink" Hall, which is responsible for a great share of past differences, according to the report, has been attacked by the workers without sufficient cause, although "there is some merit to the contentions."

The report suggests that a change in the personnel of the employment agency maintained by the shipowners would work out for the general good and result in much better feeling on the part of the workers.

"All of the complaints of the workers had their basis in the fact that the persons in charge of the employment bureau were lacking in that spirit of sympathetic understanding which should characterize and be a part of the relationship between employer and employee.

"An intimate knowledge and a sympathetic appreciation of the trials of the worker should be a part of the general knowledge of the person who assumes to represent capital.

CHANGE PERSONNEL

"It would seem that the personnel of the bureau was sadly lacking in the spirit of understanding and that from this lack of understanding there resulted a feeling of hostility on the part of the workers which continued over a long period of time, resulting in a conviction in the minds of the workers that their conditions of work merited a strike," the committee says.

Recommendation is also made that in future troubles the public be represented as its interests are affected. The report praises the shipowners for their action, already taken, in the organization of a new method of registration. This change, the committee hopes, will meet with many of the suggestions contained in the report.

The committee was organized on May 31, last, and since that time has conducted numerous hearings and extensive investigations. Rev. Thomas Grice is chairman of the committee. The other members are R. H. Beaton, Len T. Johnson, G. A. Lawrence, Clyde W. Smith, A. E. P. Irwin, Dan Drake, James Dodson, Jr., V. Lucas, C. F. Wathe, Thomas R. Evans and Murray Brannan.

LOOT IS RECOVERED

Burglar Suspect Is Held in Venice Jail

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Sept. 7.—Loot valued at thousands of dollars, believed by police to belong to citizens throughout the Crescent Bay district, has been recovered by Detectives Watson and Burnett, following the arrest of Jack Rhodes by Patrolman Lavenberg. Much of the property has been identified and it is expected several thousand dollars' worth of jewelry found in the man's room will be claimed.

Police believe that Rhodes, who is being held in the local jail, will make a confession, and that several of the recent robberies committed in the district will be brought to light. The asserted burglar was arrested when, it is said, he was planning to rob a drug store at the corner of Washington and Westminster avenues.

TO SPEAK ON PARKS

"City Parks" will be the subject of the second lecture in connection with the current exhibition of landarchitecture, to be given at the Southwest Museum tomorrow at 3 p.m. by Emanuel Tillman Mische, former Superintendent of Parks at Portland, Or., and treasurer of the Pacific Coast Chapter of the American Society of Landscape Architects.

STOPPING OF SHOW IS HIT BY PARENTS

Exploitation of Children in "Santa Barbara Kiddies" is Denied

That the stopping of Edward Cullens in his showing of "The Santa Barbara Kiddies" was the result of "unwarranted interference," and that there were misrepresentations made to Deputy Labor Commissioner Steineck, is the assertion of parents and guardians of sixteen children who comprise the cast for the play.

Cullens was granted a temporary permit by Deputy Commissioner Steineck on Cullens's representation that the children were to be exhibited for charitable performances and with his agreement to send advance information to the Labor Bureau of points at which he was to show. This permit was granted in July.

A short time later, Mr. Steineck received complaints from the Santa Barbara Humane Society and other children's protective organizations, as well as from private sources. These complaints were to the effect that the children were being exploited professionally.

The deputy commissioner revoked Cullens's permit. Later Cullens was stopped and the children returned to their homes. The statement signed by parents and guardians of children in the cast denies the children were exploited professionally. However, Cullens still will have to explain his failure to notify the Labor Bureau of his movements.

Husband Asserts Wife Changed In Fifteen Years

It took Florence Burch fifteen years to develop into a nagging woman, but in that time her success was phenomenal, J. T. Burch asserted in his complaint for divorce filed yesterday in Superior Court.

Twenty years ago they were married and for fifteen years their home was crowned by domestic felicity. Then his wife changed and began to make his life unbearable, the husband says. Even their young daughter lent her support to the reign of terror inaugurated by Mrs. Burch, the husband asserted.

MRS. HINCKLEY NERVOUS WRECK

Tells How She Was Restored to Perfect Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Memphis, Tenn.—"Two years ago I was completely run-down and my nerves were a wreck. I could not sweep a room without resting. I could not do my work except a little at a time, and the doctor's medicine did not help me. One day some one threw your little book on to my porch, and in it I read several testimonials of women who had been like myself. I went right out and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken the whole of that bottle I knew it was helping me. I took six bottles, and then in about three months I took two more. Now I am in perfect health. I do all of my own work and could do more. I can truly say that I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave me my health."—Mrs. O. J. HINCKLEY, 816 Union Ave., Memphis, Tenn.

TUNNEL IS TO BE SPEEDED

Contractor Hill Agrees to Throw Some Pep Into Finishing Job

President Treat and Commissioner McGuire of the Board of Public Works yesterday wrested from Contractor James A. Hill, builders of the Second-street tunnel, a signed agreement that the contractor will operate two steam shovels and fifteen trucks constantly on the tunnel job so as to rush the work to early completion.

The contractor also agreed in writing, according to President Treat, that the tunnel, through which daylight is now streaming from Figueroa street to Hill street, will be clear of all dirt and the floor of the tube paved by October 25. The contractor also agreed to rush work at top speed on the lowering and repaving of Hill street and Second street which are being lowered in accordance with the terms of the tunnel contract in order to make easy approaches to the east entrance to the tunnel.

Under the contract the tunnel must be completed and turned over to the city for use not later than January 1 next, which will be two years and nine months since the first shovelful of earth was turned.

His Suffering Was Almost Unbearable, Says Banning

"It certainly was a happy day for me when Tanlac put my stomach back in condition to where I could eat without suffering afterwards," says Thomas M. Banning, 827 Sixth Street, Los Angeles, Cal. "For almost a year I was in pain nearly all the time from indigestion. The gas would nearly smother me and the pains were almost unbearable. I thought my time would soon be up. I could only work every other day, and I don't see how I stood my suffering as long as I did.

"The makers of Tanlac will always have my deepest gratitude, for it only took a few bottles of this wonderful medicine to send my troubles on their way. I am now feeling as good, if not better, than at any time of my life. Tanlac has helped my wife, too, so we both have much to be thankful for."

AUTHOR WRIGHT VISITING HERE

Writer is Directing Work on Film Material

Former Pastor Tells Story of Best Sellers

He Thinks Arizona Worsted by Train Schedules

Arizona isn't all desert and gila monsters nor California all orange groves to Harold Bell Wright, the author, now on a visit in Los Angeles and a guest at the Ambassador.

"I sometimes tell my California friends that the greatest asset of their State is the time table," he remarked jocularly. "The tourist is carried through the most desolate part of Arizona in the daytime, and when he wakes up in the morning and finds himself amidst the verdure of the coast region of California, he quite naturally gets the impression that Arizona is all desert while California is a smiling land of unlimited vegetation. But this is not correct. Few people know that Arizona has the greatest pine timber now standing on the American continent. We also have the finest trout streams, and we can present orange groves and cultivated fields and a diversity of scenery unrivaled anywhere."

COMPARES NOVELS

Mr. Wright, who is accompanied by Mrs. Wright, now makes his home at Tucson. He is in Los Angeles to direct the preparation of some of his novels for the films. He has recently completed his tenth novel, "The Mine With the Iron Door," an adventure story whose scenes are laid in Arizona. His nine previous novels, which have been written during the last twenty years, have sold to a number averaging more than one million each.

In discussing his work as a writer, Mr. Wright suggested that his aim had always been not so much to depict life as to present the workings of life forces.

"You must have a story to tell and your characters must be as interesting as possible, but that is not enough," he said. "An element must be present in addition to these which will satisfy the reader that he has learned something about life and human nature when he has completed the book.

MUST TEACH LIFE

"To my mind it is this element, which is incapable of definition, that makes the difference between a book widely read and one that never gets beyond a few hundred copies. It is this appeal that makes the difference between the play that has a long run and the one that fails. Not infrequently a book or play with a plot as old as the hills and characters that are quite commonplace makes a great success. In my opinion, it is because the author has been able to add this mysterious element to his production that satisfies some demand of the human mind."

The author is now planning another Arizona novel and after that he will enter a field he has not attempted before—the writing of a series of folklore stories based on material obtained from the legends of the Papago Indians in Arizona.

"These Indians, who live near Tucson, possess a wealth of tribal legends, including tales of great beauty and interest," he said. "I purpose to follow the originals as closely as possible and I believe the result will furnish a compilation of Indian lore that will make an interesting addition to the existing store of historical information pertaining to the American aborigines."

Mr. Wright related briefly the circumstances that led to his taking up writing as a vocation.

"The production of my first novel, 'That Printer of Udell's,' was purely accidental," he said. "I was the pastor of a small town in Kansas, near the Missouri line, at the time. I had observed that conditions there were such as to leave a young man coming to the place no choice in the matter of diversion, but to resort to questionable companionship and degrading influences.

"I had mentioned this matter to my congregation a number of times, but without any particular result. I concluded to present my ideas on the subject in the form of a story, with no notion of publishing it, but to read to my church members. When it was completed the production attracted much attention locally and it was suggested that I submit it to a publisher. I did so and it was accepted on condition that the story be published first as a serial in a church periodical.

"The editor of this journal made some objection to my treatment of certain parts of the story. 'Why, do you know, Mr. Wright, you've got your drunken men actually staggerin', yuoth he. 'I think we should tone it down some.' I replied that men full of booze always staggered, but it appeared that the tale was too realistic to suit the delicate tastes of the readers of that paper. So the editor changed it to suit himself, and I went home disgusted and threw the manuscript into a drawer never expecting to look at it again.

PUBLISHER FOUND

"Some time afterward one of my prominent church members came to me and suggested that we find another publisher. He said he liked my story and that if he were a writer that's the way he would write. I objected that I was not at that time able to spend any more time and money on the project and he very kindly offered to finance the publication of the book himself. He did so, the book was brought out and it proved a success.

"At this time I was in ill health and went to the Ozarks for a long vacation. While there I started my second novel, 'The Shepherd of the Hills,' which also was successful. And I have been writing ever since and shall probably continue to do so for some time."

VICTIM OF TRAFFIC ACCIDENT IS DEAD

The victim was struck down at Twenty-ninth street and Santa Fe avenue by a Gilmore Oil Company truck. An inquest into the death will be conducted today by Coroner Nance at the L. F. Go in this coming week and ask for one of these booklets. There is no time like the present to act on good impulses do you think?

It is wise to keep all the brown paper that comes around your packages, as so many uses can be found for it. Some housewives use it as shelf paper under pots and pans in the dresser, as it is more durable and does not soil so readily as regular shelf paper.

A comparison between the so-called certified ice, or common ice, and "Frozen Steam" will arouse the interest of any woman desirous of improving conditions in her home. "Frozen Steam," because of being made from artesian well water, which is made into steam by being raised 400 degrees above zero without contact with the air (which accounts for all impurities being eliminated) melts more slowly, keeps the box much colder than other refrigerants and, when melted, contains not a trace of sediment. Being an exclusive product of the Merchants' Ice and Cold Storage Co., phone them at 871-351 and ask for a driver to call.

Do you know that many, many people stop at the Wilshire Kommunity Kitchen each night and take home ready-to-serve home-cooked food? It's so perfectly delicious in the first place; then each day they have a different menu to select from. Why don't you do the same thing? 232 South Western avenue is their address, 560313 their phone number.

There is here a tiny bashful, big-eyed Nancy who is the very picture of health, which comes of drinking milk. Her mother told me that when she was a wee bit of a mite they very nearly lost her until a neighbor urged that L. A. Milk be tried. Within a week there was a decided improvement noted until today this small bundle of sweetness, together with the entire family are the greatest drinkers of L. A. Milk you will find in a day's travel. You will find the L. A. Creamery gives excellent service and customers find them satisfactory in every respect.

Serve the tomato and pepper in cocktail glasses with two tablespoons of sauce in each glass.

Why not serve iced coffee when the thermometer registers summer heat and the whole family come in for their meals, desiring something cool? Iced coffee made with Clee Koe is a suggestion well-worth following. As this brand is very popular and costs but 35 cents a pound, you might phone your order to the Clee Koe Coffee Co., 1442 Santa Barbara avenue, Vermont 4351, as all such calls receive prompt attention.

Popovers: Two cups of flour, two cups of milk, one-half teaspoon salt and two eggs. Sift together flour and salt. It wasn't so very long ago that a friend of mine told me about a beautiful luncheon which she had attended.

"To my amazement," she exclaimed, "I saw hot plates put on the lovely mahogany table with its marless surface and so great was my concern over the disaster which I felt certain was bound to occur, that I let out an involuntary little cry of warning to the maid but my hostess in the calmest manner imaginable said 'My dear, don't you worry for my table has Water-Spar Varnish on it and in consequence is the joy of my life.' Why I have now gone so far as to have all my porch furniture refinished with Water-Spar in the most adorable shade of green you ever saw! Wonderful idea don't you think? Water-Spar may be bought in innumerable attractive colors as well as the transparent. Stop in or phone the Patton Pitcairn Division, 928 South Main (876-969) and they will be happy to tell you the name of your neighborhood dealer who sells it.

You can tell people in the most lavish of terms how extremely delectable the food is which is served at Herbert's Ladies' Grill, but until you taste it you cannot appreciate how superior it is to any you have eaten elsewhere! Mr. Herbert came to us recently from San Francisco, but his fame preceded him by several years. Can't you remember wishing ages ago that you might go into their grill up in the north and enjoy the good things only the men were permitted to get? And now your wish is granted for Herbert's have given us a beautiful cafe which we should patronize more often in the future. Their address is Hill, between Seventh and Eighth. Don't forget.

Sounds preposterous to suggest buying blankets now, when the weather is so warm, doesn't it? But preparedness is the "beginning of wisdom" you know, and it won't be long 'fore we'll be needing them. Simank Bros. suggest that you take advantage of their wonderful values in "Wedgewood" Blankets. These are guaranteed all wool and warranted not to shrink and the price? You'd never guess how reasonable. Only $10.50 and $12.00. 725-27 West Ninth is Simank Bros'. address.

Add a teaspoonful of salt to the basin of starch and stir thoroughly; it will add a splendid gloss to the linen.

"My Landy!" says dear old Mother Nature, "why don't these grown-ups drink milk as well as little ones? Here it is one of my finest foods in which I've stored the most vital elements for their strength of body and brain and yet they don't seem to realize it and profit by it." Can you blame Mother Nature for being so provoked? On every hand science is teaching the value of milk and its products—not only for children, but for their elders. Of course, there's one thing that we always have to make sure of and that is that the milk is absolutely pure and sanitary and produced under the best conditions. All these will be guaranteed you if you order from the Los Angeles Creamery. They will deliver at your door or you can get it at the stores.

Wrap cheese in a cloth moistened with cold vinegar. This will prevent it from becoming dry or mouldy.

Away they go!—those dreadful, bothersome ants, which made life miserable for us, for the "Calpro System" in vitrafied jars placed at intervals throughout the grounds take them away in a jiffy! The system in truly a splendid one and not expensive to install, extremely reasonable, in fact. Phone the Calpro Exterminator Co., 1842 W. Washington st., Beacon 1360, for prices, etc.

Try varnishing your candles with a plain shellac or painting them with delicate water colors, which will not only make a pretty addition to the dinner table but prevent candles from dripping on the table cover.

Here is information which is not only interesting but instructive, as it imparts knowledge certain to bear fruit in the form of a reduction of the living expenses of every woman who keeps house in Los Angeles. Doubtless you have heard of the California Chain Stores for even though of recent origin much publicity has been given this organization because they are selling staple groceries at a very much more reduced price than the individual grocery store can give. Remember, won't you? that the California Chain Stores now operate a grocery store in the Biltmore Public Market which is located at 316 West Fifth street, between Broadway and Hill on the south side of the street. The locations of the California Chain Stores is a big vantage point in their favor which is going to endear them to shoppers for food. Then the Grand-Avenue Market at Seventh and Grand just across the street from the J. W. Robinson Company Department Store has a grocery department conducted by the California Chain Stores Company, and this location will be an unusually great convenience to you all, because you may park your car on Grand avenue while making your purchases. Still another location is at 4200 Moneta avenue where an extremely up-to-date complete market is situated —the meat department under the capable management of the Co-operative Meat Company. For those readers who live in Maywood, the California Chain Stores have chosen Baker and Wilcox avenue for another complete market, still another at Santa Barbara and St. Andrews. But wait until you hear this further item of interest! Just think, the company has a coupon book which gives the holder a big reduction from the regular price. Do make inquiries about these books won't you? The best thing to do is to secure a card from any of their stores, fill it out and sent it to the company's head office, and they in return will send you full information which will more greatly increase your desire to patronize them. Their success will be yours, remember, so do let your patronage be unlimited.

SWEET PICKLES

Wash 200 small green cucumbers in cold water, dry with a soft cloth, discard all cucumbers that are soft on the end and cover with a brine made by dissolving one cup of salt in two quarts of water. Let stand overnight. Drain cover with cold water and let stand two hours. Drain and place in a kettle lined with grape leaves, pour over boiling water and let stand until cold, about three hours. Drain and cover with a solution made with one quart of water and and one quart of vinegar and let stand overnight. Drain off the vinegar solution, place in a kettle, add a piece of cheesecloth made in a bag, containing one stick of cinnamon, two blades of mace, half an ounce of dried ginger root, half an ounce of cloves and one bay leaf and add one and a half pounds brown sugar.

Bring to a boil and simmer twenty minutes. Place the cucumbers in an earthenware jar, pour over the hot pickle, and let stand overnight. FRUIT BARS

F. O., Santa Ana, wants a recipe for fruit bars with nuts and raisins.

Beat to a cream three-quarters of a cup of shortening and beat into it one and three-quarters cups of sugar, half a cup of molasses, and three slightly beaten eggs. Sift six cups of sifted flour with one and a half teaspoons of cinnamon, one and a half teaspoons of grated nutmeg and six level teaspoons of baking powder; add the flour mixture to the first mixture with three-quarters of a cup of water and work to a smooth dough. Add one and a half cups of seedless raisins, one cup of seeded raisins, and one cup of chopped nut meats. CHICKEN A LA KING

M. M. R., Anaheim, asks for directions for preparing and serving chicken a la king.

Melt three tablespoons of butter in a saucepan, add half a green pepper, seeds removed, and chopped, and one can of button mushrooms. Stir until the pepper is soft; add two tablespoons of flour and cook until the sauce is smooth. Add two cups of cream and simmer over a slow fire until the flour is cooked and the sauce is thick. Pour the mixture into a double boiler and stir in three cups of cooked breast of chicken in dice or even-sized match-shaped pieces. Beat to a cream four tablespoons of butter and beat into it, one at a time, the yolks of three eggs; stir this carefully into the hot chicken mixture, and stir, until thick and smooth. Do not boil. Season with paprika, salt, a few drops of lemon juice and a little onion juice. Serve on toast, in patty shells or ramakins; garnish with toast points, strips of pimiento and chopped parsley.

SALT-RISING BREAD

H. M. T., Long Beach, requests recipes for salt-rising bread and doughnuts.

There are a number of bakers in Long Beach and Los Angeles who make very good salt-rising bread and it can be bought from them for much less than a housewife can make it; in making salt-rising bread the batter must be kept warm, not hot, at all times until it reaches the oven; the corn meal used should be stone-ground and not sterilized.

For the salt-rising bread pour two cups of boiling sweet milk over one-third of a cup of stone-ground corn meal; beat smooth and set in a warm place overnight. In the morning add to the mixture one cup of warm milk, one cup of warm water, two level teaspoons of sugar and two cups of sifted dry flour; beat smooth, cover and set in a warm place for two hours or until it is light and spongy. Add one teaspoon of salt, one tablespoon of lard and enough sifted dry flour to make a soft dough. Knead fifteen minutes, form into loaves, place in greased bread pans, let rise in a warm place one hour or until light. Bake in a medium-hot oven one hour. Wrap in a clean cloth and cool on a wire rack.

For Salad Dressings

The finest oil is light in color and very delicate in flavor just as the purest, sweetest sugar is white. And for exactly the same reason. Both are refined—one from dark oil, the other from dark brown raw sugar.

"The Doctor," as we call David Wesson (he is an eminent chemist, not a physician, and his official title in our Company now is Technical Director), is an authority on the refining of vegetable oil, and invented or discovered, or whatever is the thing one does with a method, the method of refining oil that was named after him.

Wesson Oil is refined to a degree of purity and goodness that we do not believe is equalled by any other oil you could buy—100% pure, rich, nourishing food.

America's great passion play, "The Wayfarer," opens this evening in the new Los Angeles Coliseum at Exposition Park. Starting promptly at 8 p.m. with a clash of arms on a Flanders field, the theme of Dr. J. E. Crowther's play will roll back the scroll of years to ancient Babylon, and then, age by age, in a period of three hours will bring before the huge audience all the understanding that man has gleaned since the birth of Christ.

This play, considered the most noteworthy dramatic spectacle in the history of the American stage, is to be presented by a cast and chorus of 8000 persons.

4000 IN CHORUS

There are 4000 voices in the huge chorus, and the "Messiah" music, as sung by these massed thousands, is said to be the feature of the performance. A dramatic cast of 4000 performs the action of the play, and at the conclusion the entire assemblage marches to the tune of a 100-piece band, singing "Onward Christian Soldiers," up to a brilliantly illuminated cross.

This action takes place on the world's largest stage, one that is 200 feet wide, 150 feet deep and having a proscenium arch reaching ninety feet high. Seven carloads of scenery, twelve ship's searchlights and 10,000 pieces of costume are among the "props" that are necessary for the production of this play.

EXPECT CAPACITY HOUSE

The tremendous ticket sale has indicated that a capacity house of 43,000 persons will witness tonight's performance. The guests of the evening include 500 disabled veterans of the World War from Sawtelle, 1000 ministers of Southern California churches and press delegates.

Tonight is Glendale night, with Mrs. Charles Temple of that city playing the part of Columbia. Glendale citizens have reserved a large block of seats.

The prolocutor for this evening's performance will be William Jennings Bryan, who will introduce each of the seven acts.

There will be no performance of "The Wayfarer" tomorrow night, but play will be resumed Monday evening and will continue through Saturday. Patrons are advised to come early to each performance, as the play starts at 8 and positively no one will be seated during the action of the play. Those who arrive after 8 will be forced to wait until after the first act, thus missing the battle scene with all its intense action and spectacular fireworks.

THEME OF PLAY

The theme of "The Wayfarer" is a spiritual one. The prologue opens with a battle scene in a Flanders village. Guns roar and shells burst. The American Army makes a triumphant entry and rescues a huddled mass of Belgian refugees. The Wayfarer, played by A. B. Kachel of the Hollywood High School faculty, stands alone on an eminence, his soul torn by despair over the futility of life as he sees men slay one another. He questions the existence of a Divine Power.

He prays for enlightenment, and it comes to him in the form of Understanding, played by Miss Katherine Bodkin. She then leads him back through all the milestones of history to prove to him the existence of God and the ultimate victory for those who believe.

OPENING EPISODE

The first episode is the Babylonian captivity, where the Wayfarer is shown how the faithful Hebrews found their salvation. The Angel in this act is played by Miss Lola LaPere. Then comes the birth of Christ and his triumphant entry into the city of Jerusalem. The Wayfarer, inspired, mounts the steps and interprets the message of Jesus. The voices below are heard in "Hail, Massiah! Hail, Messiah!"

The Wayfarer's belief is stricken with the crucifixion of Christ, but with the resurrection he learns of the living Christ, where before he has known only the historical Savior. Then comes the epilogue called "The Golden Age." The bands play "The Star Spangled Banner" during the tableau which represents all the notable incidents in the growth of American nationality.

The epilogue ends with "The March of Nations," in which the entire cast of 8000 people, carrying the flags of every known nation, march to the illuminated cross in a common brotherhood.

UNDERTAKER FACES BRIBE ACCUSATION

Woman Asserts She Gave Edwards $900 to Help Mate Escape Charges

Hearing of Jack M. Edwards, an undertaker, on a charge of accepting a bribe from Mrs. Frances Benoit was begun yesterday before Justice White and will continue Tuesday when Mrs. Benoit will be cross-examined. Edwards's arrest came about as a result of an investigation by the Crime Commission, the attention of which was called to the case by William J. Bryan, Jr., Mrs. Benoit's attorney.

In her testimony yesterday Mrs. Benoit said her husband, Leo Benoit, and brother-in-law, George Benoit, were charged with petty larceny in stealing building tile. She asked Edwards as a friend of the family to see what he could do and the undertaker told her if she could raise some money he might be able to prevent graver charges from being filed against the two men.

Accordingly, she asserted, she gave him $500 July 2, $250 July 5 and $150 July 27. Then she came to the conclusion he was exaggerating her husband's danger and told the whole story to her attorney, she said. Leo Benoit is serving a term in the County Jail after trial of the charges against him.

PAST LEADER TALKS TO LEGION AUXILIARY

Mrs. Edith Hobart, Past National President of the American Legion Auxiliary and chairman of the National Hospitalization Committee, talked of the committee's work yesterday at the meeting of the County Council of Auxiliaries at Victory Post Hall. Mrs. Martha Decker, State President, and Mrs. E. S. Dobbin, department representative, also spoke.

GUARANTEE STABILITY IN FREIGHTS

All Intercoastal Liners Now Have Memberships in Shipping Conference

Assuring shippers and purchasing agents in Los Angeles of a stability in intercoastal freight rates, the United American Line, the latest steamship service to enter Los Angeles, has joined the intercoastal conference, according to an announcement made last night by P. F. Finnegan, freight traffic manager for the Los Angeles Steamship Company, Southern California agents, for the new line.

All large intercoastal lines operating in and out of Los Angeles Harbor, according to Finnegan, are members of the conference. The addition of the new United American Line, which will operate from twelve to fourteen vessels between the east coast and Pacific Coast ports, makes the conference complete and eliminates any possible discrepancy in freight rates, giving the shipper the assurance of stability that was needed.

Moore, Jr., in Federal Court receivership matters, has been appointed private secretary to United States District Judge Bledsoe, succeeding George B. The Greater Excellence of Cudahy's Puritan

BACK to the wholesome, pure foods of Grandmother's day. Back to crisp, flaky pie crusts. Back to fluffy cakes and nutritious digestible fried foods. Back to better cooking through the use of creamy-rich, snowy-white lard that is

100 per cent pure leaf

Puritan is not only 100% pure leaf lard, it is selected leaf and rendered in open kettles with scientific precision. It is then slowly chilled in the package to give it the essential grainy texture which means more thorough mixing with flour and other ingredients used in pastry and cakes. Remember that Puritan is always uniform, always pure. You can't buy a better shortening.

MINTER BOYS ON TRIAL FOR LIVES

Two Brothers-in-Law Also Face Death Penalty

Five Charged With Slaying Millard Trouton

Father of Victim's Wife is Already Convicted

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEWNAN (Ga.), Sept. 7.—With their father convicted of first-degree murder, Grady and Jeff Minter and their brothers-in-law, Floyd Weldon and Leon Goodrum, will go on trial here today for their lives in connection with the death of Millard Trouton, another brother-in-law. J. W. Minter, head of the family, probably will be sentenced to pay the death penalty today. He was convicted by a jury after a short trial yesterday.

Trouton, weighted down with rocks fastened about his body by a plow line, was thrown alive into a shallow creek near here a month ago. According to Sheriff S. P. Carpenter, J. W. Minter made a confession to him admitting he and his sons adjusted the weights, threw Trouton into the water and followed the body as it moved slowly downstream to "make sure it did not come to the surface."

SENTENCED BY FAMILY.

Trouton was sentenced to death by the Minter family, according to evidence brought out at the trial yesterday. The Minters charged him with having whipped his wife, Mrs. Mary Trouton, so severely that it caused her much suffering.

Mrs. Trouton left her husband and returned to her home with her father. Later Trouton wrote her a letter in an effort to bring about a reconciliation. The letter was produced at the trial yesterday. In it Trouton professed his love for his wife and cautioned Minter not to interfere with the plans for reconciliation.

Minter, it was said, then called his two sons and two sons-in-law into council and the plans were laid for Trouton's abduction. William Felton was obtained to lure Trouton from his home, after which the Minter clan kidnaped him and carried him to the woods, where he was given a speedy trial and put to death, according to Minter's confession to the Sheriff.

TRIAL IS SHORT

It was said Minter's trial was one of the shortest in the history of Georgia courts.

Grady Minter told a jury in Superior Court here today that he was a member of the party which kidnaped his brother-in-law, Millard Trouton, bound him, drove to a bridge spanning a creek over the county line, and threw the man into the creek after weighting the body down with rocks. The body of Trouton was found in the creek.

WAGGONER TO SPEAK

Rob Waggoner, writer and artist, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Hollywood Art Association scheduled for Monday night at the Hollywood branch library. The meeting will be for the purpose of discussing the proposed establishment of a twenty-foot set-back line on Sunset Boulevard between Wilcox and La Brea avenue for parking along the walk, to be planted in trees and shrubbery.

LOS ANGELES GIRL REPORTED MISSING

Elsie Rosenthal

Hatless, with her pretty bobbed hair freshly dressed at a beauty parlor and with her $35 pay check tucked in her hand-bag, 16-year-old Elsie Rosenthal started for a store near her home, 3347 Rowena avenue, Wednesday and has not been seen since.

Spurred on by a chance remark concerning an airplane flight to San Diego police and deputy sheriffs of both Los Angeles and the southern city hunted for clews leading to a possible elopement of the girl in an airplane. Morris U. Rosenthal, a deputy City Auditor and father of the girl, scouted the suggestion that his daughter may have eloped. He declared that she either has been lured away or has taken a notion to stay with some girl chum until school begins.

Miss Rosenthal, who was preparing to return to her studies at the University of California, Southern Branch, had just left her position with an express company near her home. The office manager there was employed by the father that he heard a young woman who visited Elsie at the office tell the girl that she had an aviator friend who could take them for a ride to Tijuana at any time.

Wednesday she left her home, informing her mother that she was going to a near-by store. She never returned. The night before she had her hair dressed at a neighboring beauty parlor, an incident which her father counted as unusual. Mr. Rosenthal informed the authorities that there was only one young man Elsie cared for and he, too, is looking for her.

NABBED AS ASSAILANT

Said to have assaulted I. Viezcas, inspector for the City Building Department, with a novel early yesterday morning, a man, giving his name as C. Bran and his occupation as laborer, was placed under arrest by W. A. Richardson, a citizen, shortly after the attack took place at Beechwood and Scenic Drive, Hollywood. Sergt. Gruey of the Hollywood police, who investigated, was told by eye-witnesses that Bran clipped up behind Viezcas while the latter was carrying off a piece of hose.

WILEY COMING WITH SHIPS

Vice-Admiral Will Be Ranking Officer of Fighting Force Due on Inst.

Vice-Admiral Henry A. Wiley, new commander of battleship divisions of the battle fleet, will be the ranking officer of the fighting force that rounds Breakwater Light shortly before noon on the 13th inst. Admiral Wiley also will be making his first visit here in his present grade when he brings the dreadnaughts home from the summer cruise.

Admiral Robert E. Coontz, commander-in-chief of the entire United States Fleet, will be in San Diego on the date of the fleet's home-coming, while Admiral Samuel S. Robison, commander-in-chief of the battle fleet, will be at the navy yard, Puget Sound, on that date aboard the fleet flagship California.

FLAGSHIP TO RETURN

The U.S.S. Seattle, fleet flagship, will return here from San Diego on the 13th inst., with Admiral Coontz and his staff aboard, while the California, now nearing completion of annual overhaul, will return on the 20th inst., carrying Admiral Robison and his staff.

For the first time in more than two years the fleet comes home next week with an almost entirely new staff of officers above the rank of commander. The only new force unit, however, will be the sixteen-inch gun superdreadnaught Maryland, sister ship of the U.S.S. Colorado, just commissioned on the East Coast. Several new scout cruisers, commissioned this summer, will not join the fleet here until they have completed long "shakedown cruises," which include the circumnavigation of Africa, South America, tours of the South Seas and the Mediterranean.

DREADNAUGHTS COMING

The superdreadnaughts Idaho and Nevada are already on station at Los Angeles Harbor. Six other dreadnaughts, the New Mexico, Pennsylvania, Texas, Oklahoma, Maryland and Arizona, will arrive on the 13th inst., accompanied by auxiliaries of the battle fleet. The New York will join the fleet here on October 5, the Mississippi will join her division at San Francisco, October 18, and the Tennessee will return here with the fleet, October 31.

Miegemeier to Quit as Head of Naval District

Rear-Admiral H. J. Miegemeier, who placed the U.S.S. California in commission at Los Angeles Harbor almost two years ago, is to be relieved as commandant of the Fifth Naval District, Norfolk, by Rear-Admiral Roger Welles, according to changing orders received at the harbor. Admiral Welles formerly commanded the Eleventh District at San Diego.

Capt. R. L. Berry has been relieved from the command of the Proteus, now in Los Angeles Harbor, and assigned to the Naval Recruiting Bureau in New York City. Commander W. B. Fryer succeeds him. Commander Fryer has just completed his mission to Peru, where he assisted in the reorganization of that nation's naval forces.

Also of interest here is the transfer of Commander R. R. Adams, who has been inspector of ordnance at the Midvale Steel Company, Philadelphia, to command Destroyer Division 31 of the battle fleet at San Diego. He relieves Commander W. S. Pye on the Farragut. Commander Pye has been ordered to report to the Bureau of Ordnance.

Commander L. S. Shapley has been relieved from the Neches and ordered to San Francisco for duty on the co-ordinating board.

Naval Supplies to be Handled by Private Firm

For the first time at Los Angeles Harbor, a private concern has obtained the contract for handling local Naval freight and supplies for the United States Fleet. More than 12,000 tons of freight already are in sight according to Capt. A. R. Paulsen, president of the Port of Los Angeles Stevedoring Company which landed the contract, and a supply depot will be established at the foot of Twenty-second street, with extra men and extra equipment.

The contract was secured through a low bid at San Diego, headquarters for the Eleventh Naval District, and runs until June 30, 1924. It calls for handling of all Naval freight at the depot and other docks, the transfer of freight from lighters to vessels in the stream and the loading of lighters from carriers.

The Submarine Base, which is to complete its moving to San Diego by the 15th inst., formerly handled such work.

Shark Killed in Battle With Wharf Workers

An eight-foot shark, believed to be of the man-eating species was killed at the Bethlehem shipyards, Los Angeles Harbor yesterday after a thirty-minute fight with two workmen, whom it had attacked while they were suspended on a board a few inches above the water.

Four times the shark was beaten off with wooden clubs only to return to the fray. During its fifth attack one of the workmen plunged a steel rod deep into the shark's skull, killing it instantly.

It is believed the shark is a straggler which has wandered away from its usual habitat in warmer waters, attracted perhaps by the unusually warm spell here the past few days. No warning has been issued to bathers at the beaches, so far as known.
